LET'S GET ACQUAINTED IN ORINDA

ORINDA SUN

Vol. XII, No. 34 — Lafayette — Orinda, California — Friday, November 5, 1954 — Ten Cents

Miss the Name? You'll Know Them By Their Badges!

"You know, the most pleasant young lady always waits on me at that store."

"I've paid my bill at that girl's desk for a long time and I can't begin to tell you her name, although she has always been so very courteous to me and the public generally."

"I SORTA FEEL embarrassed. That young fellow with the friendly smile who calls me by my name when I enter the store — for the life of me, I can't begin to remember his name."

No doubt you've heard many other such expressions from individuals who do not know the employees at local stores and service institutions.

This "name business" is most important. It's human nature for one to like being called by his or her name.

SO, DURING Get Acquainted Week, something has been done to improve on such situations. A personnel badge will be worn at places of business — by those who call at your home — by service concerns.

Each and every employee's name of those presented in this Get Acquainted Week edition will be shown on the Get Acquainted badge, and by the employers, as well.

BEAUTIFUL ROLLING HILLS and secluded residential developments are typical of Orinda as you can see from this aerial photograph of the Glorietta side of the community. Note the interchange construction in the lower left corner. Another landmark is Glorietta School which is directly above the Crossroads in the upper center of the photograph. This picture, and the one below, were taken within the last two weeks. That highway leading into the upper right hand corner is Moraga Highway and the road leading across the upper center of the picture is Glorietta Boulevard.

Look at all the 'Cartoons!' Here's How it Came About

If, by any chance, you should recognize the physiognomy of many of your friends and neighbors in this special "Get Acquainted" issue of The SUN, it is no accident and there is a story behind it.

As you can see, the paper is full of "cartoons" of well known Orindans—business people, church people, and even every-day people like you and me.

Well, how did it happen that all these people managed to get drawings of their faces in one issue of the paper at the same time?

FOR SEVERAL WEEKS photographers have been calling on well-known personalities in your community and taking their picture with a 35 mm. camera.

In spite of much delay, occasioned by such comments as, "just wait a minute, please, until I straighten up my makeup," and "How about coming back tomorrow, I didn't bring my suit coat today," the photographers prevailed.

These pictures were sent to the Postlethwaite Company, Kansas City, Mo., where the films were developed and an artist sketched the caricature with only the picture to work from.

In addition, the artist followed special instructions, such as "please put on a coat," or "put a tie on and comb the hair."

The drawings are merely an outline of the face. Complexion tone is entirely absent and no attempt was made to include that in the sketches.

AND YOU WILL FIND that nearly every story about an organization or a business in this issue is accompanied by one or more of the little drawings, all smiling and waving at you from the printed page.

This has been done as a means of helping you get acquainted. Now you can recognize that "friendly man behind the counter," or the person who was such a nice hostess at the club meeting you once visited.

At any rate, through the medium of cartoons, you can become better acquainted with your fellow Orindans.

Youth Builds Character In Scout Activities

The Boy and Girl Scouts, after all, have one objective and that is to train boys for citizenship and to help mould stronger characters.

This is the idea of the oath and law — and all the program works toward it. Much of it, happily, is designed for the out-of-doors where boys find great adventure as did the pioneers.

Special Proclamation Made By Orinda Chamber Board

Whereas, this community is recognized for its friendly atmosphere; and

Whereas, the people of this community are noted for their hospitality and the generous use of their homes and establishments for worthy causes; and

Whereas, there is a general movement in the community toward becoming better acquainted with others; and

WHEREAS, THIS movement toward becoming better acquainted is in the highest tradition of the efforts of man in the promotion of friendship and the things in life which Orinda represents as a community;

Now, therefore, We, the Directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, do hereby proclaim November 5 through 12 as "Get Acquainted Week" in the community of Orinda, and urge that our fellow residents will make every effort to extend the hand of friendship to their neighbors and business associates.

FURTHERMORE, YOU ARE enjoined to display a spirit of friendship to all whom you meet, and to extend a welcome in the spirit of good will and brotherhood to all who may be visiting among us.

In witness hereof, We, the Board of Directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, do affix our title.

TREE-STUDDED SLOPES are typical of the Village side of Orinda as this aerial photograph graphically demonstrates. At the bottom of the picture is the completed portion of the new freeway and the new Santa Maria Catholic Church can be seen just to the right of the center. A new school will soon occupy about 10 acres of that land behind Pine Grove at lower right. That large structure toward the upper right corner is the East Bay Municipal Utility District filter plant. All that beautiful land toward the upper left belongs to EBMUD too. Aerial Photographs by R. L. Copeland.

Orinda Begins Special Week

"Let's Get Acquainted!"

Those will be familiar words throughout Orinda today and until next Friday as the community enters into a special "Get Acquainted Week."

The Board of Directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce has issued a proclamation setting these days aside for the special purpose of getting acquainted.

Zach Montgomery, president of the Orinda Association, has prepared a special message.

This is the special "Get Acquainted" edition of The Orinda SUN.

BUT BY FAR the most important development in the preparation for "Get Acquainted Week" was the tremendous cooperation of organizations, churches, businessmen and residents.

Hundreds of letters have been sent to organizations requesting information about their histories, their plans, their problems and accomplishments. Many, many pictures have been taken in an effort to match organizations with faces so that you, the people of Orinda, may become better acquainted with your neighbors.

Orinda is recognized as a friendly community and the idea behind "Get Acquainted Week" captured the imagination of civic and business leaders alike.

EACH ORGANIZATION which serves the community, or some specialized part of the community, was asked to prepare information which would serve as the basis for a short history, to be accompanied by a caricature drawing of the president or chairman.

As you read through this issue of The SUN you will see drawings of your friends and neighbors in relation to their civic, social and business affairs in the community.

You will also see drawings of people whom you might not know, but whose faces you have seen at a meeting or in a local place of business. This is your opportunity to "get acquainted" with these people, and to renew your friendship with closer acquaintances.

When you do your shopping you will find that those who serve you will be wearing "get acquainted" tags with their name in full view.

THIS WILL BE your chance to learn the name of "that nice man behind the meat counter," or to renew your acquaintance with the man who last serviced your television set or appliance.

Civic and social organizations will make a special effort to greet newcomers and welcome strangers during these seven days and everybody will be wearing an extra-special get acquainted smile.

So look through this edition of The SUN for stories of your friends and their activities in your community, then step out your front door and "get acquainted."

Much Background Presented for Special Edition

As you read through this special "Get Acquainted" issue of The SUN you will find interesting facts about the many civic, religious and social organizations in Orinda and the area.

In order to compile the facts for the many articles, The SUN requested each and every organization to send us a sketch of its history, outlining purposes and objectives, officers and any interesting details which make the group somewhat out of the ordinary.

TO EXPEDITE THE procedure every source of information was investigated and letters and cards were sent to each organization for which an address could be found.

The response was tremendous and for several weeks before this issue was "put to bed" information poured into the office, to be compiled and written into story form.

However, when there are as many organizations operating in an area which is as lively as Orinda, it is inevitable that some will be missed. In other cases, the organizations meet quarterly or semi-anually and were unable to compile the necessary data.

IN OTHER CASES you will find stories without accompanying cartoons. Many times the president or head of the group was out of town or simply could not find the time to make a date with the photographer.

We have tried to make this "100 per cent." Some of the groups we were unable to contact include Canyon Ranch Association, Minerinda Association, Moraga Woodlands Association, Rheem Highlands Association, Hacienda Improvement Club, Santa Maria Catholic Woman's Club, Monte Vista Improvement Association, Mt. Diablo Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mt. Diablo Men's Garden Club and the Contra Costa Mental Health Society.

Getting to Know Teachers is Important

In this day and time, most of us are spending less time in our homes with our children, with the result that more of our children's foundation is left to the teacher.

Since he or she wields a mighty big influence on the lives of your youngsters, it's a pretty good idea to know them better and help them at home.

Orinda Association Makes Friends, Solves Problems

By ZACH MONTGOMERY
President, Orinda Association

"Getting acquainted" has meant much to Orinda in the past, but it will mean much more to Orinda in the future.

We can no longer regard our home as a sleepy community, much as some of us would like to. Outside pressure has become internal pressure in many cases, resulting in a need for understanding and cooperation.

Understanding and cooperation can come through friendship, and friendship begins with acquaintance.

Orinda has long been known as a friendly community, and the spirit has not changed since the time when it was just a group of summer homes nestled in the hills near the Orinda Country Club.

But the physical problem has changed. Just as growth has brought its problems with regard to highway, drainage and rezoning, so growth can bring the problem of "getting acquainted" into focus.

Orinda is still small enough to be a friendly community, but as it grows each person will see more and more faces that are strange to him.

They will appear in your church pews, at your neighborhood improvement association meetings, and in the line at the grocery store.

Orindans, in order to keep solving their problems in the orderly and efficient manner which they have used to date, are going to have to "get acquainted" . . . and keep acquainted.

Friends work better together than strangers, and Orinda is not a community that breeds "strangers."

So take it upon yourself. Get in the habit of saying hello, and greeting those whom you haven't met with a cheerful smile. Then when the time comes for you to work together with your fellow Orindans, you will be working with your friends, not just "that fellow who lives up the street."

Orinda is still a friendly community. We are all working to keep it friendly and to keep it the kind of a place where we want to live and raise our children.

"Get Acquainted Week" offers us the chance to put what we believe into practice. So let's "get acquainted," and then help those "acquaintances" develop into friendships. That is what we are all really working for.

Chamber Works Actively for Better Orinda, Convenience for Shoppers

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce is working actively for a better Orinda.

According to President Ernest Poll, present problems under consideration are the parking district, rezoning of new business districts and the erection of a bus shelter for commuters.

Ernest Poll

"The function of a chamber of commerce in an unincorporated area like Orinda is not only to foster the interests of merchants and businessmen, but also to take an active part in the civic betterment of the community as a whole," he said.

Established in 1951, the chamber now numbers more than 100 businessmen in its ranks. It started in 1945 as a Better Business Bureau and was incorporated in 1951 under the first president, Bill Worden.

Meetings are held the first and third Tuesdays of the month at the Orinda Willows at noon.

GOP Women Work for Voters

The Orinda Republican Women's Club considers the development of a precinct organization which functions smoothly for registration, campaigning and election day activities as high on its list of accomplishments.

Mrs. T. N. Barrows

The organization was formed in 1950 by Mrs. Thomas St. Hill with 13 charter members, and it now numbers over 160 active workers.

Mrs. Thomas N. Barrows, president, looks with pride on the recent "meet the candidate" party held at the Lindsey Spight home, and is looking forward to similar activities when up to 1000 people are expected to meet their representatives face to face.

Among their current objectives is an attempt to have every person in Orinda registered, and more important, to have every registered person vote.

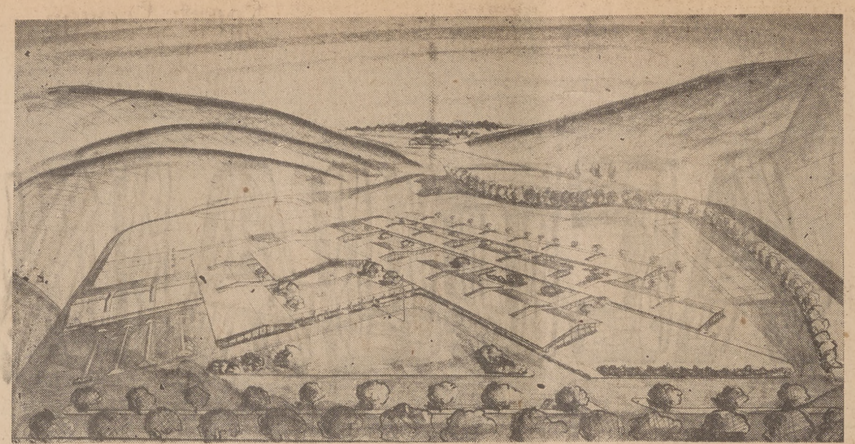
Washington Knew Friendship Rules

George Washington had many friends who were at times true to him and then again false, just as are any man's.

He didn't need a Get Acquainted Week to bring people to him for they flocked to him constantly for all reasons.

His statement on friendship is therefore of value: "Be courteous to all but intimate with few, and let those few be well tried before you give them your confidence. True friendship is a plant of slow growth and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity before it is entitled to the name."

This might well be a guiding principle for those who seek new friends this week and afterwards.



ORINDA'S HIGH SCHOOL, which has been named Miramonte High School, will look like this from a distance, according to the architects, who prepared this sketch.

Firemen Can Be Good to Know

The clock never stops for firemen, for they are subject to call 24 hours a day.

Rain or shine, hot or cold, early or late — the firemen hurry to combat fires and help protect your life and property. Don't think life is one checker game after another for them at the firehouse, for frequently they endanger their lives in trying to save others.

Moreover, by snuffing out mistakes, they save us money on insurance premiums.

Rubbing Noses Is Done by Many People

The salute by smelling or sniffing (often called by travelers "rubbing noses") belongs to the Polynesians, Malayans, Burmese and other Indo-Chinese Mongols, etc., extending thence eastward to the Eskimo and westward to Lapland.

You Might Try These Ways Of Becoming Acquainted

There is a right way to go about this "Get Acquainted" business, and fortunately it has many angles.

Some are a little unusual, others trite and threadbare, but they have one thing in common — they turn the key to new friendship.

The simplest, and by far the most effective, method it to introduce yourself by merely saying, "My name is Whistlebrook — Elmer Whistlebrook." The other person's mouth may drop open for a few seconds, but he (or she) usually will recover from the spell of astonishment, and mutter in innocent confusion: "Glad to know you. I'm Pickins — E. Z. Pickins." Of course, this is so simple few people think to use it. But the old frontal attack is one of the best yet.

ANOTHER, rather obvious yet effective means, is to get a mutual acquaintance to introduce you. This may be simplified by finding someone who knows everybody in town. Then have him or her escort you on a tour of the city, performing the conventional introductions at each stop. It is advised that in introducing Mr. Brown to Mr. Jones that each be told a fact or two — about occupation, mission, etc. — about the other.

For instance, if you meet a doctor, your face will brighten and you can say: "Why doctor, what a coincidence. I've been having the most mysterious pain."

One approach that his been kicked around a lot yet is indestructible, is that of dragging the weather into the picture. "What lovely weather we're having" or "Sure been dry, ain't it" are calculated to completely disarm the stranger. The reply will be a weak, "I can't remember when it's been so nice (or dry)," but the conversational ice will have been broken. Ultimately, the party of the first part can blurt out: "I'm Bill Smith!" Thus, friendly entry has been gained via the back door.

WHEN THE GIRL is taking the initiative in getting acquainted, she must be subtle about it in most cases. The definition of "subtle" usually is as follows: A method by which a young woman pursues a young man and makes it appear that he is persuading her.

A musty technique is to drop the handkerchief under the guy's nose, or back off and flutter the eyelashes. It is always possible to "mistake" the object for someone else or to turn on the weaker-sex camoflauge by commenting on his intelligence or strength, etc.

If you want to use several people to perform introductions, it is possible to arrange a chain reaction. For example, the fellow with whom you drink coffee may have a sister who is a good friend of that cute little number you have had your eye on recently — or girls, check up and see if one of your sorority sisters doesn't live next door to that tall, dark and handsome creature that you have been observing from afar.

Still another means is the little gimmick which has broken ice on other occasions. For instance: What time do you have?" Or perhaps "Pardon me, do you have a match?" or "Could you tell me the way to Main Street or by chance could I be standing on it this very minute?" These always bring out the Boy Scout nature in individuals, and in their helpful spirit, they are easy targets for introduction.

FOR THE YOUNGER generation there's nothing like the blind date to get acquainted. Of course that method is not limited to youngsters. If you are an eligible bachelor (or an eager maiden), there is usually someone who is forever trying to get you acquainted with the right Jane or Joe.

Some people can't bear the thought of a friend being unencumbered. But the blind date, while adventuresome, does have its points, provided you insist on a good description beforehand. In that way, if you are five feet two, you may avoid spending an evening with someone six feet six, or vice versa.

Parties are good acquaintance promotors. Just invite all your friends in and play blind man's buff, post office, or something. Anything to mix 'em up and to stimulate new friendships.

IF THERE'S ENOUGH moving around, everybody usually becomes acquainted with everyone else by the time the party breaks up. Besides, they may find that they both know Joe Doaks, who is a first cousin of Susie Zilch, who doesn't matter except she's something to talk about.

But regardless of what method you use, these or one of your own innovations, the idea is to "Get Acquainted." If you're normal you'll get a big kick out of it. If you're not normal the experience will do much to make you so.

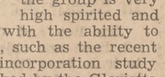
Want to Get Acquainted? Then Avoid These Methods!

It seems there is a wrong way to go about this get acquainted business, and despite the fact that some of the methods not generally recommended get results occasionally, there is usually a high price to pay.

An example is the old story about the world-wise gent who went down the street asking each pretty girl he met for a kiss.

I'll bet you get your face slapped lots of times," an acquaintance speculated.

"I sure do, but I also get lots of kisses," was the reply.



STILL, if you are a man and you see a young lady you are particularly anxious to meet walking down the street, the odds against success are terrific if you walk up and announce, "Pardon me, but your slip is showing and since I have been just dying to meet you I thought I would just stop and tell you about it."

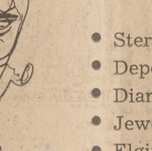
Another approach that is frowned upon is to walk up and casually exclaim, "Honey Child, where have you been all my life?" That immediately types you as a gallant man-about-town of two or three decades ago. Then, too, it suggests the traveling salesman's technique, and there are too many jokes about salesmen to make it sound sincere.

THAT APPROACH is also overworked, having lost most of its punch from monotonous repetition.

A cheery "What's cookin' good lookin'?" was effective in some cases a few years back, just as "Hi-Toots" attracted some attention during an earlier era. But Emily Post probably would tell you it simply isn't done by the 400.

Sleepy Hollow Group Works on Many Projects

Of approximately 245 families in Sleepy Hollow, almost 100 per cent belong to the Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association. Formed in March, 1948, this organization combines good fellowship and community projects in its active program.



Miles Sutliffe

Among its many accomplishments are: Getting the county to take over the roads in Sleepy Hollow; the annual Christmas decorations at the Sleepy Hollow gates; installation of speed limit signs by the county; participation in the landscaping of Sleepy Hollow School.

"OUR MOST IMPORTANT current objective," President Miles B. Sutliffe says, "is the selection of a location and the installation of a recreational area where supervised play, including swimming, volley ball, tennis, ping pong and other sports will be available to the children of Sleepy Hollow."

The group cooperates with the Orinda Association in Orinda-wide projects, such as planning and the Coro incorporation study.

An annual cocktail party is one of the regular events on the social calendar.

PURPOSE OF THE Sleepy Hollow Improvement Association is described by Sutliffe as: To improve, protect, preserve and beautify Sleepy Hollow; to enforce, or cooperate in the enforcement of, restrictions, conditions and covenants.

Charter members are James O. Orr, Channing Kilburn, Harry P. Locklin, Douglas N. Day and Robert H. Walker. The hard-working members are too numerous to list, but a few of them are Walker, Joseph DeCosta, James Seaman and Ethel Tyrrel.

Glorietta Group Is Mighty Busy

Such civic problems as road improvements, traffic, delegation to the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association and planning are high on the list of work for the Glorietta Improvement Association.

Ben Olsen

But all is not work, because an annual pot-luck supper is held in June and an annual party is held in September at the home of the Ted Harrers.

President Ben Olsen, 11 Valley Drive, feels that the group is very high spirited and hard working with the ability to get things done, such as the recent drive for an incorporation study which was sparked by the Glorietta Improvement Association.

BUT THE GROUP doesn't wander too far from home when accomplishing things for the betterment of living in Orinda. The erection of street signs for the convenience of visitors and residents alike is a continual activity.

The group, which currently numbers 100 members, also sponsors a Boy Scout troop and is taking an active interest in master planning and the safety of school children who must travel on the roads in the Glorietta area.

Life Can Be Grim for Photographers!

Taking pictures of the many people whose sketches appear in this issue of The SUN has been a novel experience — for those who had their picture taken.

But not for the photographer. Each individual is a different personality, to be sure — but that's where the difference ends. The foibles and observations are uncommonly similar.

For instance, among the women there is the inclination to be gay. Sometimes this is expressed as a coy giggle sometimes with some well-turned flippancy, or sometimes by a dry chuckle. Statisticians have revealed that women over 35 (and few ever exceed that age) are more apt to indulge in witticisms at the moment they are having their picture taken than those under the age.

ONE REMARK, which has lost some of its edge, goes something like this: "Tee hee, I'll break the camera." Research shows that the identical conclusion was expressed rather cleverly by great grandfather when he had his old tin-type made on his wedding day.

Nor are the girls under 35 free of their idosyncracies. There is the faint suspicion that perhaps a Hollywood talent scout is lurking behind the tiny confines of the high-powered Leica.

This leads to such sly sayings as "just a minute while I duck in and comb my hair," or "oh dear, my nose is shining," or "can you spare just a moment while I touch up my make-up?"

THERE'S NO POINT explaining that when the artist makes the sketch, using the photograph only for outline and feature purpose, all the complexion, make-up, are left white as snow, and hair can be sketched neatly into place.

The men are not without their pecularities, too. They have been known (on 99.9 per cent of occasions) to indulge in the same conjecture about "breaking the camera as do the women.

As a class, men are more apt to be sourpuss when it comes to posing. Some strike the Napoleonic attitude. Others glower like a banker at a client who is several weeks overdue on a shaky note.

THEN THERE ARE THOSE who have the idea they are posing for a dentrifice advertisement. There is an irresistible temptation to present a solid front (of teeth) to the cameraman. Added to this group are the "prematurely" bald brethren!

The cameraman loses quite as much time with these as with the women with shinging noses. They have to take a few remaining hairs and spread them over as much space as humanly possible in the vain hope that the pate won't show through — which it will.

Of course, both men and women will brighten the proceedings by asking:

"Is this for the comic page?"

The cameraman, however, is not deeply stirred to mirth. He's heard it before — and often.

There are no strangers—there are only folks whom you haven't met.

Orinda Association Works For Community Betterment

The Orinda Association meets the fourth Monday of each month to "promote the general welfare and betterment of Orinda," reports President Zach Montgomery.

Zach Montgomery

The association represents each resident of Orinda through its organization and the Civic Affairs Committee, and directors are elected by the community at large. Each segment of Orinda is represented in the selection of directors.

The association has extended its influence frequently in the past to obtain the betterment of conditions in Orinda by making the wishes of residents known to such governing bodies as the County Board of Supervisors and the County Planning Commission.

Montgomery commented that in general it is the association's business to deal with local problems such as zoning, planning, road rehabilitation, highway matters and so forth.

'Our main problem at present," Montgomery said, "is in the proper planning and creation of a proposed special business district on East Bay Municipal Utility District land near the Crossroads and the relocation of San Pablo Dam Road."

ESTABLISHED approximately seven years ago, the association now numbers more than 1500 members. Directors include Montgomery, Vice-President Nathan Gray, Secretary Mrs. Stuart Henderson and Directors Frank Cayting, George Hauerken, Robert Boyle, Harold Neeland, Joe F. Conley, Harold Rote and Pat President Peter Veitch, an ex-officio member.

The only quasi-official public body in Orinda, the organization publishes the Orinda News to keep residents informed on important curent events and decisions of the board. This publication is mailed free to each resident.

RECENTLY THE association conducted an incorporation study in conjunction with the Coro Foundation and is presently disseminating the facts of incorporation to neighborhood improvement organizatins and to residents through "town hall" meetings.

Each year the association conducts a drive for membership wherein every family is asked to send the association $2 for a yearly membership and at the same time to vote for members of the board of directors.

"The results that have been realized thus far," Montgomery said, "clearly point out that Orinda can effectively guide its future through a strong association which is truly representative of the people."

People In Need Can Turn To Red Cross for Assistance

"People help people in need through the Red Cross."

This statement by Irving H. Magill of Walnut Creek exemplifies the spirit motivating the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American National Red Cross.

Irving Magill

During the 56 years the local chapter has been established, it has grown from 42 members to over 9000. Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Leech of Walnut Creek organized the first chapter which met in their home May 21, 1898.

Leech Memorial Garden in the Walnut Creek City Park is in honor of these two founders. No charter members are now living. The entry for the second meeting states, "roll call found 33 members present. none absent."

THE ACTIVITIES of the organiaztion permeate almost every level of life in Central Contra Costa County. Objectives include the assistance of service men's families and veterans in a limited program and service at military hospitals.

Workers are trained in emergency procedure and classes are maintained in water safety, first aid and home care for the sick. In addition classes in mother and baby care are held periodically for the families of those expecting children.

Junior members who are still attending school give assistance to children in other lands as well as those closer to home.

THE RED CROSS is proud of the work it has done in this area since 1898 and the only stated objective of the chapter is to continue to be of service to the people.

Volunteer workers serve every week day in some capacity. Quarterly board meetings are held and annual meetings are called at which time every person who has contributed at least one dollar to the fund is asked to come. All elected officers are chosen at this time.

— Among the faithful and hard working members are Mesdames J. C. McGeehon, Arthur Wagstaff, Arthur Hammonds, Reginald Biggs, Arthur Gordon, Stuart Loe, A. J. Johnson, Karl Pape, John Selley and Messrs. Frank Williams, Eldo Ewert, Don Mitchell, John Cottle and Admiral H. W. Need.

Here's How Men Began To Start Tipping Hats

In the ancient tournaments in which knights battled one another, not to display hostility but to prove their prowess or for practice, the knight after winning over an opponent would ride up to the amphitheater and raise the armored protective mask as a gesture.

If his head was covered by his armor-helmet, the entire helmet would be removed as a gesture to his lady. From such . . . the tipping of a gentleman's hat to a lady originated.

Fast, Efficient Service Guaranteed by Fire Dept.

Since its inception in 1933 the Orinda Fire District has grown into an organization which today operates quietly and efficiently to provide fast, smooth action when fire endangers life or property.

Prior to 1933 fire protection was provided by a group of volunteers who were themselves instrumental in having the present district organized. Today, the fire department is governed by Commissioners Gilbert Earle, president; Zach Montgomery, vice president; E. A. Dawson, C. W. Langridge and R. W. Aitchison. H. Everett Wyatt is fire chief and Clarence E. Betz is secretary and finance officer.

THE DISTRICT HAS 16 paid full time men and eight pieces of equipment. This has grown from three paid full time men in 1944.

In 1939 commissioners realized that the original fire house (now the site of Warren and Arline Harrold's real estate office) would not be adequate to serve a growing community.

So property was purchased at the end of Avenida de Orinda which consisted of land and a strongly reinforced foundation and basement that could be used in constructing a new fire house. After wartime restrictions were relaxed, Fire House No. 1 was built on this site.

Due to the growth of the area commissioners foresaw the necessity of another fire station, so in 1950 they asked voters for approval of a $130,000 bond issue to cover the construction of Fire House No. 2 which was opened three years ago on Moraga Highway and Orchard Road.

FIRE COMMISSIONERS are presently negotiating for a site for a third fire house.

In addition to providing efficient fire protection, the department also maintains a schedule of activities, including resuscitator service, first aid, opening homes for residents who have locked themselves out, and even a rattlesnake service.

Fire commissioners meet on the fourth Thursday of every month at Fire House No. 1 at 8 p.m.

Masons Enjoy Good Fellowship

The Orinda Masonic Lodge is currently embarking on a drive to construct its own temple, possibly in the Pine Grove area, according to R. E. Floegel, Master.

R. E. Floegel

Primary purpose of the Masonic order is fellowship among men with similar viewpoints and ideals, and the local Lodge looks forward to its many activities.

An annual "Roll Call" Dinner is held in November, and the ladies are invited to this function. A children's Christmas Party is held each December and in the spring an annual pilgrimage is taken to an old country lodge.

Hard Working Orinda Demos Are New Group

Although their organization is young, the Orinda Democrats have made much progress in making known their purposes and objectives in the community.

The group was formed in 1952 and now numbers more than 75 members with B. U. Thurston president.

Among the objectives are: To stimulate and promote Democratic activity in precincts of the Canyon, Moraga, Orinda and St. Mary's area; to keep informed of community problems and of Democratic and other political activity on a local, state and national level.

Further objectives include: To prevail upon and encourage men and women of high intelligence, high integrity and devotion to human rights and human dignity to become candidates for office as Democrats.

FUND RAISING dinners are held to stimulate registration and "get dically. Important recent objectives out the vote" drives are held periincluded campaign fund raising and a get-out-the-vote drive for the general election.

Initially responsible for the foundation of the Orinda Democrats were John Glascock, Dr. Fred Tarp and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hill.

Scouts Serving Orinda Youth

Three Boy Scout troops are presently serving 120 boys in Orinda and five new troops are in the process of being organized.

Scouting, an organization which has long served the boys of America, has steadily grown to keep pace with the expanding population of Orinda. Meridian District Scout Executive John Youmans pointed out that nearly all the troops presently active in Orinda are full to capacity and that there is room for the expansion which is now under way.

ACTIVE IN ORINDA are the following troops. Troop 200, sponsored by the Orinda Rotary Club, is under the direction of D. Reginald Tibbetts, 1 Camino Pablo, Moraga. It has 35 boys. Troop 207 with 45 boys is under the leadership of T. G. Cullen, 21 Las Vegas Road, and is sponsored by the Lions Club as is Troop 237. Troop 237 with 40 boys is led by George B. Montgmery, 60 Irvine Drive.

In the process of being organized are the following troops and their sponsors: Troop 225, Glrietta Improvement Association; Troop 238, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church; Troop 244, Moraga Del Rey Community Association, and Troop 245, Orinda Community Church.

It is possible that another troop, 247, will be formed in the near future under the sponsorship of the Orinda Branch of the Church of Latter Day Saints.

IN ADDITION EXPLORER Post 300 under the direction of Dr. Ralph C. Hall, serves 30 boys. This group, which is sponsored by a citizens' committee, serves boys over the age of 14 years.

Youmans also pointed out the need for men to serve scouting in various capacities in Orinda. Needed are about six men to serve as neighborhood commissioners and to act as liaison between the district executives and the unit leaders.

Additional men are needed to serve on district operating committees, including finance, advancement, leadership training, public relations etc.

Parents whose youngsters are not members of any scout troop and who would like information may contact any of the unit leaders.

Post Office Indicative Of Community Growth

The Orinda Post Office was originally a sub-station of the Berkeley Post Office and was located in the Orinda Store. In November 1945 quarters were obtained in the Vashell Building and a third class office was established there with Mrs. Grace Kendall as Acting Postmaster.

Mrs. Laura Mallary

A post office must have gross receipts of $8,000 to become a second class office and at least $40,000 to be established as a first class office. The Orinda Post Office became second class July 1, 1951.

The gross receipts for the office for the last calendar year were nearly $68,000 representing more than 100% increase in the last five years.

MRS. LAURA MALLARY has bene Postmaster at the Orinda office since July 1, 1946. Her background was in the educational field rather than in business. She received her A.B. degree at Toledo University in 1916 and a Master's degree at the University of California in 1939.

Edward J. Kuenzli, assistant postmaster, has been in the postal service since 1925. He was connected with the Oakland Post Office for many years and was most recently assistant postmaster in Susanville, California before coming to Orinda in 1949.

OTHERS ON THE ROLLS are Edmund J. Doyle, Grace L. Kendall, Robert B. Ross, Helen G. Vurek, Joseph F. Giusto, Josephine Dawson and Lorraine Atkinson as clerks and Orville H. Rakestraw, Lawrence E. Isola, Owight E. Seaton, Edgar E. Baker, William J. Wadge and John T. Goodwin as carriers. Others serve as temporary substitute employees, mostly college student, who serve as auxiliary carriers on Saturadys, during vacations and at Christmas time.

THE OBJECTIVE of the Orinda Post Office is to give the best service possible with the facilities at hand.

A statement of policy is posted in the lobby over the Postmaster's signature welcoming any constructive ciriticism from the patrons of the office which will make it possible to improve that service.

Constant Vigilance, Hard Work, Is Commuters Group

In times of strike and emergency the Contra Costa County Commuters Association, Inc. has efficiently stepped into the picture and taken care of its members.

John E. McKirahan

However, the objectives of the group go far and beyond a mere emergency standby service.

According to John E. McKirahan, president, "we are working for improved public transportation and highway facilities between central Contra Costa County and the Bay Area for the special benefit of all residents who regularly travel to places of business over this route."

BUT SERVICES TO commuters are constant. Bulletins are published periodically and distributed to bus commuters acquainting them with changes in schedules and warning them of proposed changes in policy which might affect their commute times.

The association has battled for the commuter on another front, too.

As the area grows, facilities become more and more crowded and facilities are enlarged. As freeway construction continues, difficulties arise in the location of bus stops.

The Commuters Association has worked with the State Division of Highways, the Public Utilities Commission and Greyhund in an attempt to keep bus depots in fairly centralized locations.

PLANS FOR THE ultimate freeway from Orinda to Concord have been studied, trouble spots have been marked and plans are being formed to combat these problems even before they arise.

As a result of constant work since its founding five years ago, the association can proudly recall that it has been responsible for improved bus service; cooperation with the California Division of Highways, the Diablo Highway Federation, the Highway Patrol, California Public Utilities Commission, Motor Coach Employees Union, Bay Area Rapid Transit Commission and others.

But perhaps most important of all, it has gained the respect and cooperation of local business groups and the board of supervisors.

THE PRIMARY CURRENT objectives, according to McKirahan, include work toward continued improvement in bus service and accelerated work on the construction of freeways.

The group was organized by 15 charter members who formed the first board of directors under Frank Bigham. Over 250 bus commuters signed up the first week, and the organization continued to grow under the threat of applications by the transit company to increase bus fares.

The association has grown "bigger and better" each year until it now numbers over 590 members.

Let's all get to know all of us.

ORINDA COMMUNITY CENTER is a goal of the Orinda community. The Orinda Association has had the land for the Center for several years. Deliberating over problems are Chairman Bob Harrison of the association's Civic Center, Park and Recreation Committee; Kirk Miles, former committee chairman, who is now in New York, and Bob Anthonisen of the committee.

Lions Work Hard For Community, Youth Betterment

During the 14 years it has been active in Orinda, the Lions Club has quietly and consistently worked for a better community.

As an example of the type of work which the Lions do, the present drive for a library building is outstanding. This undertaking is a joint one with the Orinda Junior Woman's Club, and drawings have already been made for the structure.

The Lions, and in this case the Junior Women also, have prevailed upon the Orinda Association to assure space for the building on community center land.

BUT THE LIONS are also active in other philanthropic endeavors, such as development and maintenance of an Amusement Center for the Blind in Oakland.

An active interest in children and their welfare also permeates the group. The Lions sponsor two Boy Scout troops in Orinda and are currently investigating the possibility of forming a Little League baseball roup in the community.

But all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, as the proverb goes, and the Orinda Lions hold spirited meetings each Wednesday night where good spirit and fellowship are combined with the presentation of informative speakers and programs.

ACCORDING TO President J. Bart McMahon, 20 Glorietta Court, seven of the charter members are still with the group, which numbers more than 50 active and eager Lions.

Among the hard-working members of the incorporated service club are Kenneth L. Courtright, George A. Bauslaugh, Dr. Lloyd Farrar, Joe Navone and James R. Lucas.

Rotary Dedicated to Community Good

"Personal, vocational, community and international services, as represented in Rotary International's 'Service Above Self' " are the objectives of the Orinda Rotary Club, according to President George P. Eberhart.

Two activities which are recognized as a real service by the community, include the annual Children's Christmas Party at Orinda Theater and the annual Field Day at Orinda School.

THE ORINDA ROTARY Club was founded in 1949 with Merle Brown as first president and 20 charter members. In the succeeding five years the group has grown to 40 active and hardworking members whose interest can be demonstrated by the almost perfect attendance record. Meetings are held at 12:15 p.m. each Wednesday at The Willows.

"Orinda Rotary has 40 members, business and professional men, who have been chosen for their leadership in the community," said Eberhart.

"Accomplishments of a Rotary Club are not usually publicized. On principle, it aims to 'spark' or initiate good movements and to participate in them as individuals," he added.

Snug Harbor New, But Quite Active

Although a relatively new organization, the Snug Harbor Association, Inc., has high purposes.

Primary aim of the group, according to President Thomas M. Culbertson, is to weld the neighborhood into a cohesive group to take an active part in Orinda affairs.

T. M. Culbertson

"WE ARE interested in the improvement of the area, plus attempting to keep abreast of what is doing in Orinda, through the Civic Affairs Committee of the Orinda Association," he said.

Captain Oakley was largely responsible for the establishment of the group which was founded in the winter of 1951-52.

THE GROUP meets in various homes annually, but many parties and social events are given throughout the year.

"Ours is a relatively new association, but we are having some success in arousing interest through special meetings to discuss important items such as re-zoning, etc.," said Culbertson.

Highway Group Works Hard for County

Working quietly since 1949, the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation has been responsible for much of the work done on county roads and state highways in Central Contra Costa County.

Charles Nelson

With the primary objective the improvement of state and county roads in the entire county, the most important present concern is the freeway from Broadway Tunnel to Concord and a by-pass for Lafayette and Walnut creek.

HEARINGS are held regularly on state and county road projects and a presentation was recently made before the State Highway Commission asking the allocation of funds for the Lafayette and Walnut Creek By-Passes.

Although the group does not seek publicity, it has been very powerful in getting funds allocated to this area.

It can look with pride upon the construction of the Orinda Interchanfe, knowing that it might have been years before it was started if facts and figures had not been compiled and presented to the State Highway Commission by the association.

"OTHER PAST activities have included investigation and support of the county road bond issue," commented President Charles R. Nelson.

"Much of the credit for accomplishments of the organization must go to Elliot Hartman, president for the past two years; Dudley Thickens, secretary for the past three years, Edward Roland and S. H. McAllister."

Lost Valley -- Far From 'Lost'

The 28 members of the Lost Valley Community Association make certain by their cooperative activity that their area does not become "lost" in the crowded list of Central Contra Costa County's needed improvements.

Dwight Seaton

Improvement of roads, the Boy Scouts' reforestation project and the beautification of the Del Rey School grounds are a few of the projects with which the association has busied itself.

Currently the group is endeavoring to have the area sewered.

Dwight E. Seaton is president. The organization was formed in September, 1951. Charter members include Seaton, Marvin Kennedy, Robert Wiseman, Mario Albo, Gerard Lewis, Doris Ann Jonte, Kenneth Cristy, Everett McQuiddy, Verne Brown and Leon Carroll.

Dedicated to Children . . .

The Homeless Child Aided By Auxiliary

A group which works wholeheartedly for children without homes, as well as for parents who would like to have a child in the home but are unable to do so, is the Contra Costo County Adoption Auxiliary.

Mrs. Foster Davis

"Our group is characterized by women who have donated their time and talents in a working capacity, whether it be writing newspaper releases, typing, public contact, or some other form," said Mrs. Foster M. Davis, president.

"We have also had many interesting speakers both on adoption and related fields, and we are an enthusiastic group, full of ideas," she added.

THE GROUP HAS been responsible for designing, printing and distributing over 7000 pamphlets on "Services Available to the Unmarried Mother in Contra Costa County." Radio programs have been presented describing children in need of homes and a speakers panel has performed at the Contra Costa Junior College. Representatives attended the Governor's Conference on Youth.

The group is presently working to assist the Adoption Unit in finding homes for negro children, planning further engagements for the speakers panel, a radio and TV panel on adoption and the further mailing of pamphlets describing the adoption situation.

"Our general purpose," said Mrs. Davis, "is to promote and strengthen the adoption unit, primarily through publicity. We interpret its program to the public and assist the unit in making known to the community its special problems, such as finding homes for hard to place children."

THE GROUP HAS only been in existence for two years, but already numbers 20 hard working members. Among those who have put in much time and effort is Mrs. Paul Pratt, past president.

Mrs. Donald Fibush and Mrs. Dwight Birch were instrumental in organizing the auxiliary as it filled a need for a public interpretation of the then new adoption unit. Mrs. Robert Keyston, who has since transferred to an inactive status, has been given the only honorary membership.

Orioles Work to Help Disabled

The sole purpose of the Orinda Orioles is to assist in the financial support of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and to help by working at the center one day each week.

Mrs. Albert A. Schmidt

However, many social gatherings are held which provide fun and entertainment for the 38 members in addition to providing funds for a worthy cause.

THE FIRST OF 10 such auxiliaries to be founded, the Orioles have been operating for 4½ years under such past presidents as Mesdames Carl Wellington Smith, Calvin Hagstrom, E. H. Bargones, T. M. Harrer and the present president, Mrs. Albert A. Schmidt.

"Our meetings are always interesting and the members most congenial and cooperative," said Mrs. Schmidt. "We have a very active group and the members have thoroughly enjoyed our organization. Many fine friendships have been formed among the various members."

BRIDGE PARTIES are held at members' homes monthly and there is an annual rummage sale in October and an annual spring luncheon.

During the year ending in June, 1954, the group raised $3300 which was turned over to the building fund of the center.

The first major project this fall will be the rummage sale.

Mothers Club Looks After Childrens' Good

With the worthy objective of promoting the welfare of children in general and the pupils of Orinda schools in particular, the Orinda Mothers Club functions on a non-commercial, non-political and non-sectarian basis.

Mrs. Coleman Huntley

Mrs. Coleman Huntley, president, pointed out that the members were affiliated with the PTA previous to 1945, but decided that a Mothers Club could do more for Orinda School.

And to prove the point, the group has provided playground equipment, audio-visual equipment, public address systems, cafeteria equipment, including tables and benches, and phonographs for the primary grades.

Annually $500 is donated to the library and educational programs are carried on in the fields of public health as it applies to the schools and to bond issues when they occur.

And one thing the Mothers Club is particularly proud of . . . ALL the members are faithful and hardworking.

There are no strangers—there are only folks whom you haven't met.

To have a friend, be one.

Brownies Can Help Youth

Serving young girls in the third and fourth grades in Orinda are many fine Brownie troops designed to teach girls something about working together and to interest them in wholesome, healthful activity.

Brownie and Scout troops served about 438 girls last year, and it is still too early in the year to tell how many will be served by present troops.

Each school semester troops are reorganized if necessary to keep them from getting too large, or to combine two troops for the sake of economy of leadership and convenience for the youngsters, according to Mrs. Arthur Bowna, Orinda District Commissioner.

SERVING YOUNGSTERS on the Village side of Orinda are third grade troops under the direction of Mesdames Magill, Starkman, Fred Folliard, Broderick, Epperson and possibly another. These troops, which have not yet been numbered, are in the process of being formed. All will be devoted to third grade girls.

Fourth grade troops on the Village side include 151, Mrs. Leland; 232, Mrs. Jeppson; 235, Mrs. Gilbert; 231, Mrs. Rasmussen and 214, Mrs. Hecathorn.

The Moraga side of Orinda is served by third grade Brownie troops 62, Mrs. Virginia Taber; 179, Mrs. Frances Leibold, an un-numbered troop, Mrs. Margery Montgomery; 262, Mrs. Mary Colwell and another un-numbered troop, Mrs. Betty Apgar.

FOURTH GRADE TROOPS include 101, Mrs. Mildred Law; 12, Mrs. Helen Horne; 2, Mrs. Lonnie Currier; 123, Mrs. Mary Chappell, and another troop which is now being organized.

National Brownie organizations recognized troops in the second, third and fourth grade, but Orinda parents have agreed that they would prefer to have their children wait until third grade age before becoming members. Thus there are no second grade troops in Orinda.

ORINDA DADS are really brainy when it comes to child care and guidance, as this picture of fathers of youngsters at Orinda Nursery School clearly shows. However, the children don't seem overly impressed by their dads' knowledge and ability.

Inland Valley Is Working Hard

The Inland Valley Associatioon has been described by its president Gale A. De Martini as "a small group of homeowners who have exercised a lot of work and enthusiasm without publicity or credit to make our area a nicer place to live."

Gale DeMartini

This has been proven with the building of a children's shelter at Ivy Drive and Moraga Highway; in the beautification and landscaping of the general area and in the help given the Moraga Del Rey Association in the landscaping of Del Rey School.

Membership is currently 30 families and four new families are expected to join as they move into the neighborhood. There are only 37 lots in the area, 34 of which are developed.

Girl Scouts Try Varied Activities

The Girl Scouts of Orinda try to provide scouting for every girl or Brownie or Girl Scout age who desires it and to offer an opportunity to those adults who enjoy working with girls in general or who have a specific hobby to contribute.

Mrs. Arthur Bowman

District Chairman Mrs. Arthur Bowman noted that among annual events are the Girl Scout calendar sale in the fall, cookies in the spring and the aid the girls can give at special events such as selling orange drink at open house nights provided by the Orinda Mothers Club.

Orinda Girl Scouts are a part of the Diablo Valley Area Girl Scout Council. Prior to February, 1946, Orinda Girl Scouts had been under the jurisdiction of the Berkeley Girl Scout Council.

Since that time there have been four district chairmen besides Mrs. Bowman. They were; Mesdames Joan Erikson, Robert Galbraith, Vernon Axelson and John Gompertz.

Direct responsibility for organizing the 36 troops is in the hands of four neighborhood chairmen. Orinda and Sleepy Hollow School Brownies, Mrs. Joseph Lang; Girl Scouts, Mrs. John Gompertz. Glorietta and Del Rey School Brownies, Mrs. Ernest Fernsten; Girl Scouts, Mrs. Fred Kronke.

Peace By Understanding Is Field Service Goal

A small but devoted group of people have formed one of Central Contra Costa's newest organizations this year but it promises to develop ramifications that will be world wide.

Mrs. Anne Sanford

Formed in May, the American Field Service Branch is devoted to the sponsorship of teen-age foreign exchange students. Tangible results have already been realized and two foreign students are even now studying at Acalanes High School.

"We are united in an effort to promote a better understanding with the nations of the world through our teen-agers, the leaders of tomorrow," said Mrs. Theodore Sanford, Acalanes District Representative.

"THE LANGUAGE BARRIERS can be dissolved in the years ahead if our young people learn to know and be known by children of all countries. These friendships gained during youth can be a strong factor in dispelling communistic propaganda," she added.

The American Field Service is not a new organization in world-wide terms. It was founded by the ambulance drivers of World Wars I and II who wished to do something to promote world-wide understanding. All workers, throughout the United States, are volunteers who have the desire to add their bit to peace throughout the world.

Mrs. Sanford explained the objectives of the local group this way:

"THESE STUDENTS whom we sponsor are potential leaders in their own countries. They come here to learn our way of living by living in our homes as members of our families.

"When they return to their homes they will carry with them friendships for our people and understanding of our democracy. This knowledge of us is surely one key to peace."

The group is now developing interest among local families to take out yearly memberships at $10 per family to assure continuation of this program in the Acalanes High School District.

THE AVERAGE COST to place a student in a home for a high school semester is $650, which covers all expenses of transporting a youngster. The families who take students do so without monetary recompense.

Working hard in Central Contra Costa for the development of this student program are Mesdames Mitchell Farrar, George Hickock, Lance Barden, Ernest Drews, Kirk Miles and Ray Devin.

Handicapped Aid is Goal

The work that auxiliary units to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center have done to aid handicapped people in the Central Contra Costa area is well known everywhere.

But the dedicated purpose of the people who founded some of these units is not always known.

Mrs. William Cary

Here is how Mrs. William Cary, president of the Orinda Tanagers, explains the founding of this auxiliary:

"IN THE FALL OF 1950 Mrs. Ida Zamloch and a small group of women from the Orinda Community Church were working as volunteers helping Mary Doyle in her small white building on Acalanes Road.

"Mrs. Zamloch begged the board of directors of the Therapy Center to allow her to form an auxiliary and finally prevailed upon them to let her start.

"She invited five women to luncheon at the Orinda Country Club to help her plan the auxiliary. There were Mesdames Frank Hight, Robert Bigler, Frank Brush, Helene Klement and Keane Pettengill.

"ABOUT 50 WOMEN were expected to sign up at a luncheon held in thhe Neldam home, at which time Mary Doyle and Mrs. Zamloch talked about the center and what it was doing. Instead nearly 100 women signed. These were the charter members."

Knowledge Is Keynote for Young GOPers

An excellent spirit of cooperation is the keynote of success within the Orinda Young Republican organization, according to President Dr. Ronald Light.

Dr. Ronald Light

Established only four years ago, the group now has over 100 members, all actively working for what they believe to be right.

THE CLUB WORKS toward the education of voters regarding issues of political and community life, as well as the individuals who represent the community in government.

But the primary aim is to promote good government through knowledge and to stimulate the desire for knowledge of what is occuring around Orinda.

In active work, members have aided Republican candidates through mailings and trailers and house to house campaigning.

But it is not all business for Young Republicans, because, in the words of Dr. Light, "we have many fine social events, both for fellowship, money raising and just plain enjoyment."

Guild Helps Members, Community

"Any woman of the community, regardless of denomination or creed, will be warmly welcomed in any and all of the Guild's activities."

This is the philosophy of the Orinda Community Church. Members also feel that the Guild is "an integral but self-governing unit of the Orinda Community Church, and is keyed to the interests of other churches through the Federation of Congregational Women."

Mrs. Robert W. Brown

GUILD MEMBERS WORK together on all projects promoting good fellowship and talented members are often called upon to provide excellent programs, such as book reviews, travel talks and the like, according to President Mrs. Robert W. Brown.

Purpose of the Guild is to provide a Christian fellowship of service, worship and inspiration; to enrich the lives and homes of members and to further the active mission of the Christian Church.

SOCIAL EVENTS INCLUDE the annual Spring Card Party, the June Luncheon and the Fall Festival which was held October 2 this year.

The group was formed with 12 charter members in 1936 under the leadership of Mrs. Laura Sosson. It aided with the Sunday School because the church was not founded until 1939.

Now there are more than 170 members.

Estates Group Sees Need for Understanding

The pressing need for understanding of civic affairs has sparked the Orinda Estates Owners Association into a drive to create interest in local problems.

T. D. Sanford

Results of this effort can be seen by the roads in the area. The road committee worked diligently until all roads met the standards set by the county and were accepted as county roads, relieving residents of an expensive burden.

The group was established in 1944 and 47 members are now cooperating on the solution to local problems under the direction of President T. D. Sanford.

Indicative of the spirit of the group is Sanford's comment, "The association has gone on record as to its desire to reactivate interest in the organization in order to participate in the civic problems now facing Orinda."

Meetings are held six times per year at the homes of members.

Del Rey Efforts Lowered Phone Rates

Adequate fire protection, county maintenance of roads, reduction of telephone rates, beautifying of the grounds of Del Rey School and of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's Moraga substation — these are some of Moraga Del Rey Community Association's many accomplishments.

Ernest Rahmeyer

A community swimming pool at the future Miramonte High School, continuation of the landscaping program and of the efforts for constant area improvement — these are among the group's present objectives.

ANY MENTION of the 190-member organization would not be complete without emphatic reference ot the annual Father's March on Polio, now an Orinda-wide event climaxing each winter's March of Dimes but originally, a couple of years ago, the idea of a handful of Moraga Del Rey Community Association members, including Ernest Rahmeyer, who has been president two years.

Association membership includes all the homeowners in Moraga Del Rey Units 1 and 2. The group was formed six years ago by 20 homeowners, to make sure that no substandard developments would occur in the area.

HAROLD ROTE, who was Rey's delegate to the Civic Affairs Committee for four years, is a director of the Orinda Association.

Bill Feist, Del Rey secretary, and Lee Schwartz and Arthur Schwing, two other Del Rey Association directors, are a few of many "stalwarts" of the area organization.

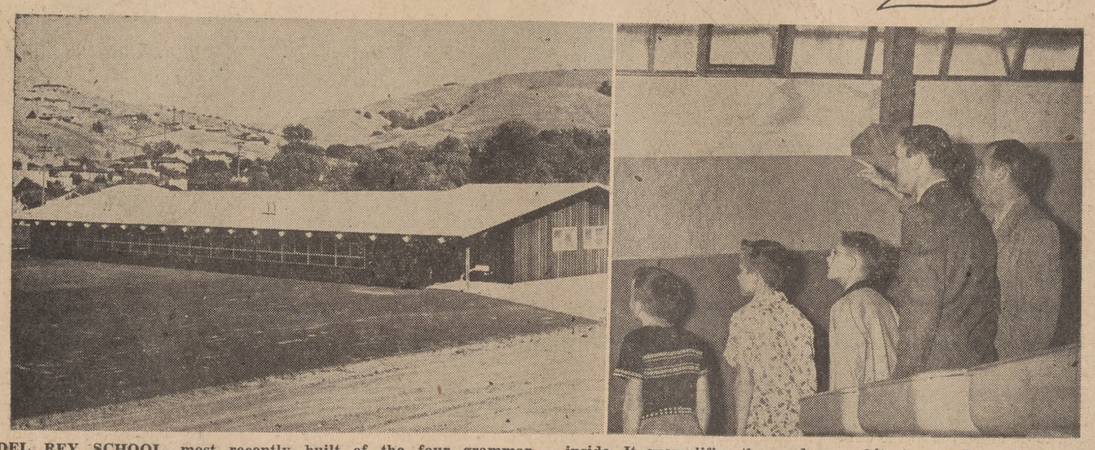
IT'S GET ACQUAINTED TIME



DEL REY SCHOOL, most recently built of the four grammar schools in the Orinda School District, is attractive both outside and inside. It exemplifies the modern architecture and spaciousness of the school plants in Orinda.

You're Mistaken to Judge at First Sight

Isn't it true that oftentime one makes a big mistake by judging folks by the first impression?

Haven't you met folks who — at first — sort of make you feel you wouldn't like them? Then, after you knew them better you found that your first impression was a decidedly erroneous one?

It's well during Get Acquainted Week, and each week of the year, to remember the words of Lincoln. He said, "I don't like that man. I must get to know him better."

Nursery School Works for Children

The provision of facilities for social, mental, physical and creative development of pre-school children is the aim of the Orinda Nursery School.

Mrs. Robert Hart

This aim has been achieved by maintaning a cooperative organization with the full assistance of the parents, and by promoting parent education relative to child development problems.

BUT IT IS NOT all work for the parents either. Just as the children play, so do the parents and friends of the nursery school each spring when the annual informal dance is held at Diablo Country Club.

Starting as a small back-yard group, the Orinda Nursery School is self-sustaining and now has three full-time teachers. More than 500 children have participated in the program over the past 11 years.

THE ORGANIZATION was started in 1937 as a private nursery school, but became cooperative in 1943 when it was licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare, according to President Mrs. Robert N. Hart.

Now children get the benefit of trained teachers and a cooperative play experience and the parents receive the knowledge of outstanding lecturers who speak at the regular meetings.

Only Friendship Can Buy Friendship

"Friendship can be purchased only by friendship. A man may have authority over thousands and tens of thousands, but he can never have the heart of one but by giving his own."

Try it during Get Acquainted Week.

School Trustees' Biggest Problem – Ever-Increasing Student Enrollment

The Orinda Union School District reflects the tremendous growth of the community during the past several years.

"The original school was the Orinda School," School Board President Edgar B. Stewart points out. "In the past seven years we have added the Glorietta, Sleepy Hollow and Del Rey Schools, a classroom addition and multi-purpose room at Glorietta School and a classroom addition at Orinda School.

Edgar Stewart

"We are planning a classroom addition at Sleepy Hollow School and a new, intermediate school at the Pine Grove, which we hope to open in the fall of 1955.

"School enrollment has jumped from about 500 to about 1800."

THOSE FEW FACTS help you understand what Stewart means when he says, "Our biggest problem is coping with the ever-increasing school enrollment."

Concurring in that statement are the other four trustees—Catherine Schwarck, clerk; Ritchie Smith, Seaver Ballard and Frank Cayting —and Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff.

The Board of Trustees has the responsibility of operating the elementary school system of Orinda. Its regular meeting date is the first Monday night of each month at 8 o'clock, at the Orinda School.

BOARD MEMBERS are elected for three-year terms. Election is held each May, with terms staggered so that two are elected one year and three are elected the next year.

For a long time trustees complained that hardly anyone except themselves and Sheaff attended board meetings. Recently, however, there has been a marked increase in attendance.

"That's as it should be," Stewart says. "Our meetings are public, and it is heartening to know that the parents take an intelligent interest in the work of the school district."

Stewart has been board president about five years.

Orinda Children's Art Center Expands

"We feel that we have brought an interest in art to the children in Orinda, and also to the adults," says Mrs. Ted Harrer, president of the Orinda Children's Art Center.

"We are trying to expand. We now have four dance classes (cooperative) and are planning to start classes in drama."

Mrs. Ted Harrer

Formed five years ago to stimulate community interest in art and to encourage talented children, the Orinda Children's Art Center sponsors exhibits at which the work of the youngsters is displayed.

These exhibits and the teas for sponsors are always important dates in Orinda's cultural calendar.

Mrs. Joseph Sheaff, Mrs. Jack Fraser and Mrs. Kay MacGuire were instrumental in founding the group. At present the organization has 20 members.

Acalanes Parents Devote Time, Effort to Students

An active answer to juvenile delinquency is provided by the members of the Acalanes Parents Club who take an active interest in the projects and problems of their children.

Victor Johnson

Through scholarships, educational programs, financial contributions and personal service, parents actively promote the welfare of their youngsters by providing the extra-curricular interest and support that is so beneficial.

EACH GRADUATING CLASS is awarded four college scholarships of $250 each and other financial contributions are made for necessary equipment for the school plant itself. But more intangible contributions exist in the high degree of cooperation between parents, teachers and students which is achieved through the time and interest contributed by parents.

"Our programs are generally of an educational nature, or promote the interest and understanding of parents in the high school curriculum," said Victor Johnson, president.

"We also concentrate on educational and 'growing up' problems of high school students. Programs during the past two years have drawn an unusually high attendance," he added.

THE CLUB INTENDS to continue the general program to promote child welfare in the home, school and community through the cooperative efforts of parents and teachers at Acalanes High School. It is also working to maintain the present status of Acalanes as one of the outstanding high schools in California.

The group was formed when the high school was opened in 1940 and had about 50 members. In the succeeding 14 years it has grown to over 450, and during the years hundreds have contributed their time ad talents to the benefit of the school.

Mothers Aid Teen-Agers

A social organization with a very practical purpose is the Orinda High School Mother's Club which meets the second Monday night of each month at member's homes.

Mrs. Joseph Conley

Interesting and authoritative speakers present outlines of their skills and knowledge in order that the mothers may be better acquainted with the problems that their children face.

ANOTHER RESULT of the exchange of information is that parents are enabled to keep abreast of developments in the educational field and thus can work more efficently and with better understanding with teachers and administrative personel of the schools.

The group, which has been formed for a little more than 10 years, now numbers over 175 members and is under the direction of Mrs. Joe Conley, president.

It was originally formed by a group of mothers who wanted to assist with the problems of Orinda Children when Acalanes High School was established.

IN ADDITION to learning in order to help their youngsters, the Mother's Club presents a scholarship each year to some outstanding student at Acalanes.

An uincorporated group, it has been helped on its way by Mrs. P. F. Kops, president last year.

ORINDA COUNTRY CLUB is known throughout the Bay Area and Northern California as the setting for many gay social events. On the spacious greens golf enthusiasts play. The clubhouse is a well-known landmark.

Orinda Juniors are Civic Minded

One of Orinda's newest organizations is none-the-less one of its most efficient and productive.

The Orinda Junior Woman's Club was formed in 1953 with Mrs. Walter E. Estes as first president with 20 charter members and will have 50 by this fall.

Mrs. Vernon E. Louis

Many civic services have been performed in the past year by the active young women, all Orinda residents between the ages of 21 and 35.

PUBLIC services were performed for the Orinda Association, youth groups, schools, churches and the Red Cross, and a television set was purchased for the Contra Costa Juvenile Hall.

The Juniors are currently working with the Lions Club co-sponsoring an Orinda Library to be built on community center land.

Members are staffing the Civil Defense Aircraft Observation Post in Lafayette one afternoon a month.

ALL MEMBERS have one or more small children and are consequently interested in working for the community. One business meeting and one social meeting are held each month at members' homes.

President is Mrs. Vernon E. Louis, and she is convinced that "all our members are really hard-working, but probably the busiest are Mrs. Robert Stewart, civil defense chairman; Mrs. John Madison, library chairman, and Mrs. Thomas Kling, ways and means chairman.

Orinda, Lombardy Branches Help Care for Sick Children

The work of Children's Hospital of the East Bay is known and recognized throughout the greater Bay Area.

Also recognized for its service and contributions to the wel-being of children are the many branches which provide funds to Childrne's Hospital in order that children may be cared for, regardless of the ability of their parents to pay.

Mrs. C. F. Borden

In Orinda, two branches have been organized to further the work of the hospital. They are Orinda Branch, Mrs. C. F. Borden, chairman, and Lombardy Branch, Mrs. R. J. Maddox, chairman.

ORINDA BRANCH was formed in 1941 with eight members. Today it has 35 active members. Meetings are held on the third Wednesday of each month at members' homes where lunch is served. In the past years Orinda Branch has worked on many money-raising projects—parties, house tour, fashion shows—and this year is sponsoring a series of lectures, monthly from October through March by Lorita Baker Ballely.

Due to the growth of population in Orinda and the increased costs of services rendered by the hospital, it became necessary for a second branch to be organized in the Orinda area.

LOMBARDY BRANCH, which was formed in the spring of 1953, was the answer to this need. It was organized by nine charter members, four of whom had been active in Children's Hospital work in the Oakland area.

Mrs. R. J. Maddox

Lombardy's membership has grown to 20 in its first year of activity. Having completed one year of service to the hospital, Lombardy members have had the opportunity to support all of the fund raising events sponsored by the general membership.

On Lombardy's calendar for coming events are a barbecue at the Orinda Country Club and a series of bridge lessons which is being repeated due to enthusiastic reception received in the spring.

The chairmen commented: through the past 40 years, 63 branches have been organized to help support the hospital with their earnings. The money produced by Orinda and Lombardy branches, for example, supplements the cost of child care for part pay patients of Contra Costa County.

"THE PART PAY PLAN enables parents of smaller means to share the responsibility of hospital costs without fear of hopeless indebtedness. By paying what they can, parents maintain a feeling of independence and self respect. Over one-third of the children hospitalized receive part pay assistance.

"As a group the branches operate under a charter which sets forth standards and qualifications for membership. Each member contributes not only by paying dues but by using her talents and abilities for the benefit of the hospital."

Garden Club Helps Beautify Area

Orinda is well known for its beautiful homes and gardens and the Orinda Garden Club has played no small part in the beautification of the community.

Among its objectives, in addition to the beautification of the area, is the exchange of ideas pertinent to gardening and cooperation in the protection of wild flowers and the native trees and plants.

THE ORINDA Community Center property has benefited from the planting of 750 trees and shrubs by the Orinda Garden Club and Glorietta School is richer in landscaping for the efforts of members.

Sleepy Hollow School has received its share of donations and the planting and care of the triangle in Orinda Village is under the watchful eye of the group.

MRS. JOE F. CONLEY, president, noted that the group was formed by nine friends who met in 1937 at the home of Mrs. D. C. Lamb. Now there are 75 members.

One of the interesting projects is participation in the California Spring Garden Show, combined with flower exhibits and garden tours.

There are no strangers—there are only folks whom you haven't met.

To have a friend, be one.

Pandora Seeks Kids Welfare

The search for homes for blind, deaf and crippled children, as well as for children who are emotionally disturbed and heading for delinquency is the current objective of members of Pandora Chapter of Children's Home Society.

Mrs. C. Glenn Smith

Under the leadership of President Mrs. Glenn Smith, the group currently numbers 35 members. It was formed in 1949 with 35 charter members.

An annual series of book-review teas is sponsored by Pandora and they have proved delightful to those attending as well as financially beneficial to the charitable organization.

Among the objectives of the group is the dedication to "serve the cause of the homeless child . . . and to give these children a chance to live a normal and happy life with adoptive parents."

Los Amigos -- A Group with 100% Record

All 12 families residing on the 500-foot length of Los Amigos are members of the Los Amigos Home Owners Association. In existence only two years, the organization has a 100 per cent record in accomplishment as well as in membership.

Donald M. Anderson

The association obtained county road status for the street. It effected a change of name for the road, which formerly was called Orinda Court. It worked with other groups to prevent undesirable rezoning in the area.

Currently, the Los Amigos Home Owners Association is actively supporting the Orinda Association's fight for proper zoning in the Crossroads area.

Donald M. Anderson has been president for a year and a half. He describes objectives of the organization as:

"TO DEVELOP a unified community spirit among the residents; to promote and support such projects as will enhance and maintain the value of property, so as to develop and maintain a desirable residential district."

The association was incorporated in 1952. This culminated work started as the Orinda Court Improvement Association.

Articles of incorporation were drawn up by Louis D. Barr, who furnishes the goup with any needed legal advice. "Leg work" and correspondence was performed by Clarence A. Palmer, the first president.

ANOTHER STALWART is Fred Fox, representative of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee.

Los Amigos starts at San Pablo Dam Road opposite East Bay Municipal Utility District property north of the Orinda Filter Plant and ends in a turn-around on the hillside west of San Pablo Dam Road.

Park Pool Provides Fun, Activities

There is one group in Orinda with whom everybody associates fun and gaiety, and that is Orinda Park Pool.

The pool provides a setting conducive to development of friendships and many people gather year after year around the pool to renew old friendships and enjoy the pleasant relaxation of a swim and snack.

AND OF COURSE the organized activities are anticipated by all. Each year races and a field day are held with events for members from one year to 80 years of age. Swimming lessons are provided for the youngsters and each year the Park Pool fields a swim team which gives tough competition to such organizations as the Olympic Club and YMCA's.

A new president for the non-profit organization is elected each year, the present president being R. Moore.

IN THE PAST several outstanding swimmers have developed and owe much of their ability to early splashes in Park Pool.

Included in this group are Sally Pedder, Bob Harrison and Olympic swimmer Barbara Stark.

An event eagerly awaited by members is the annual talent night when members "go off the deep end of the pool" to present skits, pantomimes, songs and olio numbers for the entertainment of their fellow members. Outside talent is sometimes imported to provide a full evening of song, skits and dancing.

The group is incorporated.

Jewish Group Works for Good of All

An organization with social interests spurred on by thousands of years of cultural heritage is the League of Jewish Women which meets Monthly at the new Jewish Community Center building in Lafayette.

Mrs. Harold Bloom

Mrs. Harold Bloom, president, commented that the purposes of the club are simply to "promote social activities of members, to take an active part as a group in the life of the community and to further interest and education in Jewish culture and the heritage of Jewish life.

ANNUAL FUND RAISING and social events include fashion shows at Diablo Country Club and the Claremont Hotel, two night performances of The Drunkard, rummage sales, political forums, auctions, folk dances and luncheons.

"Contagious enthusiasm and cooperation are typical of our group," said Mrs. Bloom. "Typical also are the formation and cementing of many friendships, courage in undertaking difficult projects which are turned into successful enterprises, good meeting programs and stimulation of our minds."

A Jewish Sunday School has been organized and operated by the League and a non-sectarian, non-profit day camp was set up recently. As an indication of the group's interest in community and beneficial affairs, the League sponsored and participated in the Red Cross program of supplying refreshments and entertainment at the Camp Stoneman Hospital.

CURRENT OBJECTIVES include fund raising projects for the furnishing and improvement of the Jewish Community Center building (formerly Planter's Dock) and to continue to foster community relations with other civic and religious groups.

The League was started in May of 1951 under the efforts of Mesdames Hannah Learner, Percy Cohen, Robert Robinson and Louis Rapport. The group was started after the Jewich Welfare Federation fund drive disclosed the number of Jewish families in the area.

Starting with 50 charter members, the group now numbers over 115, all active and hard-working.

Work With Dramateurs is Fun for All

One of the primary objectives of the Dramateurs is "to continue having fun with some very nice people —and the more the better," according to President Bruce Winkworth.

Bruce Winkworth

A well established theater group with 10 years experience and 56 members, the Dramateurs always have "something on the fire" that will provide recreation and interest for Orindans interested in the theater.

"WE HAVE given a good many plays," said Winkworth, "but that's expected from a theater group. Our biggest accomplishment is that we have grown to 65 active and hardworking members and have not lost our perspective.

Meetings are held in the Orinda Community Church and everyone is welcome to come and enjoy the efforts of the cast. Dramatic readings, plays "in the round" and singing, dancing and comic skits are included in the regular schedule of events.

"SPIRIT IS the Dramateurs," said Winkworth. That is why they have 65 guys and gals turn out for acting tryouts and why they're still around to help if they're not cast.

"That's why the plays are fun to be in and the barbecues fun to be at . . . and most important, why they've been able to attract one of the best directors in the country."

Cubs Prepare Boys for Scout Work

Hundreds of live-wire young boys between the ages of 8, 9 and 10 are being kept out of mischief these days and being taught some of the finer precepts in life through the Cub Scout organization in Orinda.

Cubbing, a pre-scout experience, teaches boys how to work and play together and prepares them for the later adventure of scouting.

CUB PACK 32, 40 boys, is under the direction of Stanley Hunn, 3 El Verano Road; 211, 43 boys, Don Hutchinson, 77 Van Ripper Lane; 212, 41 boys, Carl Dudley, 1 Claremont Avenue. These three packs are sponsored by the Orinda Lions Club.

Sponsored by the Glorietta Improvement Association is a 55-member pack, 52, under the direction of Ernest Rahmeyer, 49 La Cresta Road. Pack 225, sponsored by a parents committee, has 43 boys and is directed by Edward F. Winthers, 55 Hillcrest Drive.

ANY PARENTS who are interested in Cubbing or who have boys who will soon be of Cub age are invited to get in touch with any Cubmaster and inquire into the program.

John Youmans, Mt. Diablo Council executive, has explained that there is a need for neighborhood commissioners to keep in touch with activities and serve in a liaison capacity with the district office. As the area continues to grow, more Packs will be formed, and more leaders will be needed, so any parents interested in becoming active in the program are invited to investigate it.

There are no strangers—there are only folks whom you haven't met.

Orinda Oaks Is Busy Organization

The Orinda Oaks Association is proud of the fact that it can regularly claim the support of more than 75 per cent of the property owners within its boundaries.

W. O. Brunk

The group was established six years ago and is unincorporated. It now numbers over 50 members under the leadership of President W. O. Brunk.

THE GROUP was formed as a "spontaneous" thing, according to Brunk, under the instigation of Bob Spott, Bruce Howard, Cole Huntly and others.

Among the current objectives the group is working to "counter the downgrading tendency on the part of certain builders and realtors who are trying to promote substandard homes in this area," said Brunk.

"The Orinda Oaks Subdivision is one of the older subdivisions in Orinda (1924) and is divided into generally smaller lots than are now considered adequate for a subdivision area," said Brunk.

"THE TERRAIN is hilly and the roads steep and narrow. This is the factor underlying most of our difficulties in maintaining proper building standards.

"The association is unusual in that everyone works with a will and trouble is always experienced in finding a home large enough to seat all the people who regularly attend the meetings."

Church Women Dedicated to Service of Man

Dedicated to the service of every phase of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church activities is the St. Stephen's Woman's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Robert Bigler

Monthly meetings are held during the school year at members' homes and an annual rummage sale and a bazaar provide funds for the operation of the organization, devoted to human service through the service of the church.

INCLUDED in the accomplishments of the group which numbers 60 active and spirited members, is the purchase of a beautiful Moeller organ for the church.

President Mrs. Robert Bigler explans that the Woman's Auxiliary was organized in 1872 by authority of the General Convention of 1871 in Baltimore. The local chapter was established five years ago.

"MEMBERSHIP IS OPEN TO all women who wish to participate in the church's program and every woman of the church is therefore a potential member," explained Mrs. Bigler.

The next major event will be the bazaar to be held in the church Undercroft on Via Las Cruces. Among the hard wrking members, according to Mrs. Bigler, are Mesdames William Sparling, Arthur Johnson, Ida Zamloch, William Arends, A. C. Hollister, Ben Johnson, David Collamer, H. W. Pillsbury, Walter Christie and many others.

Camera Club Enjoys Good Spirit, Shots

"Good spirit, good fun and good pictures."

This is the essence of the Contra Costa Camera Club which was formed eight years ago for the promotion of photography as a hobby for enthusiasts in the area.

Jim Hokanson

Although the objectives of the club are listed as "to have a good time, relax and work and enjoy good photography" by President Jim Hokanson, the group is not just resting on its laurels.

Past accomments include several awards in the Northern California Council of Camera Clubs competitions. However, meetings are relaxed and many fascinating field trips and activities are planned.

Members recently spent a day on San Francisco Bay trying their hand at shots of sailboats and water scenes. A trip was taken to Pardee Dam with many photogenic possibilities being explored on the way.

"But we're not a group dedicated to routine policies," said Hokanson. "Future barbecues and field trips will depend entirely on where our members want to go and what they want to do."

THE CLUB WAS ORGANIZED in 1946 through the efforts of Wes Rhoades. Meetings were originally held at Acalanes High School, then moved to the Orinda Community Church and are now held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at Las Lomas High School.

Some 50 active and enthusiastic members attend and competitions in both black and white and color are held regularly.

Among the hard working members of the incorporated group are Guy Spencer, Rhoades, Ralph Hubble, Ben Randall, Challis Gore, Ed Nelson C. P. McVicker and Jackson Davis.

Scout Troops Serve Over 400 Girls

The Girl Scout organization served over 400 girls in Orinda last year, and much of the activity took place in intermediate scout troops.

Intermediate troops serve girls in the fifth through eighth grades. There are no senior Girl Scout troops in the community because no high school is located here.

SERVING the Village side of Orinda are Troops 36, Mrs. Channing Kilburn; 198, Mrs. Rosco Hughes and 41, Mrs. Gladys Owen. These are all fifth grade girls.

Sixth grade troops include 128, Mrs. Mary Loveland; 5, Mrs. Margaret Gompertz and 146, Mrs. Gompertz. Seventh grade troops include 32, Mrs. Ruth Fisk, and 86, Mrs. Robert Bolman.

Mrs. W. F. Williams heads the eighth grade Troop 58.

On the Glorietta side of the community, fifth grade troops include 197, Mrs. Margary Regar; 184, Mrs. June Beconcini; 170, Mrs. Ruth Henry and 180, Mrs. Frances Doty.

SIXTH GRADE organizations are

7, Mrs. Betty Campbell; 44, Mrs. Dorothy Hall and several troops in the process of organization.

There will be several seventh grade troops, according to Mrs. Arthur Bowman, Orinda District Commissioner, and a few eighth grade troops on the Glorietta side. The eighth grade troops may combine, however, with the troop on the Village side.

Moraga Meadows Program Active

When delay could have created a serious health menace, the Moraga Meadows Association pushed for installation of sewers in the Moraga Meadows area.

Robert Bettencourt

Roads have been taken into the county road system through the initiative of the association.

Tree - planting and landscaping have been encouraged by the group.

THESE ARE JUST a few of many accomplishments of the Moraga Meadows Association.

President Robert J. Bettencourt points out that the organization is now working for establishment of adequate recreational facilities in Moraga Meadows.

THIS PROGRAM INCLUDES support of the campaign of the Meadow Pool Association for a community swimming pool. Frank Leibold, president of the Meadow Pool Association, is an active member of the Moraga Meadows Association.

Tevis Thompson, another member, is chairman of the Orinda Association's Civic Affairs Committee. The Moraga Meadows Association's "fun" events, including its annual social get-together, are currently under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Chapman, entertainment committee chairmen.

Community Church Numbers 400

Founded in 1939 by about 60 Orinda Protestants, Orinda Community Church today has some 400 members. In 1944 the church became affiliated with the Congregational denomination.

The church buildings are used by many other groups, religious and otherwise, on a non-sectarian basis.

The Rev. Fred R. Morrow is in his 10th year as minister. The first pastor was the Rev. Miles B. Fisher.

COORDINATING the various activities of the church and its affiliated groups and organizations is the Orinda Community Church Council, of which Fred N. Twining is moderator.

The council is composed of all officers, board chairmen of Community Church organizations. Discussion of the many activities carried on by the church and its groups is featured, and policies are often initiated here. Through this agency, cooperation of all age-groups and interests is effected.

IMPORTANT current objectives of the council include improvement of the church service to all of the community, closer tie-in of varied church activities and progress toward building the fourth unit on the church property.

Among Orinda Community Church pioneers are Messrs. and Mesdames Ralph Sisson Lance Barden, Ralph Wilson and others.

A few of the numerous hard-working members are A. W. Reid, W. C. Branch, John Laird, J. C. Pyle, William Penn Mott Jr., Lance and Dorothy Barden, Robert and Marian Brown, Edward J. Turk and Carrie L. Brown.

There are no strangers—there are only folks whom you haven't met.

Let's all get to know all of us.

Acquaint now thyself with him and be at peace: thereby good shall come unto thee. Job 22:21

St. Stephen's Organ, Building Are Outstanding

Among the newest churches in Orinda to construct its own outstanding building is the St. Stephen's Episcopal Church under the direction of the Reverend Charles M. Hill.

Rev. Charles Hill

Located at 12, Via Las Cruces, the beautiful building can be seen nestled among huge Orinda Oak trees.

The $130,000 church and rectory contain the only Moeller Baroque organ on the West Coast and concerts have been held so that the general public might hear the instrument under the hands of an outstanding organist.

The congregation was founded in 1950 with 80 charter members and has grown to more than 450. Each Sunday Holy Communion is served at 8 a.m., a family service is held at 9:30 a.m.; morning prayer is held at 11 a.m. and the youth group meets at 7 p.m.

Walter Eric Christi, James Brown, Fred Evans and James Morris Browning are among the hard working members of the congregation.

Santa Maria Parish Is Expanding

The biggest coming event for the members of the Santa Maria Catholic Church Parish will be the opening of their new church adjacent to Pine Grove on San Pablo Dam Road.

Reverend David Harrington, pastor, expects the new church to be open for services on Christmas Day, but the official dedication will probably not be held until sometime next spring.

IN THE MEANTIME, services are being held in the tiny church near the Orinda Country Club golf course. This building, more than 60 years old, has long been unable to care adequately for the growing parish.

Efforts have been made to have the original quaint structure preserved as a state park, but no results have yet been achieved.

The new church, which was designed by Martin Rist, has been built along Spanish lines in keeping with the general trend in the Orinda area. A social hall is being constructed adjacent to the church and a rectory.

THE NEW CHURCH will be able to accommodate 500 worshippers, and the adjoining social hall will accommodate another 500. It has been designed so that the frame partition which separates the social hall and sanctuary may be removed, if necessary, and 1000 worshippers can be accommodated.

Lutheran Church Grows Rapidly

One of Orinda's newest churches, Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, has grown into an active organization which numbers more than 100 members only a year after its formation.

Rev. Edward Andersen

Under the leadership of Reverend Edward Anderson, the group provides a well-rounded religious life for its members.

E. S. Heckathorn, president of the church council, has watched the group grow from its first glimmerings over two years ago through its rapid maturity during its first year of operation.

The only Lutheran church in Orinda, it numbers among its purposes the provision of "a place of worship for the community as well as the provision of a means of Grace for all who wish to participate in a Christian life."

In addition to regular Sunday services, Sunday School classes are held and a daily vacation Bible school is conducted during August of each year.

New Church Is Active

Perhaps the newest church to be formed is the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church which already counts 165 charter members on its roster.

Incorporated under the San Francisco Presbytery of California Synod, the church officially came into being June 6.

"The members themselves were instrumental in the founding of the church," commented Reverend Carl William Thomas, pastor, who lives at 10 Oak Drive, Orinda.

"AND AS A CHURCH, we have already accomplished much," he continued. "There is really a good spirit among the congregation. We are enjoying constant growth and a varied program. Our Women's Society is active and we have several Women's Bible Discussion Groups.

"The men of the church meet each Wednesday at 6:30 a.m. at El Nido for Bible study and prayer. Neighborhood potluck suppers are held regularly and Wednesday evenings the congregation meets for evening prayer and share fellowship time. We hold a teachers' weekly conference."

Among the important current objectives of the new congregation are the purchase of a lot and the construction of a church. However, such temporal activities are only a part of the active work of the group.

TWO NATIVE missionaries in the Yucatan, Mexico (Mayas), region and partial support of a couple and their family in Beirut, Lebanon, have been underwritten by the church. The present goal is half the budget for missions, half for the local program.

The young organization faced many difficulties at the outset. At first the Sunday School met in various homes. That meant that parents ha dto take each child to a different meeting place, go to their own Sunday School, and then pick up the children after the meeting.

Then the younger children had to be dropped off at the home which served as a nursery so the parents and older children could attend church services.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SERVICES are now being held in Town Hall in Lafayette and the constant growth of the congregation is even now demanding more equipment and space. Church services are held at Park Theater in Lafayette.

Among those who were instrumental in the organization of the church are Messrs. and Mesdames Harry Sommer, Ken Coleman, Vern Frederickson, James Leppard, Howarde Reinheimer, Ralph Hickox, Don Truax, Haakon Johnson, Robert Hampton, Tec Ockels, Earl Glenk and Mark Valory.

Parking District Hearing on Dec. 21

Public hearing on the proposal to establish an Orinda Parking District was scheduled Wednesday by the County Board of Supervisors for 10 a.m. December 21.

In approving a petition of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce that the board adopt an ordinance declaring intention to form Vehicle Parking District No. 1 in Orinda, the supervisors set in motion machinery for the first parking district in the county, Miss Mary A. Smith, assistant clerk of the board, said yesterday.

THE HEARING will be held for the purpose of receiving objections. The board may form the district that day, immediately after the hearing, with the district to become effective 30 days later, Miss Smith explained.

Copies of the ordinance were ordered published, posted and mailed to property owners in the proposed parking district, which would include the Crossroads section on the south and the Village on the north and would extend to Central Contra Costa Sanitary District boundaries on the west.

M. E. KEYSER, E. J. Phair and Horace Breed are being recommended by the chamber as the three parking commissioners, who would serve without pay.

Moves toward establishment of an Orinda Parking District were started by the chamber last summer.

This special "Get Acquainted" edition of The Orinda SUN is being mailed to all residents in Orinda. Marking the start of "Get Acquainted Week" here, this distribution of the paper will, we hope, help us all to know one another better.

To familiarize more readers with The SUN, last week's issue was also distributed to all homes here.

The Orinda SUN's paid circulation is greater, in relation to the community's population, than that of any other weekly newspaper in Northern California.

If you wish to subscribe, send your subscription to the The Orinda SUN, P.O. Box 147, Orinda, or telephone the paper at CLifford 4-4343.

Poll, Steiner Vote First Time

The Chamber of Commerce learned Tuesday that two new citizens had voted for the first time.

Ernie Poll, president of the chamber, and Dr. Charlotte Steiner were the two who initiated themselves at the polls.

Poll announced that "this is something I have been excited about for a long time. I've been studying the 20 propositions very hard . . . Maybe my wife was right about that tax exemption, I'm not sure."

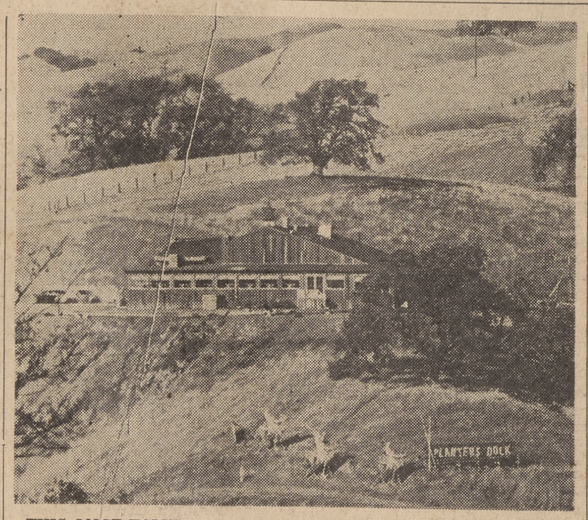
When the laughter had quieted down, Dr. Steiner announced that she had taken her papers out two years ago and that this was the first time she had voted in the United States.

Breuner, Neilson Re-elected to EBMUD Posts

Thomas S. Nielson and Louis J. Breuner both won handily Tuesday in their campaigns for re-election to two chairs on the East Bay Municipal Utility District Board.

In Orinda, Lafayette and Walnut Creek Neilson polled 9038 votes to 4378 for his opponent, Keith Chase-Dunn; Breuner polled 8918 to 3004 for his opponent, George L. Rice.

In Alameda County their margins were much greater; Neilson — 145,950, Chase-Dunn — 45,994; Breuner — 144,442, Rice — 60,007.



THIS ONCE-FAMILIAR SITE in Lafayette, that of the former Planters Dock with its pagan idols along the hillside, has been transformed into the location of the Contra Cosa Jewish Community Center. The pagan idols are gone — two were sold at auction. On Sunday at 2 p. m. open house and dedication ceremonies will be held.

'Big Expense' Unhappily Turns into 'Net Profit'

Jack Buchter, 61 Moraga Highway, is not convinced today that a life on the rolling main is all that it is cracked up to be.

At least he knows that you can always escape from big expense to net profit.

BUCHTER RECENTLY bought a beautiful 34-foot twin screw cabin cruiser, "Big Expense," which was berthed in Balboa. Anticipating a pleasant cruise up the coast, the crew embarked from sunny Balboa on the 400-mile, three-day voyage.

But right from the outset, things just seemed to go wrong, although nobody reported shooting any birds, much less an albatross. They encountered rough and stormy weather, with winds up to 45 miles per hour "that actually wrenched the cabin," Buchter reported.

However, in the best tradition of fearless seafaring men, they survived the battle with the elements and on October 23 sailed into the calm waters of Richmond Channel.

JUST AS THEY were relaxing and congratulating themselves on a successful, if none too pleasant trip, the "Big Expense" hit a submerged object and began to fill with water. Five minutes later she was at the bottom of the channel.

In the meantime the crew wasted no time embarking for the final lap of their voyage in a little dinghy, "Net Profit," and thus arrived high and dry on the banks of the Richmond Channel, but without a boat.

Buchter would only comment wryly that the ship had been raised and is on the way, and "I hope it can be repaired."

C of C Declines to Take Zoning Stand

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday declined to participate in the question of rezoning of East Bay Municipal Utility District property along San Pablo Dam Road.

A motion was unanimously adopted by one of the largest chamber meetings of recent months, declaring "That the Orinda Chamber of Commerce go on record as allowing the zoning of the property sold recently by EBMUD on Orinda Highway to individual purchasers to go through proper channels to its ultimate decision and the chamber abide by such decision."

THE APPROVAL of the motion followed the receipt of a letter from James Hupp, chairman of the Orinda Planning Committee, asking the chamber to adopt that committee's stand on the matter.

Director Clarence Betz offered the motion.

In other action Mrs. Laura Mallary, Orinda postmaster, warned chamber members that absentee ballots and internal revenue tax forms would be returned to the sender if they do not bear sufficient postage, in accordance with the law.

SHE EXPLAINED SOME of the problems of the post office in this respect and pointed out that in this particular case the governmental agencies involved could not pay postage due.

Ramsay Underwood directed the latter half of the meeting and conducted a pro and con discussion on Orinda incorporation. He introduced George Eberhart who adopted the pro side and Clarence Betz who spoke against the move.

Each speaker was allowed 10 minutes. His side of the question did not necessarily reflect his personal views, Underwood pointed out.

The talks were followed by a question and answer peroid.

Hunting Trip

Jack Snow and Supervisor H. L. Cummings recently returned from a hunting trip.

EBMUD Blocks Continuance of Rezoning Hearing

Objection by East Bay Municipal Utility District has prevented continuance to December 16 of the scheduled November 19 Board of Supervisors hearing on proposed Retail Business rezoning of some 25 acres of land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, Miss Mary A. Smith, assistant clerk of the board, reported yesterday.

"The public hearing is still scheduled for 9 a. m. November 19," she said.

Miss Smith said that President Zach Montgomery of the Orinda Association had asked for a continuance and had expressed agreeableness to December 16, a date suggested by Board Chairman H. L. Cummings.

"HOWEVER, when I called EBMUD, the utility district stated it wants the hearing held November 19, since the matter has been pending for so long," she stated.

The County Planning Commission has recommended Retail Business rezoning, to which the Orinda Association strenuously objects.

The assistant clerk reported that Joseph Creighton had phoned regarding the Dr. W. F. Thomas hearing, scheduled for 10 a. m. November 19.

"IF BOTH the association and Dr. Thomas' attorney, Carlisle Nielsen, agree to the continuance, that hearing will probably be continued to December 16," she said.

The Planning Commission has recommended denial of the Dr. Thomas application, which asks Retail Business rezoning for Lot 42 at the corner of Moraga Highway and Southwood Drive.

PREPARATIONS were pushed by the Orinda Association this week for a referendum petition drive throughout the county in case the supervisors uphold the Planning Commission recommendation regarding the land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road between the Village and the Interchange.

The association would have 30 days after an adverse ruling by the board in which to file petitions bearing the required number of valid signatures — equal to 10 per cent of the county voters in Tuesday's gubernatorial election.

If successful, the petition drive would result in halting rezoning and placing the matter before the electorate in a referendum election.

Referendum petitions cannot be circulated until the supervisors have issued their ruling on the rezoning application.

IN PETITIONS now being circulated and signed, hundreds of Orindans are appealing to the supervisors to deny the EBMUD application. These petitions urge establishment of "a new planned unit development."

The Planning Commission received a request this week from James Hupp, chairman of the Orinda Association's Orinda Planning Committee, asking revision of the zoning ordinance to guarantee observance of minimum lot size regulation.

The request stemmed from Gloriette Improvement Association opposition to division of a 1.3-acre lot on Rheem Boulevard into three parcels and to the start of construction on two of the parcels.

Robin Muse Home From Hospital

Robin Muse, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Muse of 8 Camino Encinas, returned home last Friday from Peralta Hospital in Oakland, where he underwent major surgery following a recent auto accident.

His mother reported yesterday that Robin is "doing very nicely." His left foot is still in a cast as a result of an operation performed a month before the auto accident to correct a condition left by his attack of polio a few years ago.

In the auto smashup on October 17 he suffered a skull fracture and other head injuries. He was a passenger in a car driven by Jon Tibbetts, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Reginald Tibbetts of 1 Camino Diablo, Moraga, when the car slammed into an embankment and culvert on Camino Diablo just south of Canton Road.

County Goes G.O.P.; Brown, Baldwin Win

Brown Gets Over 70% of Votes in Central County

Harry A. Brown, a political unknown who lives in Alamo, won the race for County Sheriff Tuesday by 12,000 votes, and, in so doing, brought about one of the biggest political upsets in Contra Costa County's political history.

Sweeping every single precinct in Orinda, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, Gregory Gardens, Alamo and Danville, and 31 out of 32 precincts in Walnut Creek, Brown built up a tremendous lead.

Then he went on to win Pittsburg-Antioch by 1400 votes and run up an unexpected 22,525 votes in Richmond and the west county, the home of his opponent, B. W. Richardson, who led in that area by only 829 votes.

HIS UNOFFICIAL TOTAL is 57,928 to 45,751 for Richardson.

In Orinda he had 73 per cent of the vote for sheriff; in Lafayette 72 per cent in Walnut Creek 70 per cent; in Saranap, 69 per cent; in Gregory Gardens, 67 per cent; and in Pleasant Hill 66 per cent.

While surpassing all pre-election estimates, Brown actually received more votes in Contra Costa than John Baldwin, the successful Congressional candidate, Governor Goodwin Knight, or any other candidate in a key race.

Although Brown ran up enough of a lead in Pitsburg alone to more than compensate for his losses in the whole of Supervisorial District 1, the vote in the south central part of the county gave him victory.

FROM ORINDA to Pleasant Hill to Danville, voters supported Brown at the rate of two, two and one-half and even three to one.

In the one precinct he lost in this whole area, the one in Walnut Creek, the vote was 84 for Richardson and 81 for Brown.

Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, as precinct reports came in, Brown's early lead steadily increased, hour by hour.

Early Wednesday, when his victory was assured, Brown issued a statement from his home in Alamo.

"I WISH TO THANK from the bottom of my heart all the people of Contra Costa County who gave me such a wonderful and overwhelming victory," he said.

"I will do my best to make a clean and honest sheriff," he promised.

Currently on leave from his position as lieutenant of the patrol division of the Sheriff's Department, Brown will take office in January. He is expected to return to work within a week.

Tuesday, Brown polled the largest percentage of votes in his home town, Alamo, where he had 74 per cent.

Baldwin Wins By 1784 Votes, Loses Solano County

John Baldwin, Republican, wrested the Sixth Congressional District seat from Democrat Robert Condon Tuesday in a nip-and-tuck battle in which victory was not assured until Wednesday morning.

Coming from behind, after Condon's early lead, Baldwin ran up 70,930 votes to the incumbents' 69,146.

The margin of victory was gained in Contra Costa County which gave Baldwin a 3472 vote lead. In Solano County, Condon led by 1688 votes.

THE TOTALS by county were as fololws:

CONTRA COSTA:
Baldwin 55,684
Condon 52,212

SOLANO:
Baldwin 15,246
Condon 16,934

As with all Republicans on the ballot, Baldwin's strength came from the central county where he received an 11,401 vote majority, polling 17,322 votes to Condon's 5,921.

Condon won in Supervisorial District 1 (Richmond and the west county) where he polled 26,891 to Baldwin's 21,022. The totals for the central and eastern county are 34,622 for Baldwin and 25,321 for Condon.

A MARTINEZ ATTORNEY, Baldwin ran against Condon two years ago for the Congressionl post from the Sixth District, but was unsuccessful. This year, in the primary in June, he led Condon by about 7500 in popular votes.

Democrat Al Day who sought his party's nomination over Condon in the primary and polled 9569 votes, recently endorsed Baldwin.

Tuesday Baldwin received 1784 votes more than Condon and his victory was assured, despite the fact that there are some 2000 absentee ballots to be counted.

As 933 of the 1609 absentee ballotes from Contra Costa County are Republican, it is certain that Baldwin's lead is sufficient. There are only 403 absentee ballots out from Solano County.

WEDNESDAY BALDWIN SAID, "I'm delighted with the results of the Sixth District race and want to express my thanks to the hundreds of volunteer workers who made our victory possible."

He added, "I want particularly to thank the many thousands of Democrats who joined with the Republicans in my district in casting their ballots for me."

Baldwin's strength in the central county is evident in the figures showing his percentage of the vote.

In Walnut Creek, he received 72 per cent; in Lafayette, 77 per cent; in Orinda, 83 per cent; in Saranap, 73 per cent; Alamo, 76 per cent; Pleasant Hill, 69 per cent; Gregory Gardens, 62 per cent; Moraga 64 per cent, and Canyon, 50 per cent.

Heavy Republican Vote in This Area Swings County

California voted Republican Tuesday and Contra Costa County was in line most of the way, with Republican John Baldwin defeating Democrat Robert Condon for the Sixth Congressional District seat in the top county partisan contest.

When final returns came in early Wednesday, Baldwin was revealed to have a 1784 lead over Condon, a lead safe enough to stand up in the face of some 2000 absentee ballots yet to be counted. (See story on this page.)

THE ONE ASTONISHING upset was the non-partisan race for county sheriff, where Harry Brown, a political unknown, defeated B. W. Richardson of Richmond by a huge 12,000 vote majority.

Otherwise the only surprise was that Contra Costa's traditional Democratic tendency hardly showed in the list of victorious candidates. It was apparent only in the closeness of all key contests, as Democratic candidates for contested state and national offices did better in Contra Costa than in the state as a whole.

Reminiscent of other years was Senate Candidate Sam Yorty's lead in the county over Republican Thomas Kuchel. Kuchel won handily in the state, but Yorty was about 2500 votes ahead in Contra Costa County.

OTHERWISE GOP CANDIDATES led the way here. Governor Goodwin Knight defeated Richard Graves by just under 3000 votes; Lt. Governor Harold Powers won over Edward Roybal by 1000 votes; Secretary of State Frank Jordan defeated Daniel Raeburn by 12,500 votes.

As had been expected, Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle won re-election easily over Democrat Edward Munns in the Tenth District. His lead, according to unofficial totals, was just under 15,000.

Heated contests and heavy precinct work brought out the vote. Over 110,000 of 158,667 registered voters went to the polls for a better than 70 per cent turn-out.

The Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill area gave Republican candidates the heavy margin which enabled all but Kuchel to win, in the county, despite the heavy Democratic vote in industrial sections.

FOR EXAMPLE, Baldwin built up an 11,401 vote lead here; Knight had a 9323 lead; Powers a 9960 lead.

Jordan was the only exception, winning enough votes elsewhere in the county to lead on that basis alone.

Kuchel, despite a 9917 vote margin in the south central county, was unable to top Yorty in the county totals.

ALL IN ALL, the tallies reveal a growing Republican strength in the area between Orinda, Pleasant Hill and Danville, with virtually every precinct going for GOP candidates two-to-one or better.

The only "maverick" precinct in our area was in out-of-the-way Canyon which voted Democratic. Even in Canyon, however, Condon could not defeat Baldwin, the vote being an even-up 41 for each.

Following what are now well-established patterns, Orinda showed the strongest Republican vote; there GOP candidates received as much as 84 per cent of the vote.

LAFAYETTE WAS a close second, with as much as 80 per cent of the vote going Republican. Alamo had as much as 77 per cent; Saranap, 74 per cent; Walnut Creek and Moraga, 73 per cent; Pleasant Hill, 66 per cent, and Gregory Gardens, 62 per cent.

In these communities as a whole, Doyle took 76 per cent of the vote for Assembly; Baldwin took 74 per cent of the vote for Congress; Knight took 69 per cent of the vote for Governor.

In Lafayette, Graves' home town, Knight took 68 per cent of the vote to lead by 1806 votes.

Unofficial totals for the county-wide vote in key races are as follows.

GOVERNOR:
Knight 57,302
Graves 54,358

LT. GOVERNOR:
Powers 55,410
Roybal 54,413

Orinda Will Pay Berkeley for Teaching Pupils

The Orinda School District will pay the Berkeley School District approximately $3000 per year for the education of some 65 students living in the Park Hills area, trustees agreed Monday night.

The Park Hills area is a development in Contra Costa County just this side of the Berkeley city limits and east of Grizzly Peak Boulevard.

Trustees agreed to the four year pact, providing it is approved by County Superintendent of Schools B. O. Wilson. They also suggested that the area where the children live be annexed to the Berkeley School District, pointing out that this can be done even if the city boundaries are not changed in the annexation.

ACCORDING TO THE agreement Orinda will pay Berkeley the cost of teaching children from kindergarten through the sixth grade, less per capita funds derived from the state for average daily attendance, etc.

"Berkeley has been educating the people up there for nothing," said Orinda Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff, "and it got to the point where it was crowding their schools and costing them money.

"The Berkeley board wanted to be reimbursed which is only right. The law says we have to pay for seventh and eigt graders which they have been taking care of and we have been doing so for years, but there is no stipulation for younger children.

"THE ACTUAL COST of educating the children is about $22,000, but they will get back about $12,000 from the state. It won't cost us that much, though, because we still derive taxes from the Park Hills area. The net cost will be about $3000 and that is a lot cheaper than having to run two busses up there."

In other action trustees held up the calling of bids for the new Pine Grove School because plans are still being studied by the State Department of Finance. Bids were to be advertised Monday and opened November 15.

"It will be postponed for about a month, probably," said Sheaff. "We still hope to have the school open and operating by next fall."

Bond Sales Set For New Roads

Sections of San Pablo Dam Road and Pleasant Hill Road are included in construction to be financed with $2,450,000 worth of Contra Costa County Higway Bonds, Victor W. Sauer, highway commissioner, has reported.

Then bonds, a portion of the $10,250,000 issue approved by the voters in 1952, will be sold by the Board of Supervisors November 23. Their sale will bring the total outstanding to $6,500,000.

Also included in proposed construction to be paid by the new issue are sections of the Martinez Avon Road, Crockett cutoff, Buchanan Road, Sommersville Road, Kirker Pass Road and Third Street in Pittsburg.

Christmas Carol Festival Slated For December 17

Letters are in the mail to church groups and civic organizations in the Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and Concord areas regarding the second annual Christmas Carol Festival to be held on December 17 in the Acalanes High School auditorium.

The festival was originated last year by the Mt. Diablo Area Junior Chamber of Commerce and was an immediate success. It is felt by Jaycee committee members that this years' event will be larger and better.

ENTRIES ARE INVITED from any choral group in any age classification, and any type of Christmas music will be encouraged. Those groups not receiving mailed invitation are requested to call John Kennedy at AT 3-2382.

The Christmas Carol Festival is in the nature of a music pageant and is in no sense a contest. The program is being sponsored in the best Jaycee tradition of encouraging good fellowship and human relations, according to Sam Mason of Lafayette, chairman of the festival committee.

It is expected that many distinguished guests will be invited, including state and national officials of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

MASON SAID that much interest had been shown by the larger organizations and that the festival plan was being used by other Jaycee groups.

Members of the Chdistmas Carol Festival committee are Sam Mason, John Kennedy and Hans Beetz of Lafayette, Phil Angell of Orinda, George Yorg of Walnut Creek and Ed Bjornestad and Bob Hickey of Pleasant Hill.

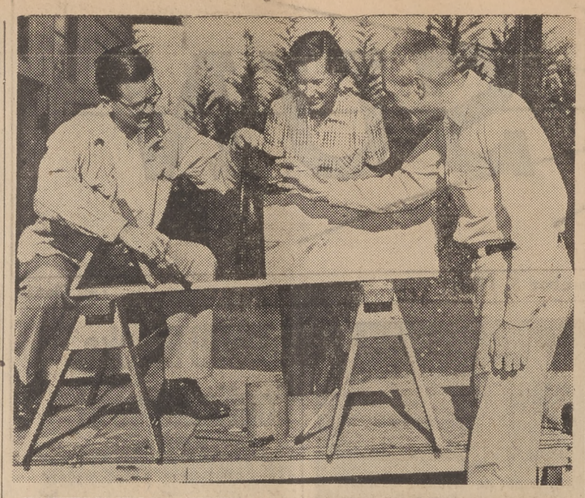
Tibbetts, 1 Camino Pablo, Moraga, and Miss Patricia White, daughter of Mr. Stanley B. White, 177 Moraga Highway.



FATHERS' WORK NIGHT at Orinda Nursery School, an annual event in which dads hammer, saw, paint and perform various other necessary tasks, will be held Wednesday. Nursery School Dads Will Fix, Paint, Rehabilitate Fathers' work night at the Orinda cooperative nursery school has a reputation for being an evening of considerable levity and informality as well as for accomplishing a multitude of major and minor projects.

Once a year the dads are drafted for this event, scheduled next Wednesday night at the Orinda Community Church, to repair, paint and generally restore the nursery school equipment.

A MAJOR PROJECT will be the construction of a piano (toy, that is), a carpenter's bench, a stove for the housekeeping corner and bookcases, according to Mrs. R. L. Klemmedson, who is in charge of maintenance. Assisting Mrs. Klemmedson in planning the work night is Mrs. Willard Simon.

Everyone is requested to come dressed in old painty work clothes unless they wish to don a pint-sized apron for the evening's activities, and to bring their favorite paint brush, paint rags and empty coffee cans.

FESTIVITIES OFFICIALLY begin at 6 p.m. when a potluck supper will be served to fortify the workers for the activities to follow. In charge of the supper will be Mrs. Elbert Wayne, assisted by Mesdames Roger Olson, I. A. Moreskine, John E. Pearson, Welton Smith, W. E. Patton, Jack Kramer Peter Ponting and Ralph Hill.

Nursery school will be closed Thursday, November 11, Veterans Day, which conveniently allows a day for the newly painted equipment to dry before the kiddies start tearing it apart again.

Go to Church Sunday

Episcopal

For greater efficiency and to provide more individual attention for the large enrollment of Anglican youngsters of this area, the Sunday school of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will be divided into two sessions each Sunday morning beginning this week, according to Captain H. W. Pillsbury, superintendent of the church school of the Orinda mission.

CHILDREN age four through eighth grade age will attend classes at 9:30 and 11 a.m. in the undercroft of the new church on Via Las Cruces in the Charles Hill area of Orinda, simultaneously with the two later morning services held each Sunday at St. Stephen's. Regular Holy Communion service is held at 8 a.m. each Sunday morning.

Instructors at the 9:30 session will be: four-year-olds, Mrs. Walter Barnett and Mrs. Yates Bleuell; kindergarten, Mrs. Jack Rands and Mrs. William Thurston; first grade, Mrs. C. J. Woodard; second grade, Mrs. James B. DuPuis and Miss Linda St. Hill; third grade, Mrs. Fred Lincoln; fourth grade, Fred Lincoln Jr. and Jim Hill; fifth grade, Mrs. Walter Christie; sixth and seventh grade boys, Fred Lincoln Sr.; sixth and seventh grade girls, Mrs. Charles Hill; eighth grade, William Platt and Ralph Hill.

INSTRUCTORS AT THE 11 a.m. session include: four-year-olds and kindergarten, Mrs. Richard Fayram; first grade, Chuck Gompertz; second grade, unassigned at present; third grade, Mrs. P. H. Oyer; fourth grade, unassigned at present, but Mrs. Fred Evans will serve as substitute this week; fifth grade, Miss Marilyn Morehouse; sixth, seventh and eighth, James Buxton.

Mrs. Roger Olson has volunteered her services, but as yet has not been assigned a class on a permanent basis.

Community

The theme "Well Done" will keynote the two services of Orinda Community Church Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday. The Rev. Fred R. Morrow, the minister, and youth director, Ray L. Welles, serve as worship leaders.

Organists are Marena Hewitt and Daniel Popovich. At the later hour the full chapel choir will sing two Bach Chorales, "And Grant Me, Lord, to Do" and "O God, My Life, in Mercy Shine on Me."

A full schedule of departmental and graded class instruction is carried on at 9:30, and again through age 9 at 11, under Superintendent Everett Howe.

Interest groups led by parents are being conducted in connection with the 5:30 junior high Fellowship, and at 6:45 Welles will lead an informational study for high school age young people on Protestantism and Roman Catholicism, in a series on "Our Faith and Others."

Mormon

Of special interest to students of religion will be a debate in which Thomas Stuart Ferguson, president of the Orinda Branch of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon), has been invited by the pastor of the Church of Christ in Oakland, to defend his principles and beliefs on the three following topics, in which Mr. Ferguson will take the affirmative stand:

Sessions 1-4: That the Book of Mormon is an authentic history of ancient Mexico and Central America, brought forth by the power of God.

Session 5: That the doctrine "Baptism for the dead" as practiced today by the Mormons, was practiced by early Christians, and it is in harmony with the Bible.

Session 6: That the Kingdom of God was not on this earth between the period 421 A.D. to 1830 A.D.

Session 7: A summary of the three topics debated.

This debate will be held from Monday to Sunday, November 14, inclusive, at 8 o'clock each weekday evening at the Church of Christ, 2808 35th, Oakland, and is open to the public. The last session, on Sunday, November 14, will begin at 2 p.m.

Presbyterian

"Opening Doors—How to Receive Everything from God" is the sermon topic for the Sunday service of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church. This is the third in a series by the pastor, Reverend W. Carl Thomas, on "How to Experience the Power of God."

Sunday services are held in the Park Theater at 11 a.m. and Sunday School from beginners through high school meets in the Lafayette Town Hall at 9:40 a.m. An adult Bible class meets in the Park Theater at the same hour. A nursery is provided at Town Hall during the 11 o'clock service.

Young people meet Sunday evenings at 6:30. All high and junior high schoolers are welcome.

High schoolers meet at the Mark Valory home, 3812 Happy Valley Road, Lafayette. Junior High Gang at the Truax home, 14 Woodland Road, Orinda.

Women's Bible class: Tuesday at 9 a.m. at the Shillito home 45 Claremont Drive, Orinda; and Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Edmunds', 14 Tara Road, Orinda.

Women's Prayer Group: Thursday morning at the Haakon Johnson home, 3323 Sweet Drive, Lafayette.

Family Night: Wednesday, 7:30 at the Orinda Community Church. Singing, sharing, discussion and prayer. Church School Teachers' Conference follows at 8:45 p.m.

Lutheran

E. S. Heckathorn, owner and manager of the United Chemical Manufacturing Company in Richmond and president of the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church, 294 Orchard Road, will be the guest speaker at the three Sunday School worship services between 9:30 and 10:30 Sunday. He will speak on the topic "Church Discipline."

Holy Communion will be celebrated at the 8 and 11 o'clock worship services as the pastor, the Rev. Edward R. Andersen, speaks on the topic, "Be Strong in the Lord."

This service is being held in anticipation and preparation for Loyalty Sunday, November 14. This day is the first anniversary of the organization of this church, so it is both fitting and right that the members of the congregation be given the opportunity to express their willingness to give in the year 1955.

The individual expression of the members will be received at the altar during the service.

Conscience Is Final Authority, Rev. Morrow Says

That individual conscience is the final authority for decission in vocational and public life was the conclusion drawn by the Rev. Fred Morrow in an election Sunday sermon at Orinda Community Church.

Speaking on "The Single Voice," Mr. Morrow cited the testimony of Martin Luther before the Diet of Worms that "it is neither safe nor expedient to act against conscience." He said that an informed mind and competent reasoning are necessary to insure against fanaticism in personal conviction.

"Too many mistakes and crimes," he told the congregation, "are done in the name of conscience by people who take their own opinions too seriously. In real life, where issues are seldom absolutely clear-cut, what can any of us do but listen the best we can, know as much as we can and decide the best we can?"

THE DILEMMA facing the leader of a church, Mr. Morrow said in a separate prepared statement of his personal position, is that he has a certain representative responsibility and cannot commit a congregation itself politically divided. Yet he must speak and act conscientiously as a citizen. The jist of his statement is as follows:

"I have not exercised, do not and will not exercise, if I can help it, the minister of a church on behalf of any candidate for office," Mr. Morrow stated. "Please do not ask me to go for, endorse or commit myself publicily for a candidate.

"BUT AS AN INDIVIDUAL and a citizen, I certainly have definite political convictions that I try to hold humbly, but firmly. God — no other — being my judge. I do not want either to flaunt or to conceal these convictions. I am willing to discuss them privately with anyone."

Breakfast Club Has New Meeting Place

The Experimenter's Breakfast Club, a group of Lafayette and Orinda businessmen, has changed its meeting place to Pland's Restaurant, Broadway and MacArthur, Oakland. The weekly breakfasts will be held on Thursdays from 6:45 to 7:45 a.m.

"To win the day, begin the day with God" is the motto of the club. All men in the area are invited to attend.

Scout Salute . .

Brownie Work

Brownie Troop 2 under the leadership of Mrs. Charles Curier and Mrs. Ralph Schneider have had some interesting projects this fall.

Susan Bonds, Nancy Brailsford, Jan Curier, Sandy Buehler, Susen Fernsten, Wendy Minor, Carrol Nelson, Janice Schneider, Roxy Smith, Christina Walstrom, Kay Williams, Julie Winkworth, and Eleanor Visco had a Halloween party November 28. The leaders surprised the girls with cider and donuts and a proper spooky atmosphere, and the girls made jack-o-lanterns from oranges with poster paint faces.

Mrs. William Brailsford, Mrs. Maynard Muehler and Mrs. Marvin Bonds took the troop into Oakland ti visit Snow Museum. The Brownies also toured Borden's Creamery with Mrs. Ernest Fernsten and Mrs. J. Walstrom.

Mrs. Currier will keep her troop busy from now until Thanksgiving making tray favors out of bean bags for Weimar Sanitarium.

Weimar Work

Cub Scout Pack 32 will meet tonight at Orinda School auditorium and will start work on funds and toys for Weimar Sanitarium Christmas gifts. Each cub is responsible for earning his share of the funds and will raid his own toy box for suitable toys to send to the children there.

Cubmaster Stan Hunn will hand out awards to the following boys:

Steven Botjer, Mark Rassmussen, Steve Thamen, Tim Thompson, Fred Neighbor, Bill Stuart, John Butler, Dwight Smith, Jeff Knudsen, Don Woodcock, Larry Hunn, Bill Schwark, Jim Rose, Ricky Collins and Grigg DeWitt.

Robert Lester is a new transfer from Berkeley and five new Bobcats Michael Cullen, Michael Federighi, Wally Glasser, William Holmes and Jimmy Lawrie, will be welcomed into the pack.

Cookie Time

Girls and mothers of Girl Scout Troop 128 were quite busy the past week. With six cooperating mothers, the girls made 40 dozen cookies, which were delivered on Monday to the children at Weimar Sanitarium, as a Halloween treat.

The girls are working on their cooking badges, and couldn't think of a nicer gesture than to remember the less fortunate children.

On Monday, being a school holiday, Mrs. Mary Loveland, Troop Leader, and her two assistants, Mrs. Elaine Pardini and Mrs. Dan Lucas, took the girls out to Tilden Park, where they built their own fire and cooked their own hot planned lunch, including dessert.

At present there are 19 girls in Troop 128. The girls meet every Tuesday at the Scout House under the supervision of the three leaders.

Clark's Visitors Happy with Gifts

When Clark's Moraga Center opened, hundreds of people from all over the area flocked to the new modern store, and many of them are the happier for receiving lovely gifts.

Especially pleased was Mrs. William Traverso, 11 Richard Court, Orinda, who came home with a miniature Welsh horse. This was quite appropriate for the Traversos already have one horse and were delighted to gain another.

COMPLETELY HAPPY with a new Rheem Wedgewood range is J. E. Rauch of 105 Meadow View, Orinda and Mrs. K. Renwick, 10 Bobolink Road, Orinda and Mrs. A. Marion of Oakland are the proud owners of new Necchi sewing machines.

Other winners include Mesdames G. A. MacNeill, Isabit Smith, Ida B. Burnell, M. Colwell, John F. Lamb, Lyn Andersen, Katherine Buchler, Paul Holmes, Fred Rucci, C. F. Day, Edward Burton, Hanna Fong, Leonard C. Brown, Nancy Lombardi, S. Mansonen, Eleanor Hansen, F. E. Calder and G. R. Peterson.

Also, winners included Messrs. Paul Holmes, W. P. Goffeney, Vernon Kerns, H. Seegall, Berney, Castro and R. P. Rowell.

Other winners were Mesdames Peter Kyhn, R. A. Peterson, L. E. Townsend, Helen Samuelson, Janet MacCarty, A. E. Potter, Alma Wilson, Ed Gloria, Eve Wirth, W. T. Cline, Elizabeth Burke, J. Walling and H. McHale.

AMONG THE MEN going home the wealthier were G. Greenwood, Cliff Mankins, L. Davies, C. T. Fisher, Wilson McArthur, F. M. Fowkes, Bert Smith, Alfred Berney, H. Collins, D. Pennie and M. R. Williams.

More awards to be presented this month include a Rheem Wedgewood clothes dryer tomorrow, a Rheem Coppermatic hot water heater November 13 and a Rheem Wedgewood automatic gas range November 20, as well as many smaller awards including electric clocks, can openers, flashlights and barbecue grills.

Crusade Reported Over the Top in Many Local Areas

Early reports of the United Crusade drive in local residential areas are encouraging, according to Fitch Robertson, Diablo Valley Fund Chairman.

Under the leadership of Mrs. William Ferguson, Vessing Road, more than 250 women of the Pleasant Hill area have raised $1698.10 or 169 per cent of the quota and were the first to make a complete report.

A later report from the north side of Orinda discloses that Mrs. William Beckett's group of fifty women have raised $1,911.75 or 191 per cent of quota and hope to raise well over $2000.

MRS. ROBERT WOODS reported that the Glorietta side of Orinda had collected $1101.95 which represents 110 per cent of the area's goal.

The residential drives of Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Danville are incomplete and have not been tabulated.

"It is to the credit of the enthusiastic women in the Residential Division that the Diablo Valley area is 72.1 per cent of quota and leads all East Bay communities," Robertson stated.

"We now have over $5100 reported for residential in all of our areas where workers are ringing doorbells with persistence and will continue to do so until everybody has been contacted," he said.

CHARLES GABLE, Commerce and Industry Chairman reports continuing returns from his group and cited the employees of Sears-Roebuck Company for an outstanding job, having matched last year's donations of $414.75 with all employees participating.

Kaiser Hospital employees have contributed $324.25 this year, far exceeding last year's achievement.

"There are still quite a few firms to be heard from," Gable concluded, "but my committeemen are not going to stop until all firms have been covered."

Robertson continued to praise the work being done in the Education Department, particularly the Mt. Diablo Unified School District which is now over $6000 and has made 90.2 per cent of quota.

"I feel confident," he said, "that the Diablo Valley schools will do equally well. We have now raised $14,111.00 or 30 per cent of our goal in the Diablo Valley area," Robertson concluded.

DR. LEE WINTERS of Pleasant Hill who is representing the Pleasant Hill District Business as Chairman for the United Crusade, has also undertaken the solicitation of the dentists of Central Contra Costa County through the Contra Costa Dental Society. He plans to contact 62 dentists in the area.

Carl Noecker, Chairman of the Contra Costa Bar Association is contacting the Walnut Creek attorneys for their contributions. The attorneys were handled in Martinez by George Gordon and in Concord by David Wilson.

Mail in Your Crusade Dollars

If a United Crusade volunteer failed to call at your home, please send in your contribution; it is needed, crusade officials urged this week.

The number of workers is about half that necessary to contact every business and home in the area, officials explained in making the request.

To contribute, a check should be made out to "United Crusade" and mailed to the local campaign at 2363 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Walnut Creek.

New Building of Jewish Community Center Will Be Dedicated on Sunday

Open house will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday to dedicate the new building of the Central Contra Costa Jewish Community Center in Lafayette.

The new center is housed in what was the former Planter's Dock restaurant.

Much work, time and money have gone into the new center on the part of its members to bring about what today is a truly fine building providing first class facilities for the holding of religious, cultural, social and educational activities.

THIS BRINGS TO fulfillment a long felt need by the Jewish population of Central Contra Costa County for a home of their own.

The center was formed two years ago and since then, through the aid of loans, money raising functions, members dues' and pledges, it has been possible not only to purchase the building and adjoining land but also to extensively remodel the main floor, which has an area of 6500 square feet. This remodeling has provided classrooms for Sunday school, accommodation for religious services, and other activities, including the addition of a large, modern kitchen.

Center membership tody includes 125 families. There were 25 families two years ago.

The formation of the center was initiated and encouraged by the efforts of the League of Jewish Women, which today still plays a major role in support of the center, particularly financial support through the league's own money-raising functions.

SUNDAY SCHOOL is a vital part of the center activities and now has an enrollment of 150 pupils, eight teachers and a principal, Fred Katzburg. Many local, civic and religious leaders have been invited to attend the dedication ceremony. The opening address will be given by the center president, David Zuckerman. Benediction will be given by Rabbi William Stern of Temple Sinai, Oakland. Harry Sapper, executive director of the Jewish Welfare Federation of the East Bay, will also speak. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Norman Danieko, will perform throughout the ceremony. Other dignitaries, both Jewish and non-Jewish, have been asked to speak on this occasion.

To mark this auspicioussness occasion and to assist the building fund, the center is publishing a dedication journal to which many local and Bay Area merchants and professional men have contributed. The journal will be distributed at the open house and at the dedication dinner and dance at the center on November 16.

The dedication dinner and dance is to be a gala affair, all profits to go to the building fund. First class entertainment will be given, including the magic of Jay Bedsworth of Tunnel Inn, who is also catering the dinner. Dancing will be to a top-name orchestra. Cocktails will be at 6:30 p.m., dinner at 3, and tickets $20 per couple. For reservations call Mrs. Sam Wiseman, AT 4-4377 or Mrs. M. Kreisman, YE 4-4131.

Popular Comedy Dancers Perform Tomorrow Night

Acalanes Community Concert Association tomorrow night presents Mata and Hari, comedy dancers, longtime concert favorites and now one of televisions top dance attractions, at Acalanes High School auditorium.

The program, to start at 8:15, is the second in this season's Community Concert series.

These popular satirists were both born in the same suburb of Zurich, Switzerland, went to the same schools and studied dancing with the same teachers, yet never met until they were established professional dancers in the same ballet company. They didn't become man and wife until after they came to this country with that troupe for the first time in 1939.

WHEN THE company disbanded in 1940, all its other members decided to return to Europe. Mata and Hari alone remained in America. They put together a recital program of their own, presented it for the first time 10 years ago in New York.

In 1947 they began to tour extensively in concerts; they now devote about six months a year to their national tours. The rest of the time they divide between television and personal appearances in theaters.

MATA AND HARI and their company travel to their concerts in their own converted overland bus. In New York they have an apartment within sight of Carnegie Hall, where they often appear.

As satirists and mimes, Mata and Hari lead the dance field. They spoof the ballet, the sports newsreel, the rarefied precincts of Carnegie Hall, the circus, modern art and the nightclubs.

Harriet Guthrie Heads Association

Harriet Guthrie of Orinda, a sophomore at East Contra Costa Junior College, heads the Women's Recreation Association for a second term as a result of recent elections.

Among the 49 members of the association are Katherine Manning of Lafayette, Marilyn Atkinson, Elizabeth Jansse and Judy Rounds of Orinda, Patrick Funk of Pleasant Hill and Gay Douglass, Barbara Jones, Nancy Orr, Lee Rohn and Gail Snow of Walnut Creek.

GOC to Hear Of Air Power

Major Carl J. Roeser, USAF, will address the local Gound Observer Corps on "Air Power and World Affairs," Wednesday, at 8 p.m. at the 9441 Air Reserve Training Center, 2040 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Walnut Creek.

The public is cordially invited to attend, according to Mrs. Isabelle Salisbury, supervisor of the Lafayette Ground Observer Corps post, serving the Orinda-to-Walnut Creek area. Major Roeser's talk is the last of a series of four, on the general theme of national defense, sponsored by the local post.

"Air Power and World Affairs" will be a discussion of the function and operation of the U. S. Air Force in its present role in world problems, pointing out the unique situation created in our democracy by the size and importance of our military might.

Major Roeser, associate professor at the University of California's Department of Air Science, is also engaged in graduate work in international relations at the university.

Further information on the work being done by volunteers of the Ground Observer Corps may be obtained by calling Mrs. Salisbury at Atlantic 3-2691.

Jaycees Enjoy Halloween Fling

The home of the Art Bartoleros in Upper Happy Valley, Lafayette, was the scene of a very successful and entertaining masquerade party last Friday evening given by the Mt. Diablo Area Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Bartolero and his lovely wife Rena acted as hosts and were ably assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyles.

Sixteen couples attended in various costume and were either charmed or horrified by the appearance of their friends. Prizes for the best costumes were won by Mrs. Jack Hansen who arrived as a genteel lady of long ago, and the men's prize was won by Bill Palmer who threw a real Halloween fear into all present by showing up as a dead beachcomber.

He was completely adorned, even to the knife which penetrated his chest.

Those who attended were Messrs. and Mesdames Robert Hickey, James Dana, Hans Beetz, Thomas Taylor, Edward Lindberg, John Kennedy, William Langan, Howard Koch, Richard Emory, George Yorg, John Hansen, Art Bartolero, Robert Boyles, William Palmer, Ken Wheeler and Ted Barcelon.

It costs you at least $2.50 extra when you go through the tunnel to shop. Save at home!

Schools Closed Next Thursday

High schools and grammar schools in this area, as well as East Contra Costa Junior College, will be closed Thursday in observance of Veterans Day, formerly called Armistice Day.

Doyle, Hartman Gratified Over Freeway Budget

"Naturally, I'm pleased that Contra Costa County has received such a large allocation from the California Highway Commission and that most of the money goes for the Diablo Freeway," Assemblyman Donald Doyle said yesterday of the record $11,123,000 allocation to this county in the 1955-56 commission budget.

"I think the reason Contra Costa County and this area have been so fortunate is the time and effort spent in presenting our case to the commission by groups and individuals," he continued.

"The Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, Walnut Creek leaders, the Contra Costa County Development Association, the County Board of Supervisors and the newspapers have all been with us in this matter.

"FROM WALNUT CREEK, City Attorney John Nejedly, Mayor E. C. Counter, City Council members and Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce officials, including Secretary-Manager Vance Perry, have joined in our efforts."

Doyle and Elliot Hartman, director and past chairman of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation, expressed the hope that the commission will continue its practice of alternating major allocations for this county between the Central Contra Costa County area and the Highway 40 area, so that Walnut Creek By-Pass could be budgeted two years from now.

Hartman also stated he hopes that the freeway section to connect Orinda Interchange with Lafayette By-Pass will be provided for in the budget two years hence.

DOYLE, who two months ago led an area delegation to Sacramento to urge the Highway Commission to allocate funds for the Diablo Freeway, said he has written Frank B. Durkee, state director of public works and chairman of the Highway Commission, thanking him and the commission "for their consideration in helping us with this highway problem."

The assemblyman stated he wrote to Gov. Goodwin Knight in September regarding the urgency of Contra Costa's highway problem and that the governor replied that he had presented the facts as he knew them to the commission.

"The credit for getting this money should go to those who worked so hard with the commission and other interested groups, in letting them know the seriousness of our problems," Doyle stated.

"I believe that another factor behind the $11,123,000 allocation is that Contra Costa County is one of the few counties in the state that have bonded themselves for county roads."

HARTMAN SAID:

"After no funds for many years, this area received the Orinda Interchange allocation two years ago and now it receives the allocation for Lafayette By-Pass, Pleasant Hill Road interchange and the Walnut Creek-to-Monument stretch.

"The directors of the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation are extremely pleased with the size of the 1955-56 alocation. It indicates that two years from now the commission may budget funds for completion of the Orinda-to-Concord freeway."

During his two years as federation chairman, Hartman was active in pressing for budgeting of funds for the Diablo Freeway. As a director during the past year he has worked with Chairman Charles Nelson and other board members for the same objective.

Doyle observed:

"MY POSITION on the extra half-cent gasoline tax which is scheduled to end by July, 1955, is that it must be continued by legislation, because of the deficiencies in the state highway building program."

"BE THANKFUL YOU CAN SEE" SEALS are being mailed by Lions Clubs throughout this area. Children's Play To Inaugurate Season Tomorrow

East Bay Children's Theater will present its first play of the season, "Four Musicians of Bremem" at Acalanes High School, tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Elliot Johnson Jr. has adapted the play from Grimm's Fairy Tales. The cast consists of volunteers and members of the East Bay Children's Theater and it has been under the direction of Mrs. Brent Abel of Berkeley.

DURING THE 1954-55 season the following plays will also be presented at Acalanes High School: "The Clown who Ran Away," directed by Florence Schwimley, "Cinderella," directed by Samuel Levine, and "The Steadfast Tin Soldier," directed by James Harran.

Ushers at tomorrow's performance will be Mesdames Frank Buck of Alamo, Donald McVean, J. G. Jensen, Howard Rudiger, Martin Manders and R. N. Maddux of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Stanley Bradshaw of Martinez.

UNDER THE chairmanship of Mrs. Will Hall the following school representitives in Lafayette have assisted with the annual season ticket sale: Mrs. Murray Johnson, Mrs. J. R. Eyman and Mrs. H. B. Bellmer.

The box office will open at 1:30 pm. and season tickets may be purchased for $2 at that time, as well as single admission tickets.

Girl Scouts of Mrs. Johanick's intermediate troop at Walnut Creek Grammar School will assist the ushers tomorrow in handling the children during and after the performance. Traffic will be directed by boys of the Walnut Creek Grammar School Traffic Squad under Mr. Holliday.

Music Teachers Presented Pins

At a recent meeting of the Contra Costa Branch of the Music Teacher's Association, two past president, Mrs. Nellie Alexander and Miss Virginia Blair, were presented with presidents pins in acknowledgement of their fine work while in office.

Mrs. Alexander was founder of the branch in 1949 when there were 10 members. The organization has now grown to 35 members.

Clara King Floyd, president, when presenting the pin to Mrs. Alexander, said: "The founder of the group, alone, has the vision to see a worthwhile endeavor, the will to have a worthwhile organization."

And to Miss Blair she expressed appreciation for fine leadership.

Fluoridation is Backed by PTA

The Buena Vista School PTA last week endorsed fluoridation of the water supply and called upon East Bay Municipal Utility District and others concerned to bring about fluoridation without delay.

Signers of the resolution of endorsement included President Mrs. Robert Carter, Secretary Irene E. Harber and Treasurer Barbara Lindsay, as well as Max Fisher, principal of Buena Vista School and a vice president of the PTA.

Whereases listed in the resolution include the following statements: Dental disease is almost universal among our people; it has been demonstrated that dental decay can be prevented by as much as 65 per cent through fluoridation of the water supply.

Others are these: The cost of dental care will be reduced proportionately; fluoridation is now in its tenth year as a public health measure; water fluoridation is endorsed by numerous health offices and services.

Dramateurs Now Doing Williams' Play in Orinda

At 8:30 last evening the curtain rose on the Dramateurs' first presentation of Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke," directed by Carl Rasmussen.

There will be a repeat performance in the Orinda School Auditorium tomorrow night at the same time.

Next Friday night and on Saturday night, November 13 the play will be presented at the Berkeley High School Little Theater, at 8:30 each night.

TICKETS ARE available at the door on the nights of the performances, at Hinks Library, Berkeley, or by phoning CLifford 4-5517.

In the cast from Orinda are four of the younger generation: Hester Harris, Laurie Chapple, Sharon Gillespie and Jimmy Gibbs.

ADULTS in the cast from Orinda are Wirtable Harris, Charles Scott, Patricia Winkworth and Alfred Floyd. From Oakland are Jewel Scheeline, Jeanine Kenyon, Stan Wiggin and Simonne Sherri. From Walnut Creek comes Jack Holder.

The beautiful rendtion of the song "La Golondrina" and the hymn from off stage is accredited to Bunny Faulconer of Berkeley.

Please write us news about your family, friends, clubs and interesting events. If you see something important, call at once.

Camp Fire Girls Unit Seeking Men

"Make it a Family Affair" is the plea of the Diablo Valley Camp Fire Girls Council as it appeals for more adult volunteers, especially men, in its 1954 Membership March. The Campaign, which began September 15, extends through November 30.

The Camp Fire organization needs both men and women—women to become leaders, guardians, advisers, sponsore and committee members, and men to serve as sponsors, committee and board members, spokesmen said.

"MEN MAY BE STARTLED" at the suggestion that they become members of the Camp Fire Girls," President Dick Rockwell said. "But actually they play a very important part in the Camp Fire program because of its emphasis on home and family life."

Pointing out that almost 50 per cent of local council presidents are men, he contined:

"There are businessmen, educators, doctors, lawyers, clergymen, farmers, professional men and just plain husbands and dads from all over the country who serve Camp Fire by helping to develop a worthwhile program for girls. After all, the 'founding father' of Camp Fire was a man — Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick, the noted educator.

"FIRST QUESTION of the men is usually, 'What could I do as a member of the Camp Fire organization?' There are so many things that they can do," Rockwell declared.

"Helping to plan our council budget, serving as 'first-class handymen' at our campsite or acting as 'chauffeurs' for out-of-town excursions are some of the ways they help.

"They supply ideas for fund-rasing projects and act as 'top sergeants' in recruiting new girl members and other adult volunteers. Without them, we'd have to disappoint a lot of girls who really want to join Camp Fire, a United Crusade supported agency.

Camp Fire Girls to Hold Council Fire

Diablo Valley Camp Fire Girls will have their first Council Fire in the multi-purpose room of Parkmead School, according to an announcement today by Dick Rockwell, council president.

The council Fire, under the direction of Jo Slowinski, will officialy welcome the new Camp Fire Girls into the Camp Fire Family. Bulebirds, Junior Camp Fire Girls, will be present to witness the ceremony.

Virginia Wynn, 130 LaBolsa Road, Walnut Creek is chairman of the arrangements committee.

Parents and all who are interested are invited to see this interesting indoctrination. This meeting will conclude a membership drive which ends November 30. Time has been arranged for 7:30 the evening of December 2, according to Dick Rockwell.

Drive carefully through residential streets and save a child's life.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

SOCIAL EVENT — THE LADIES turned up in snappy autumn attire — hats even — many out of town hats because it is the only event of it's kind in the area — something not to be missed.

The luncheon was good, then into the back room to hear the lady of the hour. Her hat was purple with nestling feathers curving from the top of the head to almost under the chin — a Southern California hat at that. That hat was introduced to the audience by another hat of consequence — a Howard Hodge number of crushed raspberry beaver with a wide brim. There was even a visiting hat from San Francisco of electric blue which curved delicately atop white waves and curls.

And here is what it's all about

There were local hatless heads all over the place to hear Lorita Baker Vallely who fascinated her audience with terse and authentic revelations on current events and the forerunning events which made them eventful. Even a humorous anecdote about "Old Stone Bottom" Molotov and the type of diplomacy which precipitated the name.

Then on to books, illustrated in such fashion as to make you want to read them but making it unnecessary if you don't have time. Obviously enjoyed by everyone judging from the fact that one woman could silence 200 other women for over an hour.

Cast of characters: Purple hat — Mrs. Vallely, raspberry hat, Mrs. James MacDonold, electric blue hat, Alice Seckels of the Seckels- Cross Agency who obtains the wonderful speakers for the Bay Area.

Next Wednesday she will be at the El Nido again, 1:30 p.m., individual price $2 per lecture. Make reservations if you want lunch first. She will discuss the steps taken in recent months to build up the defenses of the Western Alliance ond recent steps which have eased the sore spots in the World and raised hopes for world peace.

For a minute we thought we had the list of the new books she will review but it now evolves that the list is reposing in the pocket of a lady in Los Angeles — it will be good anyway so come along — you will enjoy it.

LAST WEEK WE LIT out for regions remote for a slight vacation so we asked Mrs. Fred Federighi to "cover" the hustle bustle tournament at the Orinda Country Club. That annual ladies shenanigan makes strong men tremble (particulorly those on the staff who can't avoid being involved, and weak women come up with more darn fool ideas than you could shake a stick at. This year was one of the most successful, so following is the report by Helen Federighi who was aided and abetted by the typewriter queen and delivery boy de luxe — Mrs. J. Aubrey Sweet.

Hysterical headgear hovering hereabouts

The Witch, old H.W.O.D. — (Halloween witch, Orinda Division) cruised over the country club lost Friday on her '55 Helibroom.

Casually her glance swept the golf links. Her hand clutched control "Hover." — The sight below could have been from her own brew!

Hats! Headpieces! Masterpieces, the colors from art, theater, literature and music on the heads of the gal golfers. The par shooter, most of us, and the duffers were all there.

On the first tee the Madcap was on: Four Red Sails in the Sunset — Mesdames J. A. Sweet, A. W. Reid, N. E. Rotermund, and H. Oliphant were launched. Black Magic — Mrs. A. Ayers, Rhapsody in Blue — Mrs. G. Barr, White Christmas — Mrs. J. Phillips, Green Eyes — Mrs. Eugene Payne. All prize winners smote their way down the fairway.

Cameras clicked — Mesdames Perry Thomas, W. Kilgo, J. Folliard, L. Mitchell, Phipps Rasmussen, C. Shafft, W. Baughman, St. Claire, H. R. H. Merriam, G. McElhinney, C. Rank, J. Walker, and M. C. Green, clever all, passed before the lenses.

Pink champagne Mrs. Merle Noble with the blue variety Mrs. Jack Scammell. Red Riding Hood's Wolf, Mrs. A. O'Kane and Ba Ba, the sheep, Mrs. G. Parker — and of course Green Pastures Mrs. S. Jensen.

A swing with a left-handed club cleared Mesdames J. Fraser, V. T. Chanston, H. MacIntyre, Norman Gay, Charles Jostes, R. H. Wilson, F. Holmes, R. F. Hopkins, T. Bacon, and Neil Taylor.

A BIT PRE-SEASON WHITE Christmas found Mesdames A. Tanner, J. Stone, and H. Donovan club in hand. Pat Patten, golf confident wore his green years well.

Mrs. King Wilkin and Mrs. R. C. Diehl managed this Hustle Bustle of creative talent, but are grateful they did not have to judge for color, execution and ideas.

Old H.W.O.D. cruised away to leave the gals to the zaniest golf ever played. — Thank you Helen Federighi for helping us out.

And some here-and-there social events . . .

A school bus passed through the front door of the Henry Donovan's home last Sunday, a peak load of 250 add, enrute to the patio for a cocktail, party reported a grand time, and a goodly sum for the support of the Lafayette Parochial School Bus.

The Orinda chapter of the Booth Memorial group assisted at the Bazaar held at the hospital. Glimpsed at tea were Mesdames A. T. Beckett, E. McGah, F. J. Laher, J. A. Cianciarulo, George Wood and J. Pierotti. Mrs. J. A. Sweet and Mrs. F. J. Federighi served during the afternoon.

The President's Ball at the Orinda Country Club was the scene of an anniversary dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Federighi honoring Dr. and Mrs. Edward Maloney. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donovan and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sweet.

And what do the Chinese have to say?

Funny angle to the Roger Stark Chinese oven party. You know — they invited all the people for whom the versatile and altruistic Dr. Stark had built ovens. Everybody turned up for the duck dinner including a couple from Portland who actually built their own oven but they had gotten the instructions from Dr. Stark over long distance telephone and — after computing the phone bill decided it probably would have been cheaper if they had just moved to Orinda and let Dr. Stark build it first hand.

THE FOLLOWING ORINDA Rangers chose a perf (new word to express the epitome of super — if it is perf it is really the gnat's knuckles) moonlite evening for their recent trail ride and barbeque. Mesdames and Messieurs Walter Christie, James Brown, Rudy Rasmussen, Donald Hutchinson, William Clayton, Dick Dawson, Kenneth St. Clair, Nate Gray and Clarence Betz.

Home from Yosemite are Mrs. Dorothy Larm and daughter Lennie with some wonderful pictures. Mr. Camera Shop Randall had given them some specialist's advice on taking pictures of foliage while facing the sun in order to get the glow and silhouette effect. The picture they did not get was of Lennie taking the picture while Mrs. Lamb hovered over her with purse, hat, gloves etcetera held at the proper angle to keep the sun from shining into the lens. Next time try an umbrella we suggest, and That is all.

Rotary Hears Indonesian Tell Of Conditions

Intercity day was celebrated in Orinda Wednesday when the Orinda, Albany, North Oakland and Lafayette Rotary Clubs gathered for noon luncheon at the Willows.

Waine Dekert of North Oakland took home the dubious honor of a prize skunk which had, fortunately for the luncheon, been "de-perfumed."

Sudramo Montenagaro of Indonesia was guest speaker. A University of California student of economics, he is studying for the diplomatic service and spoke on "Asian Neutralism."

HE POINTED OUT that the Asian people are not indifferent, but that they have had their independence for less than 10 years and are determined to stay out of a cold war.

Program chairman was Frank Shirey of the Orinda Club. Attendance included 19 from Albany, 18 from Lafayette, 28 from North Oakland and 37 representing the host group.

NEXT WEEK GEORGE Dodge will be program chairman at Orinda Rotary and the speaker will be Major H. B. Schlosberg, 12th Marine Corps Resident District, who will show colored films of the invasion of Iwo Jima during World War II.

Guest student for November is Paul Paelinck of Ghent, Belgium, a forestry major at the University of California. Each month a foreign student spends a month with the Rotary Club as a regular member, with all the privileges pertaining thereto.

Music, Talk to Highlight Guild Lunch Affair

After the tensions of October culminating in election day, Orinda women can relax and enjoy the Tuesday luncheon and the interesting and inspirational meeting of the Women's Guild of Orinda Community Church.

Luncheon will be served by members of Section 5 whose chairman is Mrs. A. K. Harmon in Fellowship Hall at 12:30. The charge is 50 cents.

The meeting will open with devotions led by Mrs. A. W. Elkinton Jr. and will be under the leadership of the Guild president, Mrs. Robert W. Brown. The speaker, Mrs. W. B. Buckham who is a popular speaker for Guild meetings throughout northern California, will be introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. John L. Gilmore.

Mrs. Buckham's address will have for its title, "Ye Canna Tak' the Pipes Wi' You." Music will be by two of Orinda's talented musicians, Lois Flenner, violinist, and Lucille Fahay, pianist and accompanist.

Redlands, located in San Bernardino County, is reported by the National Automobile Club to be the largest orange center in the world and the home of Redlands University.

ORINDA PUBLIC LIBRARY is an increasingly popular and busy place, as both Mrs. E. A. Dawson (left) and Mrs. Elizabeth Lieberman (right) know. Mrs. Dawson recently retired from the post of Orinda librarian, after many years of service. Mrs. Lieberman is the new local libarian. Looking on, as Mrs. Dawson explains some details to Mrs. Lieberman, is Miss Ruth Turner, in charge of branches for the County Library. The Orinda Library, housed in Orinda Community Church, was recently changed from a deposit station to a branch library. It is now open Monday through Friday from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. and on Saturday from 10 a. m. to noon. — SUN Photo by Mattson

Orinda Here and There . . .

By ORINDA MOTHERS CLUB

NEW IDEA

Now here's an idea that's worth passing on. Several ladies on Overhill Road meet regularly for lunch and bridge, and once a year each gal writes her name and birth date on her tally. These are drown out of a hat, and each lady makes a special birthday cake for the person whose name she has drawn. On the proper date, naturally.

The other day two of these ladies, Jean Bettencourt and Alma Yerrick, were honored at a birthday bridge luncheon. Hostesses were Tink Ammon, Dotty Cary, Pat Smith and Lois Staff. Helping to celebrate the occasion were Doris Chapman, Mary Chappell, Helen Nattress, Betty Beasley, Dorothy Kline, Alouis Brain, Irene Macdonald, Margaret Kozak, Arline Pierre, Betty Moore, Phyllis Giles and Barbara Snook.

HELLO, BENNETTS

Welcome to Dr. and Mrs. Foster Bennett and 16 months old Mark who are now settled in the former Roger Dexter home at 157 El Toyonal. After two years in Honolulu while Dr. Bennett served in the Army they chose Orinda for the climate and outdoor living they most enjoy.

WORKING HARD

The Joe Newells may appear to their Los Altos neighbors to be slaving in their garden. Don't feel sorry for them as they are loving every minute of it. After six months in New York they are so happy to be back in their own home. Even their weeds look like daisies.

COME SAY HELLO

A potluck supper for the Orinda Union School will be held Monday at the Orinda School auditorium.

All parents of the Orinda Union School are invited to participate. This is an excellent opportunity for the parents to meet their children's teachers, Superintendent of Schools Joseph Sheaff and his staff.

There will be an entertaining program put on by the teachers, under the direction of Mr. Clark and Mr. Meeder, with Mr. Isola acting as master of ceremonies, according to Mrs. William Brobeck, general chairman.

Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Ted Schilling are assisting with arrangements. Hostesses for the evening will be the seventh grade mothers under the direction of their room mothers, the Mesdames Merdill Olsen, Claus Jensen, C. Green, William Brobeck, Herbert Teachout and Fred Guarneri.

'Gift Fair' To Raise Church Funds

Both fancy Christmas gift foods and everyday casseroles, pies and cakes will be sold at the Gift Fair to be held from 1:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, November 18, by members of St. Stephen's Women's Auxiliary in the Undercroft of the Church.

Chairman of the fund raising event for St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Orinda is Mrs. Frank Hibbard.

Such unusual items as purple cows, mock turtles, felt blocks, Christmas skirts, and doll's evening ensembles will be featured in the handcraft booths. Chairmen of these booths are Mesdames Earl Hill, Jack Rands, F. B. Connell, D. O. Collamer.

A Parcel Post "grab bag" booth, a garden booth with plants and dry materials for arrangements, and a silent auction of household goods will be added attractions.

Mrs. Walter Christie is chairman of the Christmas wrapped gift foods and Ida Zamloch is chairman of the ready to eat foods.

There will also be a buffet open during the day to sell light refreshments and coffee and dessert will be served after 6:30 p.m. for late shoppers.

ENCHANTED HILLS CAMP for blind children will be more "enchanted" than ever, thanks to efforts of Estrellita Chapter, the Orinda branch of Lighthouse Association Auxiliary to Recreation for the Blind, Inc. Bridge-Luncheon Next Event To Aid Camp for Blind Kids

Estrellita Chapter, the Orinda branch of Lighthouse Association Auxiliary to Recreation for the Blind, Inc., is busy with work to benefit Enchanted Hills Camp for blind children.

At its first fall meeting, held recently at the home of the new president, Mrs. William G. Courtright, members brought gay cotton readied for sewing int outility bags. These bags will help the youngsters keep their camp paraphernalia in orderly convenient array.

The group's first fund-raising affair of the season will be a birdge-luncheon November 18 at the home of Mrs. George F. Hickok, 88 El Toyonal, Orinda. Co-chairman for this event are Mesdames M. Gene Hopper and Odie Monahan.

Planned for early spring is a rummage sale. Anyone able to contribute clothing, furniture or bric-a-brac is asked to phone Mrs. Jess Long at CLifford 4-3402.

ENCHANTED HILLS Camp occupies 320 acres near Napa, onthe St. Helena-ward crest which separates Napa and Sonoma Valleys.

"Sighless children spend exciting summers there, thrilled by the 'feel' of the piney woods. cool streams, openfields and a real barn with assorted animals and pets," Mrs. Courtright says.

The young people of Orinda Community Church, under the leadership of Rey Wells, went to the camp one day last summer and spent the day helping to rebuild the paths and seating area of the outdoor chapel.

THIS YOUNG PEOPLE'S group is planning to devote a day next spring to continue its help at the camp church.

Some of this group have expressed interest in becoming camp counselors for the next summer session. The camp ruling is that there must be a sighted counselor for every two blind children attending camp.

Mrs. James Chapple, vice-president of Estrellita Chapter, points out that a special colored film with sound projection, depicting life at Enchanted Hills, is available to civic groups and the general public.

"ANYONE INTERESTED in showing this excellent film should contact Miss Rose Resnick, executive director of Recreation for the Blind, at SKyline 2-1123 in San Francisco," says Mrs. Chapple, who attended a recent Board of Directors meeting at the Whitcomb Hotel in San Francisco as representative of the Orinda branch.

"Formation of new branches of the Lighthouse Association is invited," she adds.

AT THE CAMP there are guide ropes for the sightless to find their way, tinkling Chinese bells that tell the way to the dining room and swimming pool, and nature-study signs in Roman letters and braille—"madrone," "maple," "ponderosa pine," "Douglas fir" and others.

Miss Resnick, a talented pianist and herself blind, is the founder of Recreation for the Blind, which came into being seven years ago when she interested others in helping her establish Enchanted Hills.

Aiding the camp is the Lighthouse Association, with branches on the Peninsula and in Marin County, San Francisco, Alameda, Berkeley and Orinda. It is hoped that other branches will soon be formed in Contra Costa County. Headquarters of Recreation for the Blind are at 3450 Geary Boulevard, San Francisco.

The various Lighthouse auxiliaries have taken names pertaining to light; the Orinda branch is called Estrellita Chapter ("Little Star"), this name having been selected because of the Spanish influence in this area.

Orioles Plan Bridge-Lunch

The Orioles, auxiliary to the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, will hold a bridge luncheon-Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert Cast, 118 Lombardy Lane, Sleepy Hollow.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Roy Stuart and Mrs. Calvert Bowles. Reservations may be made for the 12:30 affair by calling Mrs. Kay Singer, CLifford 4-2291. Gifts have been donated by Mrs. W. H. Lloyd. The luncheon will be $1.25 and proceeds will go to the Therapy Center.

Bustle, Ball Tops Weekend in Orinda

The annual Hustle Bustle followed in close order by the President's Ball kept members of the Orinda Country Club hopping last weekend, particularly the ladies.

Friday's Hustle Bustle saw several hundred of the fair set prepared to play golf in a garish and sometimes beautiful collection of hats, all devoted to the theme "color in art, theater, music or literature."

Prizes went to such creations as that worn by Mrs. D. Gerald Barr who wore a box of bicarbonate of soda all decked out in beautiful blue wrappings. The title? "Rhapsody in Blue," naturally.

ZANIEST HEADDRESS was that of Mrs. Eugene Payne whose "Green Eyes" flashed on and off at the touch of a battery neatly secreted in a pocket. The ping-pong ball "eyes" produced a weird and fascinating effect.

Group prizes went to Mesdames J. Aubrey Sweet, Norman Rotermund, Al Reid and Harry Oliphant Jr. who came as "Red Sails in the Sunset." Naturally, Mrs. Olaphant came as the sunset. Theme prize went to Mrs. A. Ayers for "Black Magic" which was a fascinating top hat, inverted with cards and rabbits neatly attached. Most beautiful creation was "White Christmas" as created by Mrs. G. Barr.

Following breakfast and judging, the women all proceeded to play a mad round of highly successful golf.

Then Saturday night came the first annual President's Ball which completed the weekend festivities for the feminine set. President John McDonnell and his wife, Mary, were feted at the formal dinner dance.

The clubhouse was tastefully decorated in many shades of chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and large white candles at each table, all surrounded by vari-colored mums.

HAPPY WITH HER HAT is Melba Spurgeon of Walnut Creek who will model at the Mt. Diablo Business and Professional Women's Club Fashion Show at 8 p. m. tonight in San Ramon High School. Scotty Pencovic assists in arranging the chapeaux properly.

Martinez Scene Of Nuptials For Ray Nausin

In Martinez Latter Day Saints Church October 23, Ray Nausin took Norma Baxendale of Pinole as his bride.

Norma wore a full length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle and a fingertip illusion veil flowed from a crown of lilies of the valley.

HER DRESS WAS designed with a high neck, long sleeves and a full gathered skirt and Norma carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations surrounding a white orchid.

Maid of honor was Dolores Beanland of Oakland and bridesmaids were Mrs. Martin Johnson of Martinez and Mrs. Jack Weston of Pinole.

All three were gowned in ballerina length wine velvet dresses and carried bouquets of bronze and yellow carnations.

A COUSIN OF THE groom, Rentldo Nausin of Albany was best man and ushers were Lindberg Miller of Concord and Maurice Kesteloot of Richmond.

After a reception at the church attended by some 130 friends and relatives, the couple left for a honeymoon in the redwoods.

Ray is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nausin of Oakland and Norma is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Kearns of Pinole.

Joan Gordon Will Wed in Mexico City

The engagement of their daughter, Miss Joan Louise Gordon, to Esbern Helge Mirner, has been announced by Mr. and Mrs. William N. Gordon of Longridge Road, Orinda.

The groom-to-be is the son of Iens Peter Mirner, minister counselor of the Royal Danish Embassy in Mexico City, and Mrs. Mirner.

The engagement was recently announced to Kappa Deltas at the University of California when Mrs. Gordon provided the sorority with Danish pastry, each serving topped by a tiny American, Mexican and Danish flag—the latter bearing the engagement news.

THE YOUNG COUPLE is residing in Mexico City where Joan is studying at Mexico City College and her fiance is manager of the Mexican division of an American rubber company. The two met in June when they were flying down to Mexico together.

Joan, who had completed two years at the University of California before transferring to the Mexican college, is a sister of Sandra Gordon, a freshman and Sigma Kappa pledge at Cal.

Her fiance was born in Kaunas, Lithuania. He is a Danish citizen and attended French schools in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, and the Soroe Academy in Soroe, Denmark.

The couple will be married January 15 in Mexico City. Her family plans to fly down for the event.

Sally Coggan Married to Jerry Annis

Miss Sally Coggan of Walnut Creek became Mrs. Jerry Annis October 24 in ceremonies before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek.

The Rev. Wilfred Hodgkin presided and Sally wore a white ballerina length gown of nylon net over satin with a long sleeved, lace jacket.

A SHOULDER LENGTH veil flowed from a Juliet cap and the bride carried a large white orchid surrounded by stephanotis.

Jacklon Schestick of Walnut Creek was maid of honor while Arlene Sheets of Walnut Creek was a bridesmaid and Sally's sister, Patircia, was junior bridesmaid.

The feminine attendants were attired in ballerina length dresses in pastel shades and carried small chysanthemums dyed to match their dresses.

Ted Neely was best man and Norman McMillan and Warren Sergeant were ushers. All are from Concord.

SOME 300 PERSONS gathered in the parish hall following the ceremony to offer congratulations and best wishes to the newlyweds.

The justweds are now at home to their friends on Hemlock Avenue in Concord following a short honeymoon on the Peninsula.

Jerry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Annis of Beach Street, Concord, and Sally is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Coggan of 396 Nob Hill Drive, Walnut Creek.

Kappa Alumnae Plan Social

Orinda and Lafayette Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae will be hosteses at an annual party planned especially for husbands Wednesday at Temescal Lodge at 7:45 p.m.

Guest speaker will be James F. Morris of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner ad Beane. All East Bay Kappa alums, their husbands and dates are invited and will be welcomed by Mrs. Fred P. Ritchie of Oakland, vice-president and chairman of the event.

Orinda and Lafayette hostesses included Mrs. R. L. Miller, chairman and committee members Mesdames B. S. Ginsburg, A. C. Scheu, Thomas Fitch, D. C. Brain and David Brunson.

Joyce White, T. A. Kessel Wed in Orinda

In afternoon ceremonies at the Santa Maria Catholic Church in Orinda October 17, Joyce Cecilia White and Theodore Allen Kessel were married.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace T. White of Hidden Valley, Lafayette. Theodore is the son of Mrs. William Kessel and the late Mr. Kessel of Oakland.

MATRON OF HONOR was the sister of the bride, Mrs. Donald McCarty (Barbara Ann White) and bridesmaids were Geraldine Bowen and Dolores Barghausen. Best man was Charles Richard Kempt and Winston Churchill performed ushering duties.

The bride wore a nylon tulle gown over satin with a full tiered skirt. The gown featured a Basque waist and softly tucked shoulder detail with tiny lilies of the valley accenting the edge of the sweetheart neckline and skirt.

SHE WORE A fingertip veil, a Juliette cap of seed pearls and carried a corsage of lilly of the valley and hybrid white orchids.

Honeymoon trip included the Southwest, Los Vegas and Brice Canyon National Park.

'Before Dior' Promises Fun

Many local couples will be enjoying themselves thoroughly at the Poplar Branch of Children's Hospital of the East Bay when "Before Dior" gets underway tomorrow night at Sequoia Country Club.

A strictly 1928 college humor theme will predominate and many guests are experted to arrive in vintage automobiles and raccoon coats, although the affair is informal.

Presiding over the gaiety from a seat on the piano will be Miss Polly Poplar of 1928, but she'll be only a manniken. Cocktails, dinner and dancing will provide fare for the guests ad the special event of the evening will be a Charleston contest.

Included in the guest list from this area are Mesdames Valentine Brooks, Robert Morhead, John J. Reilly, Duncan Knudsen, Robert Pedder, John Athanson, Robert Clough, J. Gordon Ainsworth, Frank A. Brush, Talbot Evans, William Brailsford Jr., Jack Noble, Emil Peterson and William McGuire.

Country Fair Fun Theme of Job's Daughters Tomorrow

The line forms to the right, the doors open at 5 p.m. to the Job's Daughters' gala "Country Fair" tomorrow at Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette.

There will be no admission charge, but there will be many games to entertain both young and old.

There will be a fish pond, bean bag throw, Penny pitch, ring toss, darts, pictures, fire engine rides, makeup, "squirt a lite" and "throw a nickel for a chicken."

A VARIETY OF food will be available — hot dogs, roast beef sandwiches, ice cream, coffee and pop, homemade cake, homemade beans, salad and popcorn.

Suzanne Jaques is in charge of prizes, which have been donated by the members of the Bethel, No. 218. Holders of winning tickets will be able to choose from such prizes as canned hams, patio chairs, bacon, storybook dolls, stationery, handmade aprons, dishtowels, coat hangers, costume jewelry, toys and many others.

AMONG CHAIRMEN AND workers at various booths are:

Shirley Gee, Suzanne Jaques, Joann Wilbur, Sally Clark, Joann Sharp, Drury Spurlock, Karen Betaque, Kathy Terry, Melanie Clark.

Sharon Simms, Virette Butler, Mary Westfall, Beth Johnson, Joan Frazell, Marilyn Montgomery, Diane Hacker, Carol Moss, Barbara Jensen.

Joan Houge, Judy Colvin, Shirley Matson, Pat Kennett, Mariann Macy, Donna Ruediger, Virginia Johnson, Janet Willoughby, Nancy Herrmann.

Marilyn Rauch, Velma Young, Darlene Marchus, Grace Corse, Doreen Mortara, Sallie Gavey, Robin Carlson, Judy Lowe, Nancy Peterson.

MANY OTHER girls are actively involved.

There will be entertainment several times during the evening, and a dance from 9 o'clock until — who knows? — will climax the evening.

NO DOUBT Dr. Alan Ory of Walnut Creek (seated at right) is making a profound statement — but nobody takes him too seriously in this candid photo taken last Saturday night at the Herrick Hospital medical staff's annual dinner-dance at Diablo Country Club. Light-heartedly looking on and listening are (standing, left to right) Dr. Jay C. Corsaut, Dr. Howard B. Flanders and Mrs. Ory and (seated, left to right) Mrs. Corsaut and Mrs. Flanders. All are of Walnut Creek.

HOW CAN YOU KEEP YOUR MIND ON GOLF with hats like these loose on the fairways? This question must have plagued many of the women of Orinda Country Club last Friday when they got together for the "Hustle Bustle." Among the prize winning hats were, left to right, Mrs. Joseph Downs, Mrs. Eugene Payne, Mrs. Jerry Barr and Mrs. Perry Thomas.

Kappa Taus Plan Sale

Regular meeting of Kappa Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held at the home of Mrs. Del Bernardi in Pleasant Hill recently.

Mrs. Herbert Minster announced that plans for the rummage sale were in progress. It will be held December 4 at the Pacific Gas and Electric Company Building in Walnut Creek. Rummage may be delivered to Mrs. Minsters home in Concord.

Guests were Mrs. Joseph Bernardi of Orinda and Mrs. Jack Rogers and Mrs. John MacKenzie of Walnut Creek. Mrs. Bernardi showed colored movies of her trip to Europe in 1950.

Mrs. Del Bernardi was assisted by Mrs. Edward Swanson with refreshments. Mrs. Bernardis home was decorated in a fall theme.

Beverly Miller Married in Morning Rites

Married Saturday at the Mill Valley Community Church, Mill Valley, were Beverly Anne Miller and Philip Elroy Pettyjohn.

Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralfe Damon Miller, Lafayette Woodlands, Lafayette. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Pettyjohn, Bemidji, Minnesota, makes his home in Berkeley.

BEVERLY'S SISTER, Cynthia, did maid of honor duties in a charcoal grey one piece wool dress with coral accessories, all eccentuated by a coral colored rosebud corsage. Best man was Richard Sarraille, brother-in-law of the groom, of Tiburon.

The bride was married in a going-away suit of bronze green and gold, set off by a white satin hat with veil decorated with sparkling rhinestones, white kid gloves and a white orchid corsage. She was given in marriage by her father.

The wedding, which was held at 10 a.m. under the directon of Reverand Foster, was followed by a wedding breakfast for the families of the bride and groom at the Cliff House in San Francisco.

BEVERLY IS A graduate of Acalanes High School and has attended the University of California at Berkeley where she was a Sigma Kappa. The groom was graduated from Cal in 1951 with a major in history. He is an Army veteran of World War II, serving in the European theater.

The honeymoon trip includes northern California where the couple is staying at the Little River Inn. They will make their home in Berkeley when they return.

Book Section Meets Monday

The Book Section, Walnut Creek Branch of American Association of University Women will hold its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Oscar D. Anderson, 1053 Homestead Avenue, Walnut Creek, at 8 p.m. Monday.

"From These Roots," by Alice Meyer will be reviewed by Mrs. A. O. Anderson. Those planning to attend are asked to call MU 5-4551 or YE 4-9429.

Juniors Hold Cake Sale, Play Party

Members of the Orinda Junior Woman's Club sponsored a successful rummage sale Wednesday, at Millers Variety and Hardware Store in Berkeley.

Clothes, jewelry and knick-knacks were collected by Mrs. Thomas Kling, ways and means chairman. She was assisted by Mesdames Walter Ammon, John Everett, Albert Jonanson, Raymond Currie, John McCaffree, N. Norman Miller, Ernest S. Haynes, Paul Gregg, Anthony Yriberri, Robert Stewart and J. M. Speyer.

Next Friday evening a "theatre party" of 100 members and their friends will attend a performance of "Summer and Smoke" a play by Tennessee Williams to be staged at the Berkeley High School Little Theatre by the Dramateurs. Responsible for the block of tickets are Mrs. Walter E. Estes, Fine Arts Chairman and Mrs. Paul Gregg, co-chairman.

A vote to make the Orinda Library its' major philanthropic project has been accepted by the Juniors, and the extension of the present library's facilities is the club's major philanthropic work project.

Mrs. John Madison is library chairman of the Orinda Junior Woman's Club and vice president of the Library Board, Inc. Other Juniors who are on the Library Board are Mesdames Howard Gravelle, Edmund F. Wilford and Walter E. Estes.

Jacklon Shestek Will Be Wed to Albert Wellman

Announcement has been made by Mr. and Mrs. James Shestek of 2001 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek, of the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Jacklon Lee Shestek, to Albert Wellman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wellman, 500 Pleasant Hill Road.

The wedding will take place Sunday, November 14, at 3 p.m. in St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

Among the local people attending were Doctors and Mesdames Ralph Bigger, Jay C. Corsaut, H. B. Flanders, R. M. Glass, and Alan Ory of Walnut Creek; F. E. Bennett, of Lafayette and Robert Johnson, S. W. Smith, Paul G. Winquist of Orinda and C. M. Woods of Danville.

Guests of honor were president of the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association, Dr. James B. Graeser and Executive-Secretary William Scheuber.

"Throughout the year, doctors of the staff contribute to the welfare of local people through donations of time and skill to the Herrick Hospital Clinic and the physicians also give much time to their teaching duties for the resident staff at the hospital," commented Dr. H. R. Fishback, president of the hospital medical staff. This annual dinner-dance is the official social high point of the year," he added.

Cocktails at 7:30 preceded an evening of dancing to the music of Henry Gallagher and his orchestra.

AAUW Bridge Meets Planned

Two sections of the Walnut Creek Branch of the American Association of University Women Bridge Group will meet this coming week. On Tuesday, Mrs. L. L. Clark will be hostess at her home, 6 Arbor Way, Hidden Valley, Lafayette. Co-hostess will be Mrs. John D. Riner.

On Thursday, a section will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Parker, 88 Cleopatra, Concord. Co-hostess will be Mrs. W. T. Worden

A third section met this Monday at the home of Mrs F. A. Marshall, 110 South Main Street, Walnut Creek. Her co-hostess was Mrs. H. S. Holt.

Don Soph Hop Theme Changed

Acalanes sophomores, headed by Class President William Freeman, have changed the theme for their annual Soph Hop from "Hernando's Hideaway" to "Mystic Waters."

The dance will be held November 12. Date of the affair was erroneously announced last week as last Friday night by the Acalanes News Service.

PATTER ON THE PARTY LINE

By PATRICIA JELTON

BECAUSE OF EARLY DEADLINE necessity in weekly stints of this sort, the reporter is always depressed with realization that timelessness of data carraled will be old hat come publication day. But contrary to preconceived editorial idea, you can't write about events until they happen.

Except perhaps as regards the Orinda Branch lecture conducted by Lorita Baker Vallely next Wednesday afternoon at El Nido Rancho in Lafayette. You girls worried about world affairs? Well, come hear Mrs. Vallely who has developed a short cut to the "top of the news" which she very adroitly dishes out in direct and dynamic manner easily assimilated by the mentally harrassed matron.

Mrs. Vallely's coming eek's intent is to delineate and expand on recent events and policies which will portend a decrease in world tension. There, feel better?

Just let her take the load off your shoulders

Also, she has a wey of spot lighting the nucleus of current books which really eases the burden of choosing reading material on our part.

If you haven't already secured your season pass, don't give it a thought. Contriving members have figured out new seating arrangements so there's room for YOU. Call Eleanor Underwood, CL 4-2486, or pick up your tickets at the door. Make reservations if you wish to join the group for luncheon.

Now as to relating the usual gay patter on the party line, things at absolute standstill inasmuch as our wire-tapping deadline was last Tuesday and you all know what the party line was filled with on that day.

And because you are way ahead of us on that score, as you know the answers and we don't, and the Children's Hospital needs the weekly stipend regardless of our problems, may we fill up the rest of the space with a few reflections upon our past year's occupation with amateur politics.

If we didn't learn much about politics, we certainly learned a lot about politicians, who entered the field of endeavor just like us, but in the heat of the fray sometimes became unrecognizable.

This was our first venture into a pressure group, and having always been a door mat type with an almost imbecilic desire to please, it has had it's frightening moments.

We learned long ago that it is impossible to please everyone, but it's often surprising how close you can come with a little effort.

Well, maybe you can rest for a couple of years

Well, we began to develop an uncomfortable political conscience with the impending maturity of our youngster, and soon learned that inasmuch as our government is based on a two party system, any realistic approach is through one or the other parties. And the only way really to size up the situation is to get into a working group and take some responsible position.

Believe me, you can't get it just from reading the newspapers.

Now assuming a responsible position necessitates a certain amount of conviction, taking a definite stand now and then, which frankly scared heck out of us at first. On the other hand, it entailed a necessary give and take type of cooperation. We can't each of us have it all our own way all of the time.

THIS VERY OBVIOUS situation is often obscure to the amateur politician who in his zest lets his competitive spirit sometimes submerge the candidate and the issues. In fact, it is often very difficult to get an unobstructed shot of the candidate for the newspapers or TV.

All in all, it's much more fun to be the candidate's loyal supporter than to be the candidate. The most vicious reputation ravishing is usually handled by the supporters and aimed more at the opposition support than at the candidate, but when it's all over, said supporters will undoubtedly sit side by side at the PTA or the improvement club, while the poor unsuccessful candidate is still shaking his head.

It pays the bills for PT&T, anyway!

Women's politicking is almost wholly achieved via the telephone. Each busy oracle acquires a circle of sympathetic souls and feverishly hurries her husband and kiddies out of the house in the morning that she may grasp the precious instrument and pressurize her pals toward her latest contemplated endeavor.

"If the phone would only stop ringing," we bewail. Don't you believe it. We love it!

In the beginning, we are dumbfounded that candidates and experienced masculine politicos extend their attention toward such rattle brained folk as we, but it finally dawned upon us that they all wore that uneasy expression our husbands wear when they are trying to convince us of something and are not just usre how we will take to it.

There is no question our sphere of influence is terrific once aroused to the fact that we're being had. Fortunately as a sex we are pretty honorable and trustworthy as to purpose, a trait probably combined with our responsibility for the future of our young.

Wouldn't is be wonderful if this drive and compulsion could be more evenly distributed among our citizenry, so that there would be no necessity for the formation of pressure groups to importune the electorate to aware themselves of the issues and to shake themselves out on election day.

Oh, well, we did get to know a lot of very interesting people that we would not otherwise have men and — oh, pardon us, there goes the telephone.

Art Mart to Open Show

Oils and water colors by members of the Diablo Art Association will form the new show opening Sunday at the Artists' Market, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard in Lafayette.

The show, sponsored by Outdoor Art Shows at the market which is an outlet for artists' work in the Diablo Valley, will include paintings by Contra Costa County, Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and San Francisco artists. There will be a preview for members of Outdoor Art Shows Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. Thereafter the show will be open to the public without charge from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m. dayil Tuesdays through Saturdays until December third.

MRS. MEL THOMASON of Martinez is president of the Diablo Art Association and Miss Elise Albright of Walnut Creek is exhibit chairman for the new show.

embers of the Artists' Market committee will meet next Monday, at 12:30 p.m. at the home of market chairman Mrs. Frederick Confer in Martinez for dessert and to hear speaker Lenore Erick'Alt of San Francisco on "Contemporary Painting."

Miss Erik'Alt studied at the Chicago Art Institute and later taught at the University of Minnesota, before coming to San Francisco last year where she taught art at Dominican. She has had one-man shows in Chicago, St. Paul, New York and in California at Santa Barbara and Stanford.

REGISTRATIONS ARE now being taken at the Artists' Market for a series of lectures and forums on "Symphonic Music for the Listener" to be given starting in November and continuing mothly through the symphony season.

Speaker will be the noted composer, author and teacher Robert Erickson and interested persons may register for the series on a first come, first served basis, by calling the Artists' Market, ATlantic 3-.930, during market hours.

Registration closes November 13 or when sessions are filled prior to that time.

Around Acalanes

By DIANE HILLYARD

A WET NIGHT?

It seems, for some reason or another, that the theme of our Sophomore Hop has been changed.

Now we won't be able to discover what "Hernando's Hideway" really is like. Instead, we will don diving suits and go into "Mystic Waters." Most all of the Sophomore class have been working hard to make this dance a big success.

Second meeting of our parents club was held October 18. This time, besides meeting our teachers, parents had a chance to get an idea of the different organizations of our school.

STRAIGHT DOPE

Sally Anaclerio, mistress of ceremonies, and her assistant, Carol Maloyan, introduced the presidents of 16 organizations. Some of the speakers were, John Conley, who spoke on Boys Federation, Cathy Grueb, on Girls League; Charles Schorr, Junior Statesman; Carol Holabird Blueprint; Sue Panella, Aklan; Red Jones, Rally Committee; Bob Steuben, Stage Crew; Ann Lee Smith, Junior Red Cross; Faye Cady, G.A.A.; Sally Freedman, Dance Group; Jean Galbrath, Fleur de Lis, Dennis Busby, C.S.F.; Dick Mc Dermid, Audio Visual; Paul Hanson, Music Department; Bob Roberts, Spanish Honorary Society; and Sonny Paulovic, Los Amigos.

SLEEPY TIME

Joann Wilbur gave a slumber party after the Pleasant Hill game last week. Those gals who didn't get much sleep were, Lynn Kurtuz, Kathy Wilson, Shelia Theily, Nancy Herman, Lynn Hail, Mary Palmrose, Karen Hillyard, Pat Kennett, Sally Clark, Mary Ann Macy, Donna Ruediger, Jill Morrison, Martha Keene, Gretchen Kaiser, Pat Riddell, and Bev Schmidt.

Junior Statesmen attended a regional convention at Burlingame, on October 16. Those who went were Walton Chaney, Sylvia Coffie, Lynn Davidson, Gail Hanson, Russ Mijolsnes, Margaret Netherby, Doug Parker and Mike Pond.

"UP IN THE AIR" (but only figuratively) as they inspect some of the repair work at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center building in Lafayette (formerly Planter's Dock) are Mrs. Lewis Rappaport, publicity chairman for the Center's dinner-dance November 16, and Murray Kreisman, chairman of the event. The dance will be in celebration of the remodeling of the building, where the affair will be held. Open house and dedication will be held Sunday from 2 to 5 p m.

1000 Entries Expected at 'Mum Show

More than 1000 entries are expected for the fourth annual show of the Chrysanthemum Study Club of the East Bay tomorrow and Sunday in the Walnut Creek Recreation Center.

Titled "Fires of Fall," the show will be free and open from 2 to 9 p.m. tomorrow and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. the following day.

A TOTAL OF 26 trophies will be awarded and entries must be in place to qualify by 10 am. tomorrow, officials have announced.

Judges will be H. M. Butterfield of the University of California, George Shiraki, Oakland Park Department, Lucius Bates of Sacramento, Mrs. Warren Deveral, Mrs. F. F. Canham and Herbert Stevens.

Participating groups include Walnut Creek Women's Club, Walnut Creek Garden Club, American Association of University Women, the Recreation Commission and several commercial firms.

ARRANGING THE exhibits are E. Wynne Newell, general chairman; Dr. Ira B. Cross, staging; Mrs. Blanche Walsh, secretary; Max Meier, schedule, and Mrs. George Bowersox, publicity.

Ted King, judging; William Touchon, receiving and classifying; Mrs. George Hoffschneider, arrangements; Mrs. Lena Rochfort, registration; Mrs. C. R. Hayden, awards; and King, Mrs. Lorne Cole, Frank Kent, Meier and Dr. Cross, executive committee.

Girl Scouts to Sell Calendars

Some 3000 Girl Scouts and Brownies of the Diablo Valley Area Council will start today in a sale of Girl Scout Calendars which will continue through November 20.

Attractive and colorful, the calendars also contain space for appointments and notations with each date. A 1955 model, the calendars will sell for 35 cents each.

Proceeds will go to capital expenditures, not included in the United Crusade, and will be divided between individual troops and development of the council's new 65 acre campsite in Lafayette.

Crusade funds go toward operating expenses only.

Taxpayers Hear Gov. Knight Cite County's Growth

"During the 1940-50 decade, Contra Costa was the most rapidly growing county in California and California was the most rapidly growing state in the nation," Goodwin J. Knight told the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Asscoiation last week.

Occasion for the Governor's speech was the 18th annual dinner meeting of the association October 26 at Diablo Country Club, attended by some 350 members and public officials.

Picked for the honor of being named the county's oldest taxpayer was Elam B. Smith, 94, who lives in Martinez and paid taxes on an Alhambra Valley Ranch in 1882. He was unable to attend the dinner.

George Macey Named to Head District Scouts

G. H. Macey of Pleasant Hill was elected 1955 Chairman of Meridian District, Mt. Diablo Council, Boy Scouts of America, at a meeting held recently at Acalanes High School, Lafayette.

Vice-Chairman will be Duncan Knudsen of Lafayette, and District Commissioner will be Glenn T. Geason, Wanut Creek, who is serving in that capacity this year.

MACEY REPLACES C. R. Graff, Danville, who has been chairman for the past two years with Macey as his vice-chairman; Graff will become Explorer Advisor of Post 306, Danville, and member of the Mt. Diablo Council Long-Range Planning Committee. He will serve, also, as Meridian District Sustaining Membership Enrollment Chairman.

Duncan Knudsen is Finance Committee Chairman of the District at the present time, a position he has held for two years, in addition to serving on the Committee of Troop 223 of Happy Valley.

Gleason became District Commissioner a year ago, and has served with enthusiasm and success. He attended the Commissioners Conference at Philmont Scout Ranch, in New Mexico last July.

MACEY HAS APPOINTED Community and Operating Committee Chairmen for the ensuing year. They will be invested at the Annual District Pot Luck Dinner, November 17 th at the Stanley School, Lafayette.. The appointmets are as follows:

Orinda — Robert Authonisen, 37 Orchard Road; Lafayette — Lester Lloyd, 1026 Thompson Road; Walnut Creek — Elmer Lago, 70 Haven Lane; Danville — Robert S. Gould, 42 Vista Drive; Pleasant Hill — N. R. Hughes, 118 Hubbard Avenue.

Advancement — Raymond Van Tassell, Danville; Camping and Activities — L. A. Dodge, Walnut Creek; Finance — Fitch Robertson, Walnut Creek; Sustaining Memberships—C. R. Graff, Danville; Health and Safety — Harold Larsen, Lafayette; Leadership Training — Ward WaWite, Walnut Creek; Organization and Extension — Marvin A. Moler, Pleasant Hill; Camp Force — A. J. Tarlock.

Please write us news about your family, friends, clubs and interesting events. If you see something important, call at once.

VOLUNTEER LABOR. This new church, expected to be ready by summer, is being constructed almost exclusively with volunteer workmen. On Overlook Drive, it is a joint project of Walnut Creek and Pleasant Hill Wards of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Women Realtors Nominate Heads

Women's Division of Contra Costa Real Estate Board has nominated Vera Foss for president in 1955. Other nominees are Virginia Slater, vice president, and Virginia Camp, secretary-treasurer.

Elections will be held at the next regular meeting of the group, November 18, at a luncheon.

The division is also preparing the board's annual Christmas party with Doris Jellett as chairman and Ann Laine, Elaine Hawthorne, Dixie Fremerey and Virginia Slater committee members.

Orinda Division met Monday at noon in Orinda Willows, according to President Ramsay Underwood.

Red Cross Offers Aid, Baby Classes

The Red Cross is now offering the last of its free instruction in first aid and baby care until after the holidays.

Two classes in first aid will be held on Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. One class in mother-baby care will take place on Monday, November 8.

All classes will start at the chapter house in Walnut Creek. Everyone interested should sign up at once, because the register will close as soon as the required number is reached, it was suggested.

Lindblad Will Speak at Annual Scout Potluck

Victor L. Lindblad, scout executives, will be the principal speaker at the Annual Pot Luck Dinner, Recognition and Social of Meridian District, Mt. Diablo Council at the Stanley School auditorium, Lafayette, November 17 at 7 p.m., according to Tom Mika, Orinda chairman.

Each institution in the Orinda Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville and Pleasant Hill areas that sponsors a Cub Pack, a Boy Scout troop or an Explorer Unit is invited to send its representative, committeemen, leaders and their partners.

RESERVATIONS are being sent to the Boy Scout office for table space, which will be allotted as requests are received.

"Coffee is being furnished by the District Committee," Mika said. "Each table is to be decorated by the group which has it reserved. They also are to bring their own food, dishes and eating utensils," he added.

Certificates will be presented to more than 150 Scouters and Den Mothers who complete the courses they are now taking each Monday evening at the University of Scouting, according to Mika. They will be presented by Ward Waite, Walnut Creek, chairman of the Leadership Training committee.

Teachers Attend Asilomar Confab

The Acalanes Education Association sent its president, Robert Rowe of Las Lomas High School; Stan Black and Alex Winchester of Acalanes High School and Miss Elizabeth Bennett of Las Lomas as delegates to the 13th Annual Leaders Conference at Asilomar October 22-24.

Over 600 representatives of Teachers Associations from central counties of California participated

Dons and Knights Clash Tonight

1st 'Big Game' Season Finale For Prep Teams

The Acalanes Dons and the Las Lomas Knights tangle in the grid season's finale tonight when they meet under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field.

Kickoff is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

The Pittsburg Pirates have practically sewn up the league championship. Even a loss to Diablo tonight would give them a tie for the title.

In view of the record of the high-riding Pirates, this is hardly likely to happen.

THE DONS AND Knights both want the win, and the dopesters can figure it just about any way they want.

In the win book the Knights have practice victories over Albany and John Swett, while their line win in league play has been over Pleasant Hill, 6-0.

The Dons had one tie (6-6 with Tracy) in practice tilts, and their only win in league play was last week against Pleasant Hill, 39-7.

LAS LOMAS lost a toughie to Liberty of Brentwood, which toppled Danville. Danville dropped Alhambra, and Alhambra trimmed the Dons 31-0.

Against Diablo the Dons were dropped 25-6, while Las Lomas was edged 7-6.

Against the Pirates the Dons were on the short end, 36-13, while the Knights were taken 53-7.

So, all in all, tonight's game appears to be pretty much of a toss-up.

COACH George Deklotz of Las Lomas has brought his squad along in fine style, and with his ace halfback, Rick Ostrom, returning, it should be a bang-up ball game.

The Dons are hungry for victory and found the taste of it mighty sweet when they tumbled the Pleasant Hill Rams last Friday.

In the backfield, duels could well develop between Jeff Wahl, Don speedster, and Ostrom, who holds the 440 county title in track.

Both operate at left half.

IN DALE MARCELLINI of Acalanes and Bob Kinyon of Las Lomas the fans should see two of the county's better fullbacks.

The Knights have been a more consistent club than the Dons, who have been in-and-outers.

CHANCES ARE that both clubs will be up for this one, and the fun should really fly in the first varsity game between the two schools.

The Las Lomas-Acalanes game could well become an annual classic in local prep circles.

The Knights hold an edge on the basis of having been together as a unit since entering high school.

The Dons hold an edge in depth and varsity experience.

Any way you look at it, it's Big Game night, and a capacity crowd is expected.

Acalanes High Fullback Dale Marcellini Named 'Player'

By BILL STANTON

A fullback who collects butterflies, Dale Marcellini of Acalanes High School, has been named "Player of the Week" following his team's victory last Friday night over Pleasant Hill High School's Rams.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marcellini of 1024 Willow Drive, Lafayette, Dale is so honored by The SUN and Grodins of California and will receive a gold football as well as a certificate at his school's athletic awards banquet.

A SENIOR NOW, Dale has gone out for football each year and has lettered each time he went out. He was started as a halfback, then later worked into the fullback slot.

Lauding him, Coach Erwin Mattson said, "He really is an outstanding kid. He never misses a practice and he works hard. He knows what he's supposed to do and he tries to do it."

Referring to the fact Dale weighs less than 170 pounds, Mattson continued, "Though he's light for the position, he's one of the better fullbacks in the county.

"He's a good blocker and a very fine runner. And Dale is consistent as the sun coming up in the morning. He plays good ball," Mattson concluded.

TALKING OF HIS position, Dale told us he prefers to play fullback rather than halfback. "Halfbacks run too much and I'm not that fast. I like to block, too," he explained.

And of football itself, he said, "It's a fine game. It teaches good sportsmanship."

Dale has managed to keep up on his homework too. He gets B's and C's and he told us he considers math his major, though he plans to take up forestry in an agricultural college after graduation.

He is undecided as to what school he will attend, he said, and is not sure whether or not he will continue as a football player.

AND TO TIE IN with forestry and the out-of-doors, Dale said that one of his special interests is mountain climbing.

In this area, mountain climbers work in the High Sierra, he explained, adding, "They're higher than a lot of people realize and there are some good peaks."

And to explain his interest in this uncommon sport, he said, "I joined the Sierra Club and after talking to some of the members, I decided to try it. I found I like it. It's a good conditioner too."

It was with a little hesitation that Dale told us of another interest. "It may sound odd," he started, "but I have collected butterflies. I really haven't given it up but I haven't had much time lately."

However, we would hasten to suggest that no one actively ride Dale about this interest, as he also told us that he spends a good deal of time at judo.

At it for almost three years, he has earned himself the rank of "Brown Belt" wrestler, which is next to the top.

Rams Face Tough Panther Team at Antioch Tonight

The Plaesant Hill Rams have their work cut out for them when they face the Antioch Panthers in the league's gridiron finale at 8 o'clock tonight under the lights of the Paper City field.

The Rams, inexperienced and short on personnel have been plagued with injuries all season long and as a result have never been at full strength.

They have as yet to win one and on the "dope sheet" it doesn't appear that victory iis in the offing, as far as 1954 is concerned.

THE ANTIOCH ELEVEN started slaw but has come fast and hard after dropping the league opener to Pittsburg.

Since then the Panthers have scored nothing but wins and they appear to be headed for the No. 2 spot behind Pittsburg, which looms high as the probable league champs.

Last week the Panthers rapped the Diablo Devils 33-0, and they seem to have hit their stride with an array of hard-running backs and rought-and-ready linemen up front.

THE RAMS will be outweighed by 10 to 15 pounds per man and will face practically an all-senior squad, as Antioch has but one sophomore in the starters.

The Rams, on the other hand, have eight juniors in the opening eleven.

That prophesies well for next year but doesn't help too much in tonight's game.

PLEASANT HILL will depend on an aerial game to loosen the Panther defense.

Jim McMillan, the Rams' hard-running fullback, is expected to keep the Antioch defense busy with his line thrusts.

Local Girls Seek Junior College Title of Queen

By popular election, the Associated Students of East Contra Costa Junior College are choosing a Homecoming Queen to reign at the annual Homecoming Dance tomorrow.

The event will follow the Viking-Monterey Peninsula College football game, scheduled for 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Both events will be held in Concord.

The queen contestants include Ann Cardwell, Concord, Future Teachers candidate; Sharon Cockburn, Walnut Creek, Drama Club candidate; Barbara Boyenger, Pleasant Hill, Journalism Club; Selma Aweeka, Walnut Creek, Delta Rho (rally club); Carol Zeppegno, Walnut Creek, Folk Dancing club, and others.

Men's Basketball League Forming

A men's Basketball League, sponsored by the Walnut Creek Recreation Committee, is now being formed by Leigh Metteer, adult leader in charge of men's sports.

League play will start in December. Men's basketball practice continues as usual from 8 to 10 Tuesday evenings at the Las Lomas High School gym.

Local Horsemen Are Entered in Grand National

A number of local horsemen are entered in the 1954 Grand National Exposition Horse Show now being held at the San Francisco Cow Palace.

They include, from Lafayette, Pat Dailey, Brenda Plant and Buck Hall; from Orinda, Frank J. Dutra.

FROM WALNUT CREEK, Wags Gray, Mrs. Gerald Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Don Nicholson, Bob Scott, Duane Lockhart, Celia Gray Crider, Barbara Sweazea, H. Schelbert, John Scott, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Rogers, Charles Couch, G. W. Couch, Valerie Creager, Bill Putnam, Cherie Sharp and Mrs. Edith C. Nelle.

Having started October 29, the Grand National will end its 10-day run this weekend, after 14 performances.

Due to popular demand, the hunter or jumper class will be featured at all 14 performances, following posting of the colors by riding groups of the California State Horsemens' Association and the Grand National Queens.

THE SHOW HORSES will vie for attention of the crowds with the high spirited rodeo stock of the International Rodeo Association's finals for 1954.

Star of this year's arena show is Rex Allen, western motion picture, television and radio star. Sharing the spotlight will be the Boom Town Ballet, Jay Sisler and his Wonder Dogs, and rodeo clowns Andy Womack and Slim Pickens.

Delinquency Rate Shows Decrease

Juvenile delinquency in Contra Costa County has not kept pace with increased school enrollment since 1944, the first juvenile protection conference of 32nd District PTA learned October 26 at Alhambra Union High School.

The case load has increased only 55 per cent, while school enrollment has jumped 85 per cent since 2944, County Probation Officer John A. Davis told the conference.

Pitt's Pirates Trample Knights To 53-7 Tune

The Las Lomas Knights put up a stiff fight of it for a half against the Pittsburg Pirates at Pittsburg last Friday night, only to wilt in the second half and get snowed under, 53-7.

The determined Knights set the Pirates back on their heels early in the game when Webb Johnson, aggressive sophomore guard, recovered a Pitt fumble on the 24.

In five plays the Knights tallied with Quarterback Bob Lucas going over from the one on a sneak.

THE PIRATES came back in short order, to knot the count when they took the kickoff and went 51 yards to tally in just six plays, with speedy Halfback Dave Jett going over from the 2.

The conversion was good, as had been Las Lomas' try, and it was 7-7 with three and a half minutes to go in the first quarter.

From then on it was too much speed and finesse for the Walnut Creek eleven as the Steel City club scored twice more in the second quarter and added the conversion points, to make it 21-7 at the midway mark.

IN THE SECOND half the Pirates went on a rampage, to tally five more times and add two points after touchdown, for 32 points.

The Las Lomas eleven actually made more first downs but couldn't contain the Pirates on breakaway plays.

It's been the same with every other club in the circuit, as the Pirates now have a win streak of nine straight, with one to go for their fifth title in the last six years.

BOB KINYON at fullback made lots of yardage for the Knights.

Johnson was a standout in the line.

DAR to Give School Manuals

The November meeting of the Acalanes Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held Monday at the home of Mrs. Jack Schweizer in Berkeley.

In response to requests, 50 citizenship manuals will be distributed to schools in the area, 12 going to Acalanes High School. The chapter is considering a substantial donation to the Junior Statesmen organization at Acalanes and will discuss the matter at the next meeting, December 6.

The group agreed to send $10 to the DAR National Investment Trust Fund and $10 to the Kate Duncan Smith School in Alabama, a national DAR project.

Naval Reserve Hears Lecture

Naval Reserve Composite Company 12-25 of Walnut Creek met Tuesday at Air Force Reserve Building in Walnut Creek.

Lieutenant Commander G. Gaddis and Lieutenant Commander J. A. Purvis presented a lecture and film on chemical warfare.

Don Grid Team Cops Win Over Rams by 39-7

The Acalanes Dons finally put a game together last Friday night and copped a 39-7 decision over the Pleasant Hill Rams at Acalanes Memorial Field.

Striking on the ground and in the air, the Dons were in the lead all the way. They rolled up 14 first downs and a grand total of 432 yards.

The Rams had eight first downs, five of them coming in the third quarter, and a total of 178 yards.

THE DONS HIT pay dirst early in the opening quarter when Left Halfback Jeff Wahl scored from seven yards out.

The Dons knocked at the door later in the period but misfired when, with second down and one to go, they were set back with a 15-yard penalty and the Rams closed the gate.

The Acalanes eleven came back with TD No. 2 when Fullback Dale Marcellini, who was romping all over the place, raced the final 25 yards to score.

WITH THE SCORE standing at 12-0, the Pleasant Hill Lads came back with a nifty pass play, to score.

Quaterback Egan did some skillful faking, drifted back and fired a 25-yard pass to End Nick Nixon, who had faked beautifully after a delay and was out to the left deep all by his lonesome.

He gathered the pigskin in and galloped unmolested the rest of the way. The conversion kick was good, and it was 12-7.

THE DONS, stung and hungry for the win, came roaring back to have Marcellini score on a drive up the middle from the 10-yard stripe. Red Jones split the uprights to make it 19-7, which was the way the half ended.

Jeff Wahl went over from four yards out in the third quarter and added the conversion point on a run. Quarterback Red Jones then heaved a pass to End Terry Ashe, to score with the play covering 65 yards, and Wahl once more added the extra point on a run, making it 33-7.

THE FINAL SCORE came in the fourth quarter when Jones hit Wahl with a pass from 30 yards out. The conversion try failed, and it was 39-7.

Standouts for the Dons were Wahl, Marcellini, Jones and Bob Stillings in the backfield. Ro nHuffaker and Andy Fadelli did yeoman duty in the linebacker spots.

Jim McMillan was the mainstay for the Rams with his hard running from the fullback slot.

Former Don Athletes Now Members Of Navy Base Grid Team in Southland

By ERWIN MATTSON

JUST RECEIVED A LETTER from Jim Small, who played end at Acalanes two years ago. He tells me that he and Andy Monsen, another ex-Acalanes player, are on the base football team down South, where they are stationed as members of Uncle Sam's Navy.

Jim is at end, the same position he ployed in high school, while Andy, a former tackle, has been shifted to center and middle linebacker.

Jim tells of meeting Norm Van Brocklin and "Crazy Legs" Hirsch at a social gathering. He found them both friendly and helpful.

JIM'S FIRST LOVE WAS swimming, but he turned to football in his senior year and became a mighty fine end. Now football is his favorite sport.

Two Dons of last year are members of this year's Cal frosh eleven. They are Bob Kinney, and end, and Richie Munn, halfback.

The frosh are limited to three games, and practice is limited accordingly.

In last week's opener against the USC Trobabes, Bob started as an end on the first string. From all reports he gave a very creditable performance.

GEORGE HARRISON, a top-notch swimmer and ace of last year's Acalanes swim squad, has just been named on the All-American prep swim team. That makes the fourth All American at Acalanes.

Pert and pretty Barbara Stark has won the acclaim in the aquatic sport, while Roger Harding and Norm Van Brocklin turned the trick as All-American football players.

Four All-Americans from one high school is the best I know of in Northern California, despite the fact that Acalanes is young as schools go, having opened its doors in 1940.

ONE OF THE most foolish rules ever made is the Pacific Coast Conference ruling which states that no team can go to the Rose Bowl two years in a row.

The line of reasoning, as is often the case with the powers that be, is difficult to follow. It's almost as if winning were a sin. To send other than the champ is a farce, and the contest loses much of its flavor as a result.

Such, no doubt, will be the case this year, with USC going to the Bowl instead of UCLA.

The ruling is not only a Pacific Coast Conference ruling, but applies to the Big Ten as well.

UCLA, which may be the country's No. 1 team, will be forced to the sidelines.

IT'S AN ODD thing, but if a student has outstanding musical ability and given a scholarship, it is all fine and well, but let an athlete get the same treatment and he is looked upon as a "professional," a term which somehow has become "tainted," probably a throwback to the days whenthose who fell in that classification were often an uncouth lot and athletic "bums."

I am not favoring athletic "bums" in any sense of the word, but I am upholding the athlete who maintains standards just as anyone else does, and I am upholding athletic scholarships given on a basis of merit, as far as skill is concerned, providing the athlete meets scholastic requirements as set up for all.

It's high time that the stigma of athletic scholarships be removed. It is a matter of record that the scholastic standings of members of athletic teams are many times higher than those of non-athletes.

PREP BASKETBALL starts November 15.

Football ends tonight but there will be a week's layoff before basketball practice starts — the idea being to have a breathing spell from athletics.

The mystery is why those who weren't in football can't start practice. Practice sessions are limited enough, and it will be a period of impatient waiting, for which no one really knows the reason.

Two Assemblies for Acalanes This Month

Acalanes students are holding two assemblies this month.

An exchange assembly was held Wednesday with students from Las Lomas High.

An Acalanes "All School Talent Assembly" is scheduled for November 17.

Your Garden

About Next Year's Chrysanthemums—Wide Variety in Color, Form Offered

By THE GARDENER

What you desire in chrysanthemums and where you live should be the determining factor in your "mum" choices for next year's planting.

But no matter which variety you select, you will have an obiliging and satisfying flower in the chrysanthemum.

Few flowers provide such variety in color, growth and form, respond to attention so quickly or act equally as well in the ground, potted or in cut flower arrangements, according to the California Association of Nurserymen.

CHRYSANTHEMUMS are classified in 10 divisions, with subdivision. Among the many varieties are Pompon, Daisy, Spoon, Cushion, Anemone, Spider, Rayonette, Exhibition, Decorative, Feathery, Cascade and Japanese.

"Spoon" is one of the most popular chrysanthemums; it comes in bronze, clear yellow, white, peach, orchid with straw-yellow tubes and Jasper-red spoons.

The Korean varieties are favorites, too; Louise Schilling is considered by many the finest red single Korean.

RED TROJAN is a diseases-resistant type with rich dark-green foliage, and Tussore, a clear seashell pink, is favored for its suitability in indoor arrangements.

The daisy chrysanthemum is well represented in Silver Moon—gleaming white with yellow center; White gull is an early clear-white semidouble.

Chrysanthemums do not ask for exacting care but generally do require above-average supplies of nutrients and water.

SOIL FOR MUMS should have manure or peat moss and fertilizer worked into it two or three weeks before planting time. Plant mums so they will receive sun two-thirds of the day, with shade in the afternoon in hot climates.

Deep watering following a plan based on the soil structure is recommended.

From the time of planting through the growing season, fertilizer should be fed to your chrysanthemums.

It's a good idea to look over the lovely varieties of mums at your local nurseryman's now while they are blooming in these fall days. Viewing the flowers while they are in bloom will help you to decide just what types and colors you want in your garden.

Audubon Society Sees Lizards, Snakes, Turtles

A noted authority on reptiles, Dr. Robert Stebbins, was the guest speaker for yesterday's meeting of the Mt. Diablo Audubon Society at Las Lomas High School.

Dr. Stebbins is a herpetologist and Associate Professor of Zoology at the University of California. He illustrated his discussion with live specimens of lizards, snakes and turtles, according to the program chairman, Miss Norma Warner.

Cossacks Will Perform in S.F.

The Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers will appear in the San Francisco Memorial Opera House Monday evening, November 15.

The chorus, which is world-famous, has crossed the equator 19 times to visit 65 countries. It first arrived in the United States in 1939 and has presented over 2000 concerts during its 15 year stay in this country.

It was originally organized in Prague, Czechoslovakia, in 1927 and was composed of White Russian emigrees who fought Communism in Russia.

Why Light or Heavy Voting

Tuesday Contra Costans turned out in crowds for the general election. An outstanding 70 per cent of registered voters cast ballots.

We may all be proud of that record, proud of the fact that we have demonstrated not only interest, but enthusiastic concern with our responsibility as citizens of a democracy.

A while ago, The SUN expressed consternation with a disquieting, meager 2 per cent vote cast in the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District Board election.

In contrast, this week's balloting shows that we are awake to the importance of voting and will come out in droves when contests are heated, when heavy "politiking" is undertaken and when the offices at stake are top level.

What we must work for in the future is an increased awareness of the equal importance of the less highly political, and less glamorous issues in local tax districts.

One suggestion which several readers have called to our attention will certainly help us to take a more active part in local elections: consolidation of elections, so that several are held at the same time instead of each being held separately.

But only when we see beyond the glamor and the politics to realize that every election is the occasion for thoughtful voting will we begin to live up to the responsibility which goes with our democratic right to vote.

San Pablo Filter Plant Work Now On

East Bay Municipal Utility District's $237,000 contract for improvement and alterations at the San Pablo Filter Plant is well under way, William D. McNevin, EBMUD director, announced yesterday.

Elmer J. Freethy, contractor of El Cerrito, is deing the work, which calls for installation of additional large by-pass transmission lines, new roads and a new pre-cast concrete roof for the 6-million-gallon filtered water storage basin at the plant.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Mr. and Mrs. Just Plain Citizen had a theory. They saw no reason why the central portion of Orinda could not be developed in a well-planned manner to serve the civic and commercial requirements of a future community of 20,000. Every sixth household in Orinda told the Orinda Association what it felt Orinda needed.

Warned by two articles in Harper's Magazine this summer, Orindans took to heart what they read:

"The quiet, rural neighborhood is vanishing — gobbled up everywhere by the fast-spreading metropolis and the space-eating automobile.

"But some communities can still save themselves — if they act boldly and fast."

IN ORDER TO insure that the area logically designed in the Violich report for commercial use be developed as a well-planned shopping center, the Orinda Association asked the Planning Commission to write a real Special Business District Ordinance, similar to those being written into zoning law across the nation.

This was to be an ordinance that not only Orinda but also other suburban communities could use to satisfy two crying needs:

1. The need for well-planned shopping centers with plenty of parking.

2. The need for protection of the quiet country atmosphere from commercial abuse.

WHO OPPOSED this Just-Plain-Citizen effort and brought about the spectacle that took place before the Planning Commission in Martinez October 6?

Orinda was fought all down the line by a sort of political Frankenstein which exists within our democracy — the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

The self-perpetuating Board of Directors of EBMUD has used its control of the people's most essential utility to get a stranglehold on, not only the development of our little suburban community, but to no small degree, on a large portion of the East Bay.

Study EBMUD, its manipulation of lands, the personalities who have controlled it from the start and its ruthless policies.

ORINDA HAS also been thwarted constantly in a clandestine manner by our own county government.

The fastest-growing county in the fastest-growing state in the Union has outgrown the ward heel system of government. Boss Hague and Boss Pendergast had to be dispensed with — also the underworld fringe that surrounded them.

The day is not too far off when the men in this county's political machine will have to bow to progress. A government without ethics is doomed to eventual defeat.

The people will awaken to an awareness of who is thwarting them for personal gain or special interest. And, like the sleeping giant, they will throw off the shackles of their inertia.

DOESN'T IT SEEM strange that Jack Cummings, Orinda's sole voice in county government, appeared twice at public hearings in the company of bar owner Jack Snow and his wife?

Mr. and Mrs. Snow, being on the opposite side of the fence from the Orinda Association's stand, were fortified in their appearance before the commission by having as their personal escort the chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

THE BUSINESS property next to the Village was "sold" for a song by EBMUD to people with CONNECTIONS.

The price was less than that commonly asked for average residential property, yet schools and churches paid far more for less valuable land.

These and many other facets of the story reveal why planning in this county can never be "a job well done" under the present Board of Supervisors. The question is, can order ever be brought out of the havoc they are wreaking?

After following the Orinda case in The SUN for many months and joining the Martinez delegation October 6, I saw for myself and can no longer remain silent.

Name withheld on request.

Dear Editor:

This will express my personal appreciation for your editorial entitled "New Streets Key to City's Future" appearing in the October 15, issue of the "Walnut Creek Sun."

It is impossible, of course, to calculate its effect, but it will certainly be tremendous. The subject matter involved is so important to the future of the City that it is definitely a matter of public concern to the point of warranting editorial effort and space.

It is hoped that since you have started, you will see fit to continue until this matter is successfully concluded.

Yours very truly,
CARL B. NOECKER.

Dear Editor:

In answer to the J. R. Montgomery letter, the vacant stores on the highway are symbols of Republican prosperity because the merchants who formerly occupied said stores have moved to bigger, better, and more prosperous locations off the highway.

Somebody gambled...

He was usually a careful driver. But tonight he was in a hurry. He hit the curve a little too fast. He didn't regain consciousness.

Accidents like this happen every day to normally careful drivers—like you. Drivers who gamble on a curve, pass on a hill, slip through a stop sign. Remember, when somebody gambles, somebody usually pays . . . and the price may be your life.

GREEN CROSS FOR SAFETY

Be Careful—the life you may save be your own!

What They Say . . .

Need Expressed for More Meetings

More meetings, more groups, more community action — that's what a cross-section of Central Contra Costa County residents feel are needed for their rapidly growing area.

We gathered this after asking several homeowners the question, "Do you feel that there are too many meetings or too few meetings here of groups such as improvement associations and other community organizations? Why?"

Both those who attend meetings regularly and those who are not "joiners" thought that there is always room for more group activity.

FOR INSTANCE, Benjamine E. Mallary, 33 Overhill Road, Orinda, said, "We have need for more organizations which foresee the problems we'll have 10 years from now. If we had had more meetings five years ago, we wouldn't have to have so many meetings now."

Mallary added: "The trouble is we get into issues too late. It's a a question of looking ahead and planning."

"I can't give you an intelligent answer," commented Mrs. D. E. Hutchinson of 77 Van Ripper Lane, Orinda. "However, we certainly have a problem with zoning, and I feel we should have more meetings on this."

Mrs. C. A. Blaise 3963 Los Arabis, Lafayette, reported: "I haven't been attending meetings lately, so really couldn't give you a very good answer."

Although Mrs. Leroy Blue of 3518 Hamlin Road, Lafayette, had no specific suggestions, she was positive in saying, "We're greatly in favor of clubs and meetings. Anything that gets people together and increases social life."

Mrs. Geoffrey J. Smith of 765 Charleton Circle, Pleasant Hill, who feels the number of meetings is just about right, explained, "I've just been here about a year.

"THERE'S A ROAD improvement meeting and another little group that meets once in a while. My husband goes, but I just go to bed," she said.

"I would say they have just about the right amount out here; they seem to be pretty well represented," replied Mrs. J. R. Wolfe of 319 Gloria Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"We're having quite a few," said Mrs. Myles E. Gallagher of 1677 Parkside Drive, Walnut Creek. "But," she added, "it seems to me the main thing out here right now is the freeways and if we could have a few more meetings to push that, I'd be for it."

"Well personally, I don't take part in any of that. Other than a little Scout work, all I get in on is a little baby-sitting," answered W. Richard Blome of 69 Sandy Lane, Walnut Creek.

VAR Commander To Take Over Training Center

Lt. Col. Buzz Knowleton, commanding officer of the Walnut Creek Air Force Reserve Squadron, has accepted reassignment as commanding officer of the new training center in Oakland.

In relinquishing command of the local squadron, which he has had since its inception in 1950, Col. Knowleton will be heading up the training for all the reservists in the East Bay Area.

Col. Knowleton, who makes his home in Orinda, is turning his local command over to Lt. Col. Charles Patterson, a resident of Lafayette, who has been second in command since 1950.

Under The Sun

What happened Tuesday?

Well, THE election is over.

This isn't a very sage or scintillating lead for this column, but I say it with a sigh of relief. Along with many amateurs who actively participated in politics for the first time, I can now look at the election a bit more objectively. The Brown campaign is an experience I will never forget — and I'm not sure I'd be willing to do it again. Unfortunately, politics is rough stuff. It is not a game for people with thin skins.

Were you surprised at the results? I certanly was. Never dreamed that the Condon-Baldwin battle would be so close. I thought Baldwin would win by at least 7,000. And Ed Munns ran stronger against Assemblyman Don Doyle than many predicted — considering the general, two-party popularity of Don. But Don won easily by nearly 14,000.

(Incidentally, did you notice that the Doyle campaign was carefully kept separate from the Baldwin campaign? Separate headquarters, mailing pieces, signs, etc.)

The above results are not too startling in the face of the terrific Democratic registration in the county — plus the fact that Contra Costa Democrats seem to vote the party more than the average Democrat in California. For example:

Yorty tallied more county votes than incumbent Senator Kuchel. But the other Demos ran strong: Knight over Lafayette's Graves by less than 3,000; Powers over Roybal by 997; Controller Kirkwood over Collins by less than 500; and so on for other offices.

What happened to Richardson?

The words "upset, amazing, landslide" are being used to describe Harry Brown's victory over Dick Richardson by 12,177 votes. I wish I could say, "We knew it all the time," but it just isn't so. Although this column predicted a Brown win, it was a weak prediction. On election day, I was convinced that Richardson would win.

Newspapermen, politicians and the wise guys are still trying to find the answer. Not only did Brown trounce Richardson, he polled more votes than any other candidate for any office, except Sect. of State Jordan. Why?

There is one reason that is paramount over other factors. This reason is aside from the fact that Harry Brown attracted people as a sincere, honest standard bearer to challenge the machines and the "ins." It may sound corny but Harry seemed to inspire people.

In the last four weeks Richardson slipped from at least a 50-50 chance to the decisive defeat of Tuesday. The foremost reason was Richardson's smear campaign — perhaps the dirtiest in the county's history. They didn't try to sell Richardson. Their campaign was blacken the name of Brown in every possible manner.

This alone did not turn the tide to Brown. We can be proud that the voters didn't swallow the guff. If anything, the smear campaign produced the opposite effect and strengthened Brown.

What happened to us . . .

An important secondary result of the smear job was to stimulate the Brown campaign. A lot of people got mad. People, who previously were merely "for" Harry, suddenly became workers. Campaigners, who were doing just a little, suddenly did a lot. Others, who hadn't contributed a dime, suddenly found themselves buying $25 or $50 ads.

For example, after the primary I decided I shouldn't get completely involved in a political campaign. I discussed this with other staff members and we agreed not to be active workers in this or any other campaign. It was okay for the paper to support Brown editorially — but we shouldn't participate in money raising, planning, etc.

Then, came Richardson's smear campaign!

Like so many others, I just couldn't stand by and see a darn good man torn to shreds. I then actively joined the fight. Because almost every newspaper in the county was for Richardson or was neutral, Brown supporters felt certain facts were not reaching the voters.

The SUN contributed 30,000 miniature newspapers. Incidentally, SUN job presses did not print any material for the Brown campaign except a solicitation letter during the primary and it was contributed. All paid printed material was purchased elsewhere, which is the way we wanted it.

What happened elsewhere . . .

The SUN's role was nothing compared to the time, effort and money put out by others. I'm not going to write about all the major Brown supporters and their contributions but just cite examples.

Mrs. Alvin Burton became incensed at the smears published a few days prior to the election. She took Brown's statements and other data published in The SUN October 29 and paid for 45,000 reprints, costing at least $175.

Mrs. Burton wasn't giving only money. She helped paste down the copy, drove to Danville to pick up the paper for the Pleasant Hill offset shop, picked up the job and helped distribute them to other sections and then helped pass out individual copies.

Zach Montgomery, Boone Robinson and others in Orinda arranged and paid for an Orinda letter and advertising.

Martinez, Pittsburg, Antioch

Good citizens in other towns not only spent months working for Brown but dug deep to buy pamphlets, cards and advertising. Some people actually devoted full time — their own time to the campaign. Frank Periera Jr., Alhambra Valley rancher and one of the nicest guys you've ever met, was Harry's constant companion and driver for months.

In Martinez, Elmo Crow did a terrific job. He works for the Contra Costa Gazttte, which endorsed Richardson.

Vince Caruso, Mike Mulcahy, the Spanish-American Club and others in Pittsburg raised money, raised votes, so Harry carried Pittsburg by 1500 to defeat the Davi Machine.

The Frank Aratas and others in Antioch did a superb job to completely swing the town. In the primary, Antioch was solidly for Richardson but he led Brown by just 95 votes last Tuesday. Al Flaherty of the Antioch Ledger commented that as Antioch goes so doesn't go the rest of the county.

The most surprising victory came in Richmond and Supervisorial District 1 — Richardson's home base. George Newell, Johnny Banducci and others spent hundreds of their own money and devoted almost full time. No one has the actual breakdown on this area yet but I would guess that Brown took the district — or it was very close.

There are literally hundreds of others who in their own way contributed as much as those named above, including Gertrude Walker, full time enthusiast, the Paul Danes in Pleasant Hill, Ed Rowland of Lafayette, Sherwood Knight and Hazel Ervin in Walnut Creek.

I'm going to stop this name listing right now. I find myself wary of hurting someone's feelings, but this column is not for that purpose.

Who gets a reward?

Incidentally, to my knowledge not one person named will benefit financially from Brown's election. All the sheriff positions are civil service. But they and you are rewarded by the knowledge that a good man was elected. Let's don't expect miracles. Remember: Brown will need your help to do a good job.

Let's end this column with one of the most fascinating examples of distortion I have ever seen in a newspaper. The Richmond Independent, vigorous Richardson supporter, headlined its story:

Brown EDGES Richardson.

The paper printed Brown's total and then listed Richardson with 10,000 more votes than he actually received. A typographical error, no doubt.

Well, the election is over and hats off to you.

Letter to the Editor

Editor:

The gentleman who asks us "kind souls and gentle people" why the stores are empty needs an answer.

The elementary reason is that, due to such great prosperity—"since 1952"—the tenants have moved to larger quarters—Voila!!

Look around you boy!
